Stocks increased over 50 per cent. on the Pacific Coast. Prices of crude oil declined except in the Mid-continent field, where they increased to 44c a barrel.

SUNSET MIDWAY DISTRICT.

The Santa Fe company began the year by bringing in a well in the North Midway field which flowed 2000 barrels a day. Soon afterwards the St. Lawrence well, in the adjoining section, proved about as good, although sanding a great deal. On February 7 a well was finished in Section 30, T-32-S R-24-E, which began flowing 800 barrels a day. The flow increased steadily until by the middle of March the well yielded, by measurement, over 9000 barrels a day.

Early in March the Mays well was brought in on Section 30, T-31-S, R-23-E, in new territory some miles northwest of the previous gusher.

On March 15, the Lakeview Oil Company's well, a controlling interest in which had been turned over to the Union Oil Company, was drilled to 2230 feet, and began flowing at a rate estimated at about 10,000 barrels a day. This increased rapidly to about 30,000 barrels. The flow was surprisingly persistent, and as months went by the oil seemed to clear itself of sand and increased its daily product to over 40,000 barrels. It began to decline in the latter part of the summer, and by the end of the year had fallen to less than 10,000 barrels a day; the proportion of water had increased from less than 1 per cent. to about 56 per cent. late in December. In this time the well had produced about 5,000,000 barrels of oil that was saved. The oil is of somewhat lighter gravity than the average for the district.

PRICES AFFECTED.

This phenomenal strike was followed promptly by greatly increased activity, although drilling had to be suspended in the immediate vicinity owing to danger of fire. The region became the focus of oil interests in the United States. The financial effect of this strike was to reduce the price of oil not already contracted for until 30 cents a barrel was offered; but with rapidly-increasing capacity the tendency to keep oil in storage for better prices led to compromises and concessions to the allied producers, especially after the completion of the new Independent pipe line to the coast.

The Associated Oil Company built an eight-inch pipe line from Sunset to LISSNERISMS SLIP THROUGH.

Johnson Hustles for Boss's Pets.

Legislature Runs Along as If Greased—Instructions Obeyed.

Measures Ordered by Owner of Lawmaking Body Put Over First.

Governor Watches Underwritten Bills—Local Business Held Back.

BY W. R. WILLIAMS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Lissner's Legislature seems to be getting along rapidly with the work mapped out for it by him in spite of his absence for several days in the South.

Members who came to the session in the interest of their own districts are finding this out, for the turnstiles of committee work seem to be open only to the "preferred OK" measures which the boss underwrote before the Legislature met.

All the programme measures are now on the files except direct legislation, which Senator Gates is getting into shape to introduce Thursday after he and the Governor get through testing its phases. In his recall measure Gates will omit his innovation of eliminating the incumbent's name from the ballot. He has good reason for such a departure from the freak idea, for inserting it might provoke a fight on the measure and delay the progress of the whole.

Conservation is not in yet but former Governor Pardee and others are working faithfully on a measure that shall out-Pinchot Pinchot and save every natural resource except air for the State.

County home rule is also late.

Beyond these, the twenty-two measures advocated in the platform and demanded by Lissner in his celebrated conference, are becoming laws as rapidly as possible.

JOHNSON AIDS BOSS.

The instructions left by Lissner are to give precedence to all these matters and Gov. Johnson is interesting himself in seeing that they are not forgotten. It is understood that he is not committing himself to any bills but the Railroad Commission Bill which he regards as his personal vehicle to ride all the "Old Guard" out of office and eliminate the Southern Pacific from politics. On other measures he has reserved the right to reject them if they do not meet or exceed the requirements as he views them.

It is this programme of "cleaning up" the Lissner measures first that is teaching members that they must wait with their own bills affecting local affairs. According to credible authority it is hoped to get most of the twenty-two measures passed before the middle of February, and with that end in view, each will have one general public hearing to which friends and adversaries will be summoned.

This was indicated emphatically this morning when Senator Stetson announced that the Judiciary Committee hearing on suffragism tomorrow night will be in the Senate chamber; and Senator Roseberry, chairman of the Corporations Committee, followed with the announcement that a hearing on the Railroad Commission Bill will be held next Tuesday night in the same chamber.

Roseberry announced that he sent invitations to the Southern Pacific, Santa Fe, Western Pacific and Salt Lake railroads to be present and offer their objections.

It seems that the Senate Lissner leaders—Stetson, Roseberry, Strowbridge, Cutten and some others—got together at a lunch las tnight, and decided to put spurs to all from now on.

"IMPELLING MORAL" WHIP.

While scores of bills are introduced daily at the short morning session, they are mostly duplicates of bills already on the files, or measures affecting State institutions or local affairs. It is conceded that, with the exception of direct legislation, conservation and county home government, all the big legislations has its start, and it

CUPID KILLS OFF ALIMONY.

Branstetter Learns of Ex-Wife's Los Angeles Romance; Court Says He Need Pay No More.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

KANSAS CITY (Mo.) Jan. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Herman F. Branstetter and his wife were divorced December 26, 1906, in Kansas City. The custody of two small sons, Don and Herman, was given to Mrs. Branstetter, to whom $2500 and $30 a month alimony was to be paid. The alimony has been paid to date. But according to Branstetter his former wife sent the two boys to him May 1, 1908; then she left for Los Angeles where she has since lived. He has just received word of her marriage to L. J. Odell in Los Angeles, December 30, 1910. Judge Goodrich granted today Branstetter's request that the children be placed in his care and that the alimony be discontinued. Branstetter is in the wall paper business. His two sons are 6 and 8 years old.

"Perfect Man" on Trial in Chicago.

Evelyn Arthur See, promoter and head of "The Absolute Life" cult, who is now on trial charged with immoral relations with young girls, his disciples.

Heretic.

SEE'S FAITH NOT STABLE

Gives Up God; Asks Human Aid.

Arraigned in Court, Chicago Prophet Decides Not to Call on Almighty.

Had Planned to Have Deity as Counsel; Employs Lawyers Instead.

Judge Concedes Trial by Jury for Leader of Absolute Life and Disciples.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Evelyn Arthur See, sage of "Absolute Life" today put another barrier of time between himself and the day that will witness the barring of the secrets of his cult when arraigned before Municipal Judge Scully in the Sheffield avenue Court.

Forsaking the stand he took when first brought to the bar—that the Deity would be his counsel and that through inspiration he would convert the judge and prosecuting attorney to his own peculiar beliefs—See was represented by three lawyers.

In the battle between the counsel for defense and Assistant State's Attorney Brothers, See's forces were victorious. Judge Scully ruled that See, who had signed a jury waiver in open court when first arraigned, he granted a trial by jury. He directed that the case be taken to the jury courts and Judge Going set the case for Monday.

As Judge Scully read his decision handed down after long and bitter argument between Brothers and John F. Getting, the latest acquisition to See's counsel, the "prophet" leaned forward anxiously that not a word might escape him. He sighed with relief when it became evident that the point had been carried.

MONA IN HAPPY MOOD.

Mildred Bridges and Mona Rees, members of See's "inner thought circle" and consequently of his household, stood near the "prophet," buffeted by the crowds of spectators who had surged into the court room. The former showed the effects of her detention as did See. Mona, who has been enjoying bonded liberty, was in a happy mood, although she was also arraigned, and evidently enjoyed the tilts between counsel.

Hazel Danner, one of the girls of mystery in the See case, was said to be in the building and ready to testify. Attorney John F. Rosen, who filed a $50,000 suit against See and Mrs. Stephen H. Bridges on behalf of the girl's father, said he would file the declaration in the civil suit tomorrow morning. The defendants were served with the processes today. Rosen was accompanied by Miss C. Jones, through whom he found the Danner girl at Lafayette, Indiana.

That two girls besides Mona and Mildred were members of the "inner circle" will be set forth in Rosen's declaration. The document may contain the names of a dozen young women who at various times have lived at See's temple.

MORE GIRLS INVOLVED.

A great part of the State's evidence, Assistant State's Attorney Brothers announced, would be held in reserve and not used unless necessary, in order to spare the feelings of a number of young girls and their parents. Six more girls, whose names have never been publicly mentioned, have been involved by See in his cult, the prosecutor stated, but these facts will not be brought out unless they are needed to convict the mystic.

Should the defense prove stronger than anticipated, however, Mr. Brothers said he would produce all six of these girls and have them tell a terrible story under oath, if necessary, to send See to the penitentiary.

STATE'S WITNESSES.

The witnesses who will be used, Assistant State's Attorney Brothers declared, will be in the following order:

Charles Peterson, who lives in the same flat building as See at No. 2641 Racine avenue, and who will testify to young girls being brought to See's apartments.

Capt. Max Danner of the Sheffield-avenue Police Station, who investigated See and caused his arrest. He is to give a complete account of the disclosures.

Hazel Danner, alleged to have been one of See's victims, and who, it is said, lived four weeks in See's flat.

Mrs. Bridges and Mrs. Felicia Rees, who are to be questioned as to See's teachings and moral status. Both are his friends and pupils.

Miss Corrine Jones, who went to Lafayette and Frankfort, Ind., with Attorney John F. Rosen and found the Danner girl. She is expected to prove that the Danner girl associated with See and she herself is said to have been one of the "prophet's" followers.

SALT LAKE CITY (Utah) Jan. 17.—Julius Sirmay, charged with the murder of Thomas Karrick, a school-boy, on October 12, was found guilty of murder in the first degree by a jury early today. A few minutes later he staggered into the yard and fell dead with several bullets in his body. Sirmay's attorneys

SPOOKS SAY NEITHER COOK NOR PEARY EVER REACHED THE POLE.

Disembodied Spirit of Sir John Franklin Takes Hand in Polar Controversy Through Medium of William T. Stead of London—Tells of Ghostly Aid Lent Doctor on March Through Farthest North.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] According to the testimony of some disembodied spirits, neither Dr. Cook nor Civil Engineer Peary reached the North Pole, although Dr. Cook got nearer to the goal than his rival.

This astonishing statement is contained in a letter from W. T. Stead of London to Arthur Rollinson Colburn of this city and has been forwarded by Mr. Colburn to Representative Roberts of Massachusetts, a member of the House Committee on Naval Affairs, who has been outspoken in his opposition to the proposition that Congress reward Peary for his Arctic explorations.

In Mr. Stead's letter he says: "In regard to the pole controversy, the only message which we have received on the subject was one from Sir John Franklin last year. He did not say anything about Peary, but said he had possibly conducted Cook nearly to the Pole and they left him to complete the journey himself. Seeing you have received a communication in the same sense, I thought this would interest you."

SPOOK TESTIMONY.

Mr. Colburn adds: "It is most noteworthy that the testimony of the spirit world is unanimous that neither explorer reached the Pole, but that Cook got nearer than Peary. This testimony I have received from friends of mine, likewise from probably fifty gifted psychics. These psychics represent all phases of the Polar controversy, from those deeply interested to those who think the whole matter a piece of folly and valueless."

Colburn thinks the strangest feature about the communication from Stead is the statement that when near the Pole the spirit of Sir John Franklin left Dr. Cook to finish the journey alone, and characterizes this as a diplomatic way of avoiding the announcement of technical failure although substantial success.

SPIRIT FORCE DEPLETED.

"But compare the above with what a friend of mine received about the time the letter from Stead was written. This friend is the president of a corporation here in Washington. With him I visited a physician of great psychic powers, who received through his own hand the correct signatures of probably fifty friends of Dr. Cook, among them those of about nine Arctic explorers. The signatures included that of one whom my friends had never heard of.

"Then Sir John Franklin, in his own proper handwriting, gave an extended message on the subject of the Polar controversy.

WHAT FRANKLIN SAID.

"Giving it from memory as best I can, it was that he—Sir John—was the inspirer and sustainer of Cook in his quest; that the cold was so intense that the human breath would freeze upon the instruments, welding or interfering with their working parts and rendering them useless; that the effect of the cold on the mind was to render it dreamy and unable to think in a normal way or to make observations; that monotony, mirages, hardships and exposure made everything around them seem unreal and fantastic, and that any observations made under such circumstances were valueless and that reliable evidence could not be obtained.

"My friend did not know the handwriting of Sir John, but on comparison by the doctor it was found all right and satisfactory.

"Sir John said that Cook got somewhat nearer the pole than Peary."

Mr. Colburn concludes his letter by stating that Lieut. Booth Lockwood had communicated with him at his

DANGLING WITH NECK IN NOOSE, NEGRO ELUDES LYNCH-BENT MOB.

Reported Victim of Kentucky Jail-Raiders Said to Be Alive and in Place of Safety, Ready to Testify Against White Members of Band Whom He Recognized—Sensational Story of Escape.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SHELBYVILLE (Ky.) Jan. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Positive information that Jim West, the negro chauffeur, who was one of the three taken from the Shelbyville jail by the mob Sunday morning, escaped, and is alive, has been received here. His whereabouts are closely guarded, not even local officials being aware of his refuge. West knows the identity of several members of the mob and he is certain that none but whites made up the lawless band.

According to his story, West's hands were loosely tied when he was led away from the jail with Marshall and Patterson. After their arrival at the railroad bridge, Marshall was hanged first, after which ropes were tied around his neck and that of Patterson and both were pushed off the bridge. When the rope holding Patterson broke and his body fell into the creek, causing the members of the mob to start after him, West released his hands and caught hold of the rope from which he was suspended from the bridge, finally freeing his head from the noose and dropping into the creek below after the mob started on the chase of Patterson, who had darted across a field after emerging from the creek. West followed the course of the stream until he reached the south end of the city, then made his way to a place of safety, where he is now located.

Last night, owing to the belief that West had escaped and was at large, another mob was formed to capture and lynch him, fearing the damaging evidence he could give against members of Sunday morning's mob.

At a special secret session of the City Council, held last night, two special patrolmen were added to the force. There was a report that the negroes intended to retaliate for the lynching of members of their race.

WILL PROTECT NEGRO.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

FRANKFORT (Ky.) Jan. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] When Gov. Willson's attention was called to the fact that the negro, James West, had escaped from the Shelbyville mob and was now in a secret place of safety, he said that if he knew the whereabouts of West he would send a company of militia to protect him. He said he was glad the negro had recognized members of the mob and if necessary he would send the entire State Guard to protect him when he testifies against the band.

Tragedy.

EIGHT KILLED INSTANTLY BY BURSTING WARSHIP BOILER.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Eight men met instantaneous death and one was so horribly burned that he probably will die, as a result of a boiler explosion aboard the battleship Delaware at 9:20 o'clock this morning, the cause of which is yet unexplained, according to a wireless message tonight to the Navy Department from Capt. Gove.

The Delaware was on her way to Hampton Roads from Guantanamo, Cuba, and had been designated to transport the body of Senor Cruze, late Chilean Minister to the United States, to Chile, instead of the South Carolina, whose propellers met with a mishap.

The victims were on duty in the boiler-room when the accident occurred. A terrific shock sent the crew scurrying below and nine bodies were dragged from the cloud of hot steam that passed through the hold.

Capt. Gove wired the Navy Department the names of seven of the men killed, but the eighth victim was designated "unknown" in Capt. Gove's message.

A board of officers of the vessel was appointed by Capt. Gove to investigate the accident. Capt. Gove's message to the Navy Department tonight follows:

"At 9:20 a.m., January 17, three boilerheaders, numbers 8, 9, 10 of boiler "O" in fireroom No. 4, blew out explosively, killing eight and injuring one who probably will die, these being all the men on duty in the fireroom. Board of officers appointed immediately to investigate. Cause not yet placed.

"The dead are:

CHARLES HENRY HARP.
WILLIAM MORRIS WHITE.
COLUMBUS PORTER WATTS.
HERBERT ANDERSON BREWER, all firemen.
LEWIS ADDISON WHITE.
CLARE DEWITT, coal passers.
CHRISTIAN JENSEN, water tender.

Eugene Philippa, fireman, was badly injured."

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Computed at regular commercial rates, little Willie Leffingwell, son of George M. They really amounted up to $5000 worth, but his drowsy eyes closed and the notes that have charmed thousands were lost on sleepy ears. Then the dinner party proceeded. It was the magic voice of Signor Caruso that sang the nursery songs for Willie's own particular benefit. And, be it said in justice to the infant, his appreciation of the music was such that his cries ceased and he yielded to the nap

President to Prepare Plans for Congress to Study.

Newlands of Nevada Sponsor for Important Measure.

Board to Be Appointed If Bill Meets Solons' Favor.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The appointment of a board by the President to prepare a comprehensive plan of inland waterways development for the consideration of Congress, is provided for in an amendment to the Rivers and Harbors Bill, introduced in the Senate today by Senator Newlands of Nevada. The amendment carries an appropriation of $50,000. It reads as follows:

"The President is hereby authorized, by the appointment of a board or boards, to bring into conference and co-operation with the engineer corps of the army the various scientific and constructive services of the United States in the formation of plans for the development, control and regulation of the rivers and waterways of the United States for every useful purpose, including, in addition to navigation, the natural flow of rivers, the control of floods and protection from overflow, the reclamation of arid and swamp lands, the prevention of erosion and soil waste, the clarification of streams, the perpetuation of forests and maintenance of the woodland cover, also sources of stream flow, the utilization of such flow for irrigation and water power, and the purification of water supplies; and for the co-operation of the United States with States, municipalities, district organizations, communities, corporations and individuals, in such development and control, and the apportionment of power, cost and benefits, according to the jurisdiction, powers, rights and benefits of each; such plans to especially include the effective utilization of the streams, rivers, lakes, gulfs, bays and sounds of the United States, with connecting canals and including terminal and transfer facilities and sites, as efficient waterways for the transportation of freight and passengers; such plans to be submitted to Congress for its consideration and action.

"And for this purpose the sum of $50,000 is hereby appropriated. The President may appoint on such board, or boards, from civil life, a hydraulic engineer; a constructor and an expert in transportation."

CHILE PEPPER RATE FIXED.

Interstate Commerce Commission Decides Case of Interest to Growers of Southern California.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—The Interstate Commerce Commission has decided against the complainants in a demand for reparation of shipments of Chile peppers from San Francisco, Los Angeles, Tustin, and Anaheim to El Paso, during the period from March 7, 1908 to November 12, 1909. The rate charged was $2 per hundred pounds, which was the second-class rate under Western Classification. The complainants held that a commodity rate of $1.25 per hundred pounds on pepper in less than carloads should have been applied, because in their opinion the word "pepper" is broad enough to cover all kinds of pepper, including Chile pepper. The Interstate Commerce Commission found that the Western Classification specifically applies second rates on pepper, Chile, ground, or in the natural state, or Chile powder. A specific commodity rate had been established on pepper, but not on Chile powder as such. Therefore it is held charges upon shipments of the latter commodities in whatever form were correctly assessed on the classification rate of $2 per hundred pounds. The allegation that Chile is merely a species of the genus pepper did not influence the Commission. No testimony was offered to prove the allegation that a $2. rate on Chile pepper was excessive, unreasonable, or unjust.

Sum of $2 Will Save One Oriental from Starvation During Winter. Appeal for American Aid.

[Special Correspondence of The Times.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The sum of $2 will save the life of one Chinaman among the millions who are now starving to death in the flood swept provinces of Kiargau and Anhui, according to mail advices received at the State department from the consular officer at Shanghai and nanking.

An international relief association, including in its membership two well-known American Missionaries, Rev. H. D. Pott, D. D., and Rev. G. Furguson is trying to collect from the charitably inclined $2,000,000 which they estimate will carry 1,000,000 people through the distress of the winter and spring; no fresh harvest being expected until May.

The Vice-Consul at Nanking reports that he saw numbers of Chinese dying of cold and starvation, and that the destitution is extreme.

The American Red Cross already has given some assistance but it is only a drop in the bucket.

New Orleans Makes Capital Out of Alleged Unfriendliness of California Toward Oriental Nations Which Will Be Asked to Make Exhibits at Coming Exposition.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] New Orleans has been trying to make capital out of the alleged unfriendliness of San Francisco toward Oriental countries which will be asked to exhibit at the exposition.

Legislation contemplated in Sacramento has been pointed at and finally the President and Secretary of State gave Mayor McCarthy an audience and talked things over with him. Secretary of State Knox said he was in sympathy with California, but wished to keep out the coolie class without arousing hostility on part of Japan.

McCarthy assured him he wished to see friendly relations between the two countries maintained. He then saw Secretary of Commerce and Labor Nagel and sent a telegram to the State Trades Building Council, in session in San Rafael, which brought a response that a telegram has been sent to the legislature, asking that all bills aimed at Japanese or foreign residents be withheld in order to allow of their careful examination and analysis by representatives of the San Francisco Labor Council, the State Federation of Labor and the San Francisco Building Trades Council. This, it was explained, was in accordance with suggestions made by McCarthy December 24, 1910.

There was a change on the committee on Industrial Arts and Expositions today which will, it is claimed, give San Francisco an even break if not a majority report when the committee comes to take a vote. The exposition boomers do not look for a vote on the question for about two weeks, although they may get action sooner. They are beginning to feel the strain of the expense, which has been heavy, but they are compelled now to see the fight through to a finish.

ARMY APPROPRIATION PASSES.

Members of House Rap Military Critics and Declare Nation Well Prepared for War.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The specter of war stalked in the House today, but its appearance was for the purpose of permitting a wholesale flaying of military critics and of furnishing a reason for liberality in appropriations.

The army appropriation bill, carrying appropriations approximately of $93,000,000, was under discussion and finally was passed, after a debate on military preparedness of the nation, the future of aeroplanes, which won an appropriation of $125,000, a tribute to the value of the National Guard and an appropriation of $770,000 for the field artillery for the organized militia.

This involved, according to Representative Evans of Minnesota, a plan that would require $30,000,000 to fully carry out.

The debate on the effectiveness of the army opened with a denunciation by Chairman Hull, of the Military Affairs Committee of a published interview in which Frederick Lewis Huidekoper, a Washington city lawyer, contended that the army was in a lamentable state.

Douglas of Ohio said Congress should be grateful to Hull for his exposition of the preparedness of the War Department and Tawney of Minnesota, chairman of the Appropriations Committee, vigorously attacked so-called military critics and declared that the amount of money the government has expended in ten years in preparation for war would more than build five Panama Canals.

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—Italian barber shops on South Clark street are getting the benefit of the decision of the Chinaman to part with his queue. There are no Chinese barbers in the South Clark-street district, and Italians have had notices written in Chinese posted in their windows announcing that they are ready for all the queue trade that comes their way. The Chinese have fallen in with this suggestion and the trade is going to Italian barber shops. The reason the Italians are so anxious to get this business is that there is a double profit in it, for they not only get paid for their hair cutting, but get the queues besides, and queues are a marketable commodity.

FIRE IN FIRE MEMORIAL.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—The Iroquois Memorial Emergency Hospital, erected as a memorial to the 600 people who lost their lives in the Iroquois Theater fire seven years ago, narrowly escaped destruction by fire yesterday, just before it was formally opened for patients. Fire was discovered in a pile of excelsior in the rear of the place and for a time it was feared that serious damage might result. A fire alarm was turned in, but before the firemen arrived, spectators led by Dr. Matthew Karasaik, in charge of the hospital, had extinguished the blaze. It is thought that the fire was caused its line at Coalinga and the Standard Oil Company duplicated its six-inch line from the Sunset-Midway Field to Kern Run, connecting with the main line to Point Richmond.

OIL PRODUCTION.

The Pioneer-Midway struck in April in Section 36, T-31-S, R-24-E, proved another exceptional find.

The Honolulu Oil Company struck a large gas well to the east of the oil field, in the Buena Vista Hills. The Standard Oil Company also struck a gas well on the western edge of the Buena Vista Hills, in Section 10, T-32-S, R-24-E, and the gas proved to have a pressure so great that it could not be confined, although part has been piped away for industrial use under boilers and for lighting in the neighborhood. The flow has been sufficient to justify piping the gas to Bakersfield and other near-by points. These wells have started what promises to be a great gas industry in California.

COALINGA DISTRICT.

In the Coalinga district development work proceeded most satisfactorily, the oil being found deeper down the dip of the strata as had been predicted, and the area of the developed field being thus considerably enlarged.

An important addition to the proved oil territory resulted from the discovery of light oil in the Azores and Bohemian wells, on the Jacalitos anticline, several miles north of the nearest producing wells. This area had been classified as oil land in Bulletin 398, of the Geological Survey, and the depth of the oil sand where it approaches nearest to the surface was estimated at 3600 feet. The discovery was made at exactly this depth.

Operations were actively pushed in the Kettleman Hills during the year. As yet no oil has been discovered in these hills, but the geological conditions are favorable, and a strip twenty-seven miles long and nearly two miles wide along their summit is classified as oil land in Bulletin 398 of the Geological Survey.

VALLECITOS DISTRICT.

A region farther north, along the west side of the San Joaquin Valley, and over twenty miles from the nearest wells of the Coalinga field is beginning to attract some attention as a possible future field.

LOST HILLS.

One of the most important discoveries of the year was in the Lost Hills, where oil was struck in October by the Lake Shore well, the first well ever drilled there, at a depth of less than 900 feet. This strike caused a rush of prospectors to the locality and the beginning of operations on a large scale.

SANTA MARIA AND LOS ANGELES

Developments in the Santa Maria fields were satisfactory, especially to the east of Cat Canyon, where work would have been more extended but or the investment by the local capitalists in the new strikes in the Sunset-Midway field.

The development in the Los Angeles pools was uneventful.

Doings of Oil Men.

J. M. Dunn, part owner of the Lakeview gusher ground, and other valuable holdings in the oil fields, has gone to Washington to represent the interests of those who are developing the natural gas resources of the Midway oil fields. He will be absent a month or more. Thomas A. O'Donnell, member of the committee of seven, is also at the national capital.

B. R. Dudley of Martin & Dudley of Visalia, the first oil operators in the Lost Hills country, was in the city a few days last week. The firm is heavily interested in the Lakeshore well, as well as other properties in the immediate vicinity.

W. S. Tevis has brought suit to dispossess F. P. Dable, Frank McSmith, H. L. McNair and several others from section 26, 11-26, now being developed by the San Emidio Oil Company. The section was included in the President's withdrawal order of July 25, 1910.

John S. Merrill, a New York broker, recently piloted another private car party from the East through the northern oil fields. There were seventeen men in the party and they were said to represent $10,000,000.

Mark E. Davis, an Oakland broker who is interested in the La Blanc, El Camino and other oil properties, has been entertaining F. G. Mathison, a wealthy easterner, for several days in the oil fields.

A. C. Mortenson, president of the Mortenson Gaseous Capper Company of Chicago, spent last week in the Westside oil fields of Kern county.

Mining Camp Humming.

At the mining camp of Steece, eight miles from Caliente, a five-foot vein of ore has been uncovered for a distance of forty feet that runs $1000 to the ton. The Caliente Mining Company also has a four-foot vein of ore running from $200 to $500 to the ton. B. L. Von, operating in the district, is shipping $100 ore. A big auto truck has been sent from Los Angeles that will haul ten tons of ore a day over an eight-mile automobile road that has just been constructed. Things are humming at the camp.

United Gets a Gusher.

Secretary Hedrick of the United Oil Company received word yesterday that the company's No. 9 well had struck a gas pocket Sunday which hurled the tools over the derrick and forty feet away. Later in the day the hole filled with oil which is now flowing over the derrick, making it one of the big wells of the field. No. 9 is located on section 6, 32-22, Midway.

Honolulu Gets Big Well.

The Honolulu Consolidated Oil Company got into the big sand with its well No. 2 on section 14, 32-24, Buena Vista, last Wednesday, and although not yet properly cleaned out, the well is said to be making 4000 barrels of 30 gravity oil per day. The sand was encountered at a depth of 3200 feet.

Now Produces Mud.

The Lakeview gusher is not belching forth great gobs of red mud. A recent test showed 3 per cent. water, 45 per cent. mud and 52 per cent. oil, and this conglomeration was being ushered forth into the world at the rate of 5000 to 6000 barrels a day. The small percentage of water is gratifying to the neighboring operators.

Union's Mile-Deep Well.

The Sheridan well, owned by the Union Oil Company, on section 10, 31-22, in the far northern part of the Midway field, is still drilling, and has reached a depth of 5900 feet. It seems doubtful if the McKittrick and Midway fields will be connected with a string of producing wells.

West Coast Excursion.

The schedule for the Chamber of Commerce excursion to the west coast of Mexico is being rearranged for February 2, and a flat rate of $125 will be made for the ten days' trip, including every expense. Secretary Wiggins

WOULD ENTHRONE UNIONISM AND MAKE CALIFORNIA ITS SUBJECT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] From Modesto comes Thomas F. Griffin, Assemblyman, who, yesterday, introduced a bill which is intended to enthrone unionism and make subject all industries in California. So extreme are the provisions that even the labor lobby is dazzled. It is intended to protect labor unions against employers, according to Griffin. But it seems to be rather a bill to make the "open shop" or industrial freedom impossible.

By making discrimination against unions an offense, it goes a long way toward making the "open shop" unlawful.

It goes further and forbids an employer to employ armed guards to protect free workkinmen whom he may bring into his shop, and makes such an act as felony.

A section intended to strike at the anti-picketing ordinance that so effectively curbed union despotism in the streets of Los Angeles is the one forbidding any court to restrain organized labor from boycotting or picketing, "so long as no unlawful act is committed." Under this pickets would be multiplied and maintained so long as they did not violate other laws.

A clause of this bill particularly destructive of combined action by employers against the labor trust is this one:

"Any person or corporation within the State, or agent or agents, or officer on behalf of such person or corporation, who shall hereafter cause or compel any person to enter into an agreement, either written or verbal, not to join or be a member of any labor organization as a condition of such person's securing such employment, or continuing in the employment of such person or corporation, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined a sum not less than $200 nor more than $1000, or imprisoned in the county jail not less than one month nor more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment."

If an industry advertises for help, failure to advertise that a strike or lock-out exists at the place is declared to be an offense and is punishable by a fine of $2000 to which six months in jail may be added.

The provision relating to guards is that any person who hires guards and arms them to protect employees brought from another State is guilty of a felony unless he shall have first obtained a written permission from the Governor of the State so to do. Then it goes further and declares that any persons who bring labor from another State under guard to break a strike, or the men who come under guard, are also guilty of a felony.

Other bills introduced by Griffin today indicate his state of mind. One prevents any detective or watchman to bear arms in the State without written permission from the governing body of the city or county. Another requires that all hotels having ten or more rooms must furnish individual towels to guests. The bill is aimed at the deadly roller towel.

Of like freakish nature is the bill of Griffin to require all bed sheets furnished by hotels to be eighty-one inches wide and ninety-one inches long. There is no provision as to thickness.

And Griffin is from Modesto, too.

SACRAMENTO.

is now deemed wise to whip them through while Lissner's peculiar theory of "impelling moral duty" is still in control. Lissner does not want to return, it is said, as he may have a hot job holding Works from reading Roosevelt and La Follette out of the insurgent party and becoming that party himself. The recent utterances of Works concerning Roosevelt are shocking some of the members who voted for him.

The Board of Controll Bill, introduced by Assemblyman Benedict of Los Angeles, is not the Governor's bill. He has said so. Originally this bill was planned to put the control of all State institutions in the hands of one board. Just as it was planned originally to deny all incumbents of public service positions in the State security under the new civil service law.

Taken together, the Control and Civil Service Bills would have eliminated every board and driven thousands of county and State employees out of office, giving their places to the hungry insurgents to fill.

The only white feather shown by the Lissner outfit is its recession from his bills to office-getting measures. But it is possible, after the "impelling moral duty" measures are out of the way, that the raid on offices plans may be revived. May be that is why the Governor says the Benedict control measure is not his.

COGSWELL IS BUSY.

About the busiest man in the Assembly is Cogswell of Los Angeles. As chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, he has one man's job. He admits it and so does everybody else. But no member is measuring up to expectations better than he, even if he has no ready method by which an income of $11,000,000 may be made to fit a demand for $12,000,000, as appears from the Comptroller's minimum estimates.

"Some one has made a blunder or two in his calculations on what the new system of State revenue under amendment No. 1 will produce," said he. "They seem to have forgotten that the University of California subsists on an amount measured by three per cent. of the total value of all taxable property in the State. This amounts to $700,000. Then the amounts that must be restored to counties that lose by the new system, approximately $600,000, seems to have been overlooked. Just add these items to the already uncertain deficiency and a problem is found that is not easy to solve."

Like the old adage, the taxation amendment, known merely as "No. 1" here, has returned to plague its inventor, Prof. Plehn of the University of California. It began with him three years or more ago. Now it has returned to worry the faculty of the institution, because no provision has been made for the subsistence of it. Under the old law the income was certain, because it was based on the aggregate tax valuation of the fifty-eight counties of the State. Now it is nowhere. To cure this Senators Curtin and Cutten have introduced measures providing that a sum equivalent to three per cent. of this total valuation be apportioned from the State revenue raised by the gross revenue taxation on corporations and the bank tax. But as no one, not even Prof. Plehn, knows what this revenue is to be, the proposal is not received with confidence.

Cogswell's suggestion is that the percentage be retained and let the university take its chances of getting more or less than the $700,000 it requires annually.

TO PROTECT INVESTORS.

Bill Would Compel Distinction Between Treasury and Promotion Stock.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A bill to protect investors in mining stocks is being prepared by Senator Hewitt of Los Angeles, on the basis of a measure sent to him by Oscar C. Mueller, who asserts its necessity in this State.

Under the present law there is no way of distinguishing in the stock markets promotion stock from treasury stock. As the proceeds of the sales of treasury stock must be used on the property and those from promotion stock go into the pocket of the promoter, the new bill will seek to protect investors by having all stocks labeled. The bill requires that all treasury and promotion stock be identified by words in letters at least one-half inch in height.

A companion measure, to be an amendment to the criminal code, will be prepared providing for the punishment of any corporation that does not designate its stock issues.

RAPS LOS ANGELES BAKERIES.

James Doherty of San Francisco used Los Angeles bakeries, which he described as filthy, as an argument before the Labor and Capital Committee this afternoon for his measure, introduced by Senator Estudillo, for a State bake-shop inspector. Doherty's also at fat salaries, and control of all sanitary matters pertaining to making bread are to be put in their charge.

Senator Hurd surprised Doherty by asking if the bill provided that he (Doherty) should have the inspectorship. "Your circulars so stated," said Hurd.

Doherty said this was not a part of the law. He failed to convince the committee that the municipalities are not able to regulate bakery sanitation, though no action was taken on the measure.

ANTI VACCINATION BILL.

Senator Hurd's bill to make it unlawful for any school board or management to "compel by resolution or otherwise the vaccination of any child or person as a prerequisite to admission to any public school" opened the door to another vaccination fight.

The bill emanates from the anti-vaccination society and happens to be a little stronger than the one Hurd had prepared which provides that vaccination could only be demanded when over smallpox is epidemic.

Hurd's bill for $100,000 for a permanent exposition fund in charge of a commissioner through which California's resources are to be advertised abroad has been transferred without recommendation from the Finance Committee to the Committee on Agriculture.

WHO GET APPROPRIATIONS.

State institutions in Southern California will be interested to learn that a dispute between the State engineer and the Boards of Management over who shall receive improvement appropriations has been solved by the Assembly Ways and Means Committee, according to Chairman Cogswell, by the insertion of a clause making all appropriations payable to the "person authorized by law to receive the same."

Cogswell says this will permit the engineer and the boards to settle their dispute through the attorney general or the courts.

Senator Roseberry won a victory in the Judiciary Committee today when he procured a favorable report on his amendment providing for ten peremptory challenges of jurors on each side in felony cases and five in misdemeanors. There was strong opposition from the representatives from small counties. The law now gives the defense twenty challenges and the people but ten.

Assemblyman Farwell of Los Angeles as a sub-committee of the Assembly Committee on Governor's Mansion is now charged with the duty of assisting Mrs. Johnson in the renovation of the mansion and its partial reconstruction. He and Assemblyman Flint today made the specifications for the work.

DEATH TAKES BRAVE OFFICER.

DETECTIVE MURRAY SUCCUMBS TO SERIOUS OPERATION.

Stricken With Appendicitis One Week Ago, Surgeons Find Abscess Which Seals His Fate—Members of the Force Pay High Tribute to His Courage and Efficiency.

City Detective Patrick H. Murray died at the California Hospital at 6:55 o'clock last evening, the cause being a large abscess due to appendicitis. He was operated on by Surgeon Cook late Monday night, but the abscess had already eaten so far into the officer's vitals that recovery was impossible.

The news of the death of "Pat" Murray cast gloom over the police department last night, calling for expressions of deep regret from the heads. While he had been ailing for some time, it was not until a week ago that Murray was forced to give up his work. He was out with is working partner, Detective McCann, last night a week ago, and he became so sick that he had to ask McCann to bring him in. The next morning he was sent to the California Hospital, apparently suffering from gastritis. The operation Monday night showed that it was appendicitis.

Murray was a native of Castleblaney, Armah county, Ireland, and was in his forty-fourth year. He was scarcely more than 21 when he was elected constable and City Marshal at Tulare, which position he held for nine years, giving an excellent account of himself on all occasions.

Fear was a stranger to the heart of this young Irishman. Once while he had been riding to Porterville with a deputy on the trail of horsethieves, the two were held up at night by two bandits who jumped out from the side of the road and covered them with revolvers.

The two officers quietly obeyed when ordered by the robbers to dismount, and with their hands over their heads, they seemed easy picking. But as soon as one of the hold-ups began searching Murray's pockets, that brave officer's hand dropped like a flash and instantly came up with a large revolver, blazing away.

A bullet in the bandit's wrist knocked his gun out of his hand and he was captured in a trice. The other robber had been standing at the heads of the horses, but he fled precipitately across sent to the penitentiary. While City Marshal of Tulare, Murray also took a conspicuous part in the running down of the Visalia train robbers, the Sontag brothers and Chris Evans.

Murray came to Los Angeles in 1896 and on June 30 of the following year he was appointed a patrolman. He did much good work, and on May 1, 1907, was made a detective.

While Pat Murray made an enviable record as an officer, it was his kindliness of disposition and goodness of heart that most endeared him to all his brother officers. Shrewd and keen, offenders against the laws still found him always ready to show them all the mercy possible with a consistent discharge of his duty.

Detective Murray leaves one son, Forrest Murray, a boy of 13; one sister, Mrs. L. Griffin of No. 423 South Slehal street, and seven brothers, among whom are Ed Murray, a patrolman in the East Side district; Frank Murray, a yardmaster at Bakersfield; P. A. Murray, railroad engineer, Bakersfield; Joe Murray, this city; Frank Murray, yardmaster at Stockton, and another brother who is a contractor at Bakersfield.

Arrangements for the funeral have not yet been made.

AS DR. BURKE PURE? CHASTE?

Luther Burbank Says Yes; Thos Says Not Sure.

Other Witnesses Testify as to His Character.

Prosecution Cites Cases of Alleged Immorality.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SANTA ROSA, Jan. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The defense of Dr. Burke opened up a Pandora's box today when it attempted to establish the good character of Dr. Burke. Prominent men from all parts of the State were called as witnesses, among them being Luther Burbank, the horticulturist.

The case went well so long as the defense confined to its attempts to prove the doctor's action for peace and quiet of the community. But when Attorney Leppo of Santa Rosa, Former Superior Judge Crawford what the reputation of the defendant was for chastity in Healdsburg, Lea had the opening for which he had been waiting.

Each witness testified that Burke' reputation in this regard was good. Dist.-Atty. Lea asked the witness if he had ever heard of Dr. Burke's performing criminal operations at the sanitarium; if he had ever known that Dr. Burke had been indicted for forgery in Lake county; if he had ever heard that on January 4, 1910, Dr. Burke performed a criminal operation and ordered the body to be cremated a six-months-old baby in the sanitarium furnace; if he had ever heard that in 1906 Dr. Burke was found in a compromising position in the room of a woman patient at the sanitarium, and if he had ever heard that in 1909 Dr. Burke was found in a similar position with another woman at the sanitarium.

Each witness replied to each question that he had never heard anything of the kind.

During the forenoon session Dist.-Atty. Lea's questions that the prosecution opposed vigorously the attempt of the defense to prove Burke a moral man.

Dr. A. B. Reynolds, president of the Santa Rosa Bank, another character witness for Burke, was asked by Lea, if he had testified that Burke's reputation for chastity was good, if he had ever heard that the defendant had been intimate illicities with a woman in Alameda, while he was there as the osteopathic room in the witness had never heard of it.

Luther Burbank gave his occupation as horticulturist. He said that he knew Dr. Burke for twelve years and testified that his reputation was good and quiet and chastity was as far as he knew. On cross-examination, he was compelled to admit that he had never made any investigation of the reputation of Burke in Healdsburg.

Dr. Burke took the witness stand this afternoon, and while her testimony was unimportant, it created a sensation in the court room. She declared she knew Dr. Burke gave Mrs. Ruth treatment free and supplied her with money; knew there was a child in her house before the examination and that it was brought there by the doctor returned in December. Mrs. Burke denied her husband had ever had any trouble with girls and did not take a drug with him.

Supreme Court Upholds Legislative Act Prohibiting Liquor Sale Within Three Miles of Any Public Work.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) Jan. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Supreme Court today handed down a decision that the legislature in prohibiting the issuance of liquor licenses within six miles of any camp or assembly of men engaged in the construction or repair of any railroad, irrigation, public work or other enterprise where twenty or more are employed, is a valid exercise of police power. The decision affects a condition of affairs as long as work continues on the Carter-street bridge across the Salt River where the Mercereau Construction company of Los Angeles has been employed, less than two miles from the center of the city.

Attorneys insist that the decision will hold also with respect to irrigation and sewerage works. Should it be sustained, Phoenix will be a dry city.

TEN YEARS IN PRISON.

Former Cashier of Washington Bank Pleads Guilty to Embezzlement.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PASADENA (Cal.) Jan. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Frank J. Fuhrman, former cashier of the National Bank of Commerce, was sentenced to ten years imprisonment by Judge Bledsoe in the United States District Court yesterday. He appeared with his attorneys, pleading guilty. The arraignment, plea and sentence required only ten minutes.

It was discovered last month that Fuhrman had embezzled more than $20,000, investing most of the money in timber lands, logging equipments and a shingle mill.

These he transferred to the bank. He had lost money in several logging enterprises. Chester Thorne, president of the bank, expressed the hope that he would receive a minimum sentence of five years or thereabouts.

At last week's annual meeting, the bank deducted $20,000 from last year's earnings to cover any difference between Fuhrman's defalcation and the amount received from his property.

This left the bank's annual earnings at nearly $70,000. It paid a 10 per cent. semi-annual dividend, making 20 per cent. paid stockholders last year.

REPRIEVE FOR INDIAN LAD.

Snatched from the Gallows for the Fourth Time Within Few Months. Gov. Johnson Takes Action.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 17.—Louie Augustine, an Indian boy, thrice snatched from the gallows by reprieve, secured a new lease of life today when Gov. Johnson again reprieved him until February 17.

Augustine was convicted of killing the Sheriff of Lake county in an affray involving horse stealing. The Sheriff's family are among the petitioners that he be not hanged. In announcing the reprieve the Governor said:

"Louie Augustine was sentenced to be hanged on the 16th day of September, 1910, and was successively reprieved on the 8th day of September, 1910, and the 4th day of November, 1910, by Gov. Gillett, and on the 12th day of December, 1910, by Lieut.-Gov. Porter. This last reprieve expires on Friday, the 20th day of January, 1911.

The case has been left for my decision at the busiest time of my term. It has been impossible for me to give this matter the consideration, which such a question, involving the life of a fellow being, requires. I have therefore thought it necessary again to reprieve Louie Augustine until the 17th day of February, 1911, so that I may have an opportunity to thoroughly examine the record and the various petitions that have been presented. The reprieve is granted solely for this season."

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND, Jan. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Walter Baker Moore, son of former Gov. Miles C. Moore of Washington, now the president of the Baker-Boyer National Bank at Walla Walla, is made the defendant in a $100,000 breach of promise suit today in the Circuit Court by Miss Mary E. Cronan, a Portland nurse, who is said to have expected the banker's son to marry her for the last two years. This is said to be the largest suit of its kind ever brought in Multnomah county.

The complaint of the nurse recites that they became engaged July 12, 1909, in Portland, and only after he had made repeated requests for her hand. After she had given her consent, Moore said he had to go to California on business and would be gone three weeks. Upon his return to Portland, the wedding was to take place, according to the nurse.

Miss Cronan says that while Moore was on his California trip she was getting her trousseau and making other arrangements for the wedding. His trip lasted only two weeks, but on his return his ardor had cooled. He insisted on the wedding date being postponed from time to time, she says, and finally refused to marry her.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PSYCHOLOGICAL TUTOR TAUGHT.

Head of Long Beach Society Debarred from Building.

Name Is Ordered from Stone and Plate Window.

New Directors to Convert Temple Into Apartments.

LONG BEACH, Jan. 17.—The opponents of Dr. W. R. Price, head of the New or Practical Psychology cult which he founded in Long Beach about eight years ago, and which flourished until Price's followers began to claim that they were being duped, scored a point today against the doctor and the faithful ones who still flock under his standard when the stockholders of the Psychological Temple by resolutions fired the entire board of directors, elected a new board and officers, and ousted the doctor from any participation in its proceedings and also from the building. His name was chiseled out of the corner-stone and scratched off the windows and doors. Notices were posted forbidding him to enter the building and new Yale locks were placed throughout the building.

This procedure had been the plan for the original annual meeting on January 11, but on the day previous Dr. Price secured an injunction preventing the voting of 500 shares of stock held by J. L. Johnson, which was necessary for the insurgents to control affairs. Argument on the restraining order was heard yesterday for Judge Densmore of Riverside, sitting for Judge Monroe, and the general demurrer interposed by Attorney Knight was sustained and the order dissolved, making possible the contemplated action.

POTENT KICK.

This morning it was found that Dr Price had gone to Los Angeles after carefully locking all doors and windows. A careful push of a well applied foot, however, was as potent as the keys and the hall was opened. The militant secretary was absent and the books were locked in the Price safe, but proceedings went ahead.

Members of the old board were Clinton Johnson, S. M. Rice, George Schoenberger, W. L. Hawkins, Mary L. Price, R. H. Chittenden, James M Nelson, Mrs. J. E. Simmons, Emma M Talbott, W. H. Holloway and Carl Hawkins.

The stockholders selected as directors and officers: J. M. Sewell, president; Mary E. Sewell, secretary; F. A Knight, J. V. Hannon, T. G. Harriman Ralph Clock, Mrs. L. A. Cook, H. C Marsh, J. L. Johnston, F. E. Shaw and Mary J. Helm.

MEETINGS FORBIDDEN.

Following the organization of the new board a resolution was adopted prohibiting Dr. Price and his society from holding any further meetings in the Temple. A meeting is scheduled for next Sunday. Dr. Price was also notified that he would be allowed to move any personal belongings from the building and his occupancy would then cease. J. M. Sewell was appointed general manager and ordered to change the locks on all the doors. A committee composed of Mrs. Ralph O. Bates, Dr. Mary J. Helm and H. O. Marsh were ordered to remove Price's name from all parts of the building and they at once got busy with hammers, chisels, acid and turpentine.

HISTORY OF CULT.

Dr. Price was originally a Baptist preacher in Tennessee. He came here about eight or nine years ago and preached several times in the local churches. He is a man of fine presence and a charming personality. When he announced that he intended to organize a new thought society, he found many willing and eager disciples. He called his cult the New or Practical Psychology and speedily gathered about him a strong society including many prominent people of the city of both sexes. He organized classes, at which the teachings of his new thought were given to admiring and adoring audiences. Some of the teachings soon began to create misgivings in the minds of many, and a schism followed. A Christian pastor named Keller challenged him to a joint debate which was held before a crowded audience at the old Tabernacle and Keller made charges about the teaching of the cult, to which Price replied, but rather overdid himself and acknowledged some things which reacted upon himself.

Gradually his strength was weaned away. In May, 1905, the doctor evolved a plan for the building of a temple for the dissemination of the new cult and his people without question subscribed the stock and a modern structure was erected on East Second street, near American avenue. The lower floor was devoted to storerooms, but the remainder was set aside for the society and Dr. Price's private offices. After the society had been running a year, two members, Mrs. Ralph O. Bates and husband, charged that they had been euchered out of their holdings, and Mrs. Bates exposed the doctor, but the attacked leader went marching on and Bates and his wife dropped out of sight.

Soon the doctor began to hint of financial enterprises he was promoting and the stock of which he would allow his followers to purchase. One of these was a big rubber plantation down in Mexico and the other a scheme to dredge the sands of a northern river for gold; the reports of which showed fabulous values. One day the dredger burned and then Price's troubles began. Some of his followers were skeptical and began to want return of their invested money and then suits began and the doctor's troubles multiplied. Besides civil suits he has been charged with perjury and forgery and attempts to conceal his property from his victims. J. M. Sewell, the new president of the society, was the most persistent, and he secured judgment whereby he came in control of 1200 shares of the Temple stock, which, with 400 more shares, gave him control of the situation today. Sewell also has another judgment under which Price's residence and other property are to be sold at Sheriff's sale January 27 to satisfy a judgment for over $7000.

The new directors have as yet made no plans for increasing the revenue of the Temple building, but the general opinion today seemed to be in favor of transforming it into an apartment house.

FLAMES THREATEN BLOCK.

Riverside Firemen Have Hard Fight to Prevent Many Buildings Going Up in Smoke.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

RIVERSIDE, Jan. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Fire of unknown origin was discovered about 10:30 tonight in the rear of Miss Pilcher's millinery store, in the Loring Block, opposite the Glenwood Hotel. The entire block was threatened, but after a hard struggle the department got the flames under control by midnight. Several thousand dollars damage resulted to the building, which is partly insured.

Flames found a vent through an air shaft, destroyed the Mayor's office on the second floor, and the supply room of a photocraft shop on the third floor. Between $9000 and $10,000 worth of millinery stock was badly damaged, but is partly covered by insurance. The most damage was done by water. Loring's confectionery stock was damaged by water.

Fight for Life.

INSANITY WILL BE THE DEFENSE.

LEGAL BATTLE STARTS TO SAVE BELL FROM GALLOWS.

Prosecution Unexpectedly Closes Its Case Against the Slayer of Lawyer Widaman and the Other Side Asks a Continuance Until Today.

The legal battle for the life of Frank M. Bell, who, on the morning of July 23 last, shot and killed Attorney O. P. Widaman in Artesia, was begun yesterday in Judge Willis's courtroom, before Judge Cabannis, of San Francisco.

Though less than a half-dozen witnesses were heard, it was apparent from the outset that Bell's attorneys are framing a defense on the grounds of temporary insanity. They devoted their efforts to show Bell's irrational state of mind prior to the shooting.

Every grimace that he made while his victim was prostrate on the ground; his enunciations and his expressions of hatred and revenge were elaborated with the view of showing his state of mind.

There was surprise when Deputy District Attorneys Keyes and Graham, who are in charge of the prosecution, announced shortly after 4 o'clock that the State rested. It was believed that it would require at least another day for one testimony. The attorneys for the defense are not quite ready to proceed, and Judge Cabannis continued the case until 10 o'clock this morning.

Coroner's Surgeon Campbell was the first witness called yesterday morning by the State. He testified concerning the four wounds of the murdered man, and the course pursued by the bullets.

E. Vacher, conductor of the Santa Ana car upon which Bell was a passenger prior to the shooting, related how Bell left his seat and stood in the aisle when the train was approaching Artesia. He said that Bell jumped from the car while it was in motion, and pulling a gun from his pocket, began firing.

"I'm shot—for God's sake don't kill me struggled to arise from the ground. "Bell continued to fire at the prostrate man," said Vacher, "until he had discharged five shots."

The deputy constable who made the arrest and E. S. Noon, who aided, described the shooting. Both admitted, under the sharp questioning of Attorney Appel, who is acting as Bell's chief counsel, that Bell was nervous, and had a wild gleam in his eye. They also testified to his conversation during the trip to the County Jail, and his intense nervous state.

George D. Miller, a dairyman from Cypress, a station on the Santa Ana line, who was a passenger on the car, described his nervousness prior to and following the shooting.

James O'Brien, West Bishop street, Santa Ana, another passenger, furnished the defense with evidence concerning Bell's wrought-up condition.

"He had the look that all criminals have after taking a life," announced O'Brien.

"Ah, you've handled criminals in the past?" interposed Appel.

"Oh, a few," was the reply.

"And where?" asked Appel.

"Sioux City, Iowa," was the answer. "Wore a star like the regular detectives do?" queried Appel.

"Well, I only wore a star on circus day, when the toughs came to town," said O'Brien.

FINE CITIZEN DIES.

In the death, Monday, of S. T. Weir, Hollywood lost one of its best-known and most respected citizens. Deceased was born April 11, 1839, in Randolph county, Illinois. His early life was spent among the hardy pioneers who turned a wilderness into fields of waving corn. In 1882 he married Harriet J. Jones, of Paxton, Ill., and shortly after moved to Chicago, where he was connected with the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company for many years. He later resided at West Salem, Wis.; Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and Champaigne, Ill., in all of which places he leaves many friends.

AT CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

Reception to Congressman-elect Stephens and Senator-elect Works. The Speeches.

The reception in the Chamber of Commerce, tendered to John D. Works, United States Senator-elect, and W. D. Stephens, member of Congress-elect, was attended last night by several hundred men and women.

A platform had been placed in the exhibition room and an orchestra located on the gallery, and the gathering crowd was entertained with music for half an hour before the speech-making began.

Capt. H. Z. Osborne presided at the meeting, and explained that on three prior occasions, in the twenty-five-year history of the Chamber of Commerce that body has tendered receptions to United States Senators. The first was to Senator White, the next to Senator Bard and the third to Senator Flint.

The first speaker introduced was Congressman-elect Stephens. He said that he is going to Congress to represent the whole people.

"I do not go as the representative of any man, any corporation or any political party," said Stephens. "I go as the representative of every one of the 550,000 population of my district, and as a booster for Southern California. If I can't do very much in Congress, on account of its political complexion, I can get outside and boost."

He recommended that every one present write three letters to friends in the East, boosting for Los Angeles as a summer resort, and said it would result in doubling the summer population of the city. For himself, he declared that Los Angeles is the best and where one can sleep under blanksummer resort in the United States, ets every day in the year.

George H. Stewart, ex-president of the Chamber of Commerce, was the next speaker, put forward to extend a welcome to the Senator-elect. He reminded the guests of the importance of Los Angeles and Southern California by quoting figures of this phenomenal growth, and admonished him that it is his duty to remember that he came from the great city of Los Angeles, and that it is expected that he will stand loyally by her interests.

Senator-elect Works responded with feeling words to his neighbors and friends, for the "sympathy and encouragement" they extended to him as he took up the great task before him.

"I am proud to be a citizen of Los Angeles," he said, "but her material interests—money—are not so important as her moral and spiritual welfare. I want you to understand me. I do not go to the United States Senate to boost for the Chamber of Commerce, for Los Angeles nor for Southern California, but for the whole State and the whole country. I have never been a booster. My interest has been directed in other channels for the moral, spiritual and political purification of the city and State. Whenever Los Angeles, or any other city, asks for what she ought rightfully to have, I shall be only too glad to do all in my power to secure it."

Judge Wellborn of the United States District Court, was called for, and responded with a timely speech, complimentary to the Senator-elect, who was his former law partner.

Mayor Alexander, who sat on the platform from the first, was called for from the floor, and Capt. Osborne reluctantly yielded, and presented the Mayor, but he declined to make a speech. Then calls came for Lissner. Capt. Osborne drew the line right there, and said he wouldn't stand for anything more, and as he had been interrupted in explaining how those present should conduct themselves, in order to take the guests of honor by the hand, he completed the explanation and led the Senator-elect from the platform. A line was formed in the directors' room, and the crowd passed in one door and out the other.

Los Angeles Must Be Unionized Is Boss' Despairing Cry—Meddling With Legislature.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN RAFAEL, Jan. 17.—At today's session of the State Building Trades Council, a communication was received from State Senator J. B. Sanford, suggesting that the Council endorse Senate Bill 24, which provides than no aliens ineligible to citizenship shall own or lease land in California, and Senate Bill 63, dealing with the pay check system.

L. L. Babcock, a delegate from the Fresno building trades, extended an invitation to the convention to hold its next annual session in Fresno.

Delegate-at-Large A. Johannsen, representing the San Francisco council, submitted a report showing what had been done for the wage workers by the union labor administration of that city.

General Secretary Tveitmoe in his report declared that the fight of the metal trades employees and iron workers in Los Angeles must continue until that city was as well unionized as other cities in California. He urged an assessment of 25 cents on each member in support of the Los Angeles strikers.

He was opposed to the proposed compulsory arbitration law.

The total membership of the building trades council, according to Secretary Tveitmoe, is more than 40,000.

ANXIOUS TO DICTATE.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 17.—Speaker Hewitt of the House received a telegram today from the State Building Trades Council requesting that no action be taken on legislation affecting Japanese or other foreign citizens, until representatives of various labor interests have an opportunity to take a stand on the question. The telegram is as follows:

"Tenth annual convention State Building Trades Council adopted today by unanimous vote the following resolution:

"Resolved, that this council immediately wire legislators at Sacramento requesting them to withhold any bills affecting Japanese or foreign citizens until representatives of State council, State Federation of Labor, San Francisco Labor Council and the San Francisco Building Trades Council have an opportunity to analyze these measures in accordance with suggestions of Mayor McCarthy, which were communicated by President of Asiatic Exclusion League on December 24, 1910, to members of the State Legislature.

[Signed.] O. A. TVEITMOE,
"General Secretary-treasurer."

AFTER UNION MURDERERS.

Five Thousand Dollars Offered for Arrest of Thugs Who Killed Untrameled Chicago Printer.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Five thousand dollars has been offered as a reward for the apprehension of the man or men who murdered Rush V. Denon, a proof-reader employed by the W. F. Hall Printing Co., No. 466 West Superior street, as Denon was on his way to work last evening. While the police and Robert M. Eastman, president of the company, are inclined to believe that Denon was attacked by union printers or hired thugs, the officials of the Typographical Union indignantly deny any connection with the affair.

Denon was a non-union printer and proof-reader and had been employed with the Hall company for three years. Of late he has been working at night and the attack was made at Wells and West Superior street, as he was nearing his place of employment. Two men were involved in the attack and one struck Denon over the head with a club or some other heavy weapon.

Denon fell to the walk unconscious and the police were called and removed him to the Passavant Hospital where he died soon after his arrival without regaining consciousness.

ENATOR ALDRICH MAKES PUBLIC LONG-AWAITED BANKING MEASURE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Senator Nelson W. Aldrich's long-awaited "plan for the revision of national banking legislation," as calls it, was made public today. He es not contemplate the establishent of a central bank. It is so far om what most people have expected r. Aldrich to propose that it may me as a surprise.

The plan was submitted today to the ational Monetary Commission at a eeting called for the purpose, but nator Aldrich was not present.

The Monetary Commission received r. Aldrich's suggestion without comment as to its merits. The document as presented by the vice-chairman, epresentative Vreeland, and soon afterward the commission adjourned to eet at the call of the chairman.

Far from recommending the institution of a control bank, Mr. Aldrich expressly disclaims belief in it, as calculated to meet the needs of the situation.

What Mr. Aldrich proposes is the tablishment of the Reserve Associaon of America, representing what ight be called a federation of local sociations formed by national banks. e says in his letter to the commission at he believes this association would ot be subject to the domination or inuence of any political or financial roup.

So well known is the scheme that it difficult to state briefly the provisions f the plan; but these seem to be the ssentials:

At bottom, local organizations of presentatives of banks, formed by ot less than ten banks each, each bank olding stock in the association in proportion to its capital. Directors elected by these to the board of "branch" associations, one branch for each fifteen financial districts into which the United States would be divided. Each "branch" board would include a certain proportion of men not bankers, but representing industrial, agricultural, commercial and other interests.

The "branches" in turn would elect to the reserve association proper directors, forty-five in all, among whom also must be a proportion of men representing interests other than banks. There would be six officio members of this board, namely, the Secretary of the Treasury; the Secretary of Commerce and Labor, the Comptroller of the Currency, and the governor and two deputy governors of the association. The governor and deputy governors of the association would be appointed by the President of the United States and be removable by him for cause.

The association would be the principal financial agent and depository of the government, would fix from time to time the rate of exchange or discount, and eventually its notes would replace those of the national banks. Prime commercial paper, passing up from the banks through the local associations and branches, as well as bonds of the government, could be used as a basis for currency issue.

The plan contemplates two new classes of national banks or departments of banks, to receive savings and make loans upon real estate, and also to be in effect national trust companies. National banks would be permitted to form branches to operate only in their own immediate communities, and they also could be organized for business in foreign countries.

The system of mutual support by which the association's members would meet currency emergencies is detailed at length.

STOMACH MISERY

INDIGESTION, GAS, HEARTBURN AND DYSPEPSIA GO AND YOU WILL FEEL FINE IN FIVE MINUTES.

Thousands of men and women here and about Los Angeles will be surprised at the prompt relief after taking a little Diapepsin—Get some now and have your Stomach trouble over forever.

Every family here ought to keep some Diapepsin in the house, as any one of you may have an attack of Indigestion or Stomach trouble at any time, day or night.

This harmless preparation will digest anything you eat and overcome a distressed, out-of-order stomach five minutes afterwards.

If your meals don't tempt, or what little you do eat seems to fill you, or lays like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heart-burn, that is a sign of Indigestion.

Ask your Pharmacist for a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin, and take a little just as soon as you can. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, Nausea, Debilitating Headaches, Dizziness or intestinal griping. This will all go, and besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapepsin is a certain cure for out-o-order stomachs, because it prevents fermentation and takes hold of your food and digests it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there.

Relief in five minutes from all stomach misery at any Drug Store, waiting for you.

These large 50-cent cases contain more than sufficient to cure almost any chronic case of Dyspepsia, Indigestion or any other Stomach Trouble.

When asked what he would do in California, he said that he would revise a work he has just finished on the "Hawaiian Islands" from notes that he made about two years ago.

"I never work except when I want to, and I only work at what I want to," he declared. "I like descriptive writing, but I take my time about it. I never make notes, but I find that the big pictures always stay with me. When I see a thing worth while I am impressed as the plate of a camera might be, and it lies there to be developed at any time.

"I went to Yellowstone Park with Roosevelt and I did not write of the visit until 1905. I went to Honolulu in May, 1909, and I am just working it up now. I also want to prepare a volume of my essays on 'Out of Door Life' while I am here, and these will include my sketches of Yosemite and of the Grand Canyon."

Death of Prof. Miller of Occidental College Removes Teacher Beloved by Students and Faculty.

The flags at Occidental College float at half staff because of the death yesterday morning of Prof. Frederick Grant Miller, who had been in ill-health for a long time. Just before the Christmas holidays the directors of the college voted him a six months' leave of absence, hoping that he would regain his health.

Prof. Miller was a graduate of Hamilton College, taking his B. A. degree in 1902. He was elected a member of the honorary Phi Beta Kappa Fraternity because of his high scholastic standing. He was also a member of the Delta Upsilon Fraternity. After his graduation he became the head master of Palmer Institute, where he also taught Latin and Greek. He remained there from 1902 to 1904, when he left to take up further study on the continent.

In 1905 and 1906 he studied as a graduate student in the Universities of Munich and Berne. He returned to this country in 1906 and took his master's degree at Hamilton College. He taught French and Latin in the Geneva High School, where he was principal of the boys' department. He was instructor of French and German in the Hobarts College in 1906-07. In 1908 he came to Occidental Academy, where he had charge of the modern languages. He remained there for two years and then came to the college to teach German, remaining there until his death yesterday. He leaves a wife and two children.

The funeral will take place Thursday afternoon at his home in Eagle Rock Valley. Rev. Gantz of the Highland Park Presbyterian Church will conduct the services.

A GREAT PLACE FOR YOUR CHILDREN.

Wouldn't you be glad to get the children out of the city streets—into the great, wholesome, healthful out-of-doors? On a suburban acre they would have plenty of interests to take up their time—useful interests that would increase the family income. You could have them under your eye, as you cannot have them here in the city. Instead of merely THINKING about this move, why don't you ACT upon it? I offer an acre at Somerset, 30 minutes away by trolley. The place is a good suburban town, with schools, stores, telephones and other conveniences. The soil is a rich sandy loam, and I furnish abundant water free. You can have a thriving garden, fruit trees, chickens and other produce. You can buy this acre (or $10 cash and $10 monthly. JARS "PURCHASED" VOTERS.

Illinois Judge in Speaker Cannon's District Charges Grand Jury to Indict Bribe-takers.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DANVILLE (Ill.) Jan. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In one of the most sensational charges ever delivered to a grand jury in this county, the home of Speaker Cannon, Judge Kimbrough yesterday brought to the attention of the grand jury the practice of vote selling in this city and county.

The court charged that the practice had been carried on for many years and by both parties. The judge urged that a careful and thorough investigation be made and, if sufficient evidence were found, to indict the responsible men.

The court said that a moral wave is sweeping over the country and that the sanctity of the ballot must be protected and he proposed that it should be in this county, if grand juries would do their duty.

STOPS A FLOOD OF NEW COINS.

And Men Who Made Them Will Also Stop.

Capture of a Desperado and His Accomplices.

Counterfeit Found Cached in Several Places.

Secret Service Operative Hazen returned yesterday from Yuma, where he obtained evidence which he expects will send two men to the Federal Prison on charges of counterfeiting.

The Yuma officials arrested Charles White, a cowboy and desperado, on suspicion last week, and immediately notified Hazen, who took charge of the case.

Charles White,
leader of Arizona counterfeiting gang, just arrested by Secret Service Agent Hazen.

Several Arizona towns had been flooded with spurious quarters and half dollars, and the authorities throughout had been on the alert.

Hazen procured the confession of M. C. Conway, whose arrest he caused, which involved White and Leo Featherston. It also revealed to the officer several caches of counterfeit coins which had been made at Calexico and at Yuma. These were dug up and will be strong evidence when the case comes to trial, declares Hazen.

PASSER ADMITS IT.

Featherston has admitted that he was designated to pass the coin. White, who is also known as "Blue," is stoutly declaring that he is innocent. He served one term in the Federal Prison at Leavenworth. It is thought that he learned how to counterfeit while there.

"I pleaded guilty once and got the worst of it," he told Hazen. "I wouldn't plead guilty now under any circumstances. If ninety-nine men stood in front of me and said that they had seen me make the coins, I'd call them all liars."

White is of the character of desperado that graced the frontier in early days, but which is now nearly extinct. He does not seem to know the meaning of law and order, and fear is entirely missing from his make-up.

Several years ago he was arrested at McAllister, Okla. He broke jail, wounded the marshal and shot up the town in making his escape.

He traveled through the Southwest breaking horses, punching cattle, and getting into trouble. He was picking cotton in the Imperial Valley when he met Conway. Their employment was too tame for his wild spirit, and he suggested that they should become counterfeiters, according to Conway's confession.

They established their plant at Yuma and there picked up Featherston. White was the leader of the gang and the other members did exactly what he told them to.

"MEET HIM SOME DAY."

When he was told that Conway had "peached" on him, a strange look came into his face. "I'll meet him some day," was his brief comment, but it had a big meaning to the officials who knew his reputation.

When Conway was told of the implied threat, he declared that he would give his former "pal" a wide berth after the trial. He related an affair in which White took a hand. He quarreled with a Mexican and the latter cut a deep gash over his heart. White had not looked for the thrust, but quickly recovered, disarmed the Mexican, and would have killed him if there had been no interference.

The government will use Conway as a witness and he will not have to stand trial.

Hazen found a letter awaiting him when he returned that explained the alleged arrest of seven counterfeiters at Bakersfield. The men were hoboes who were making lead slugs, which had the impression of money on one side only, for the purpose of playing slot machines. They are being held under vagrancy charges as the slugs they turned out cannot be considered as Shocker.

SUPPOSED DEAD MAN ESCAPES THE MORGUE.

IN THE buffet of the Hotel Hayward yesterday Thomas Lawlor had the surprise, if not shock, of a lifetime. Lawlor, a Pullman conductor, was quietly sipping a little lemonade and talking with the young man who presides over the destiny of the buffet. His name is Thomas White.

Lawlor had been relating the story of the death of a passenger on the Santa Fe Overland on his last trip. He had just completed the tale and turned toward the door. He stopped suddenly, as though he had run up against a wall.

His hands crept across the bar and plucked nervously at the sleeve of the man behind. He was shaking like a leaf in the wind.

"Tommy," he said, hoarsely, "do you see anyone standing right there?" And he pointed toward a tall, heavily-built gentleman who was putting a cocktail out of the way.

"Sure, I do," replied White, with a queer look. "I see several people there. But why?"

Slowly, Lawlor stepped along the bar, and on approaching the stout personage, peered eagerly at him, and passed his hand toward him as though he expected to touch nothing.

He encountered solid flesh and, with a sigh of relief, he pulled his handkerchief from his pocket and mopped his brow where the cold perspiration had appeared.

The stout person, who gave the name of E. S. Connell of Chicago, turned at the touch on his arm and testily asked what was wanted. He saw the strange look on the face of the barkeeper and Lawlor, and blurted out a question as to what on earth was wrong.

NOT A DEAD ONE.

"Wrong?" said Lawlor. "Why you are supposed to be a corpse."

"Well, I am the liveliest corpse you ever encountered," said the big man, belligerently, thinking that a joke was being played upon him.

Lawlor again wiped his forehead and then, bracing himself, asked the stranger if he had come across the continent on the Overland on its last trip.

"Yes," replied the stranger.

"Were you sick en route?" asked Lawlor.

"Yes, I was sick, and very sick at that," said the big man, a light beginning to break upon him.

"I am the conductor of the Pullman on which you were sick, and the last I saw of you was when the doctors said you were a subject for the undertaker, and you were en route to the morgue," said Lawlor.

The big man laughed heartily, invited Lawlor to a seat in the rear of the buffett and told his story.

Connell, who is in business in Chicago, had started for Los Angeles to pass a month for the benefit of his health. He had been troubled with a weak heart and an unruly stomach. Coming across the continent he became violently sick and at Needles a doctor was taken on the train. Connell sank rapidly, and just before the train reached La Grande station he was in a state of coma from which the doctors said he would never rally. Every means was used to revive Connell without effect. The physicians gave him up, and said his pulse was scarcely noticeable.

Word was sent ahead to the Santa Fe Hospital, and the morgue wagon and the ambulance were summoned to meet the train.

On arrival here Lawlor asked the physician about his passenger and was told that he was practically dead at that time. Lawlor made out his report of the incident to the Pullman Company, and then he left the supposedly dead man to the undertakers or whoever should claim him. There was some hesitancy as to whether the body should be placed in the morgue wagon or in the hospital ambulance. It was decided to take one more chance with the supposedly dead man and rush him to the hospital. At the Santa Fe Hospital several physicians immediately administered the most powerful restoratives known in the hope of reviving the man.

Meanwhile Lawlor had made his death report, and the Pullman Company started an investigation. Its agents called at the morgue of the Santa Fe Hospital, but were unable to find a record of Connell or any one of a similar name. The Pullman Company, becoming interested, sent for Lawlor, who told his story direct.

At the Santa Fe Hospital the restorative worked well. Connell was revived in fine shape and the second day was able to sit up. His naturally strong physique stood him in good stead, and within a few days he was out. The matter was dismissed from the attention of the company, but it forgot to notify Lawlor of his mistake.

Connell says he probably had a touch of ptomaine poisoning and this, coupled with his weak heart, had brought about a state of coma which had lasted about two days. He said it was the first time anything like that happened to him, and he had always considered himself in fine health.

He thanked Lawlor for the attention shown him, and said that he will spend the winter in Southern California with the hope that it will strengthen his entire make-up.

He's a Live One.
E. S. Connell, a Chicago business man who was supposed to have died on a train, and was so reported by a Pullman conductor. The latter was embarrassed when they met yesterday.

Swindle?

CHARGES GAMEWELL WITH WORKING CITY.

'Auditor, in Returning Demands to Council, Declares the Company Has Been Paid Forty Thousand Dollars Without Proper Authorization, and Is Trying to Get Fourteen Thousand More.

CITY AUDITOR MYERS yesterday returned to the City Council demands for $3871.70 in favor of the Gamewell Fire Alarm Company, which it had directed him to pay. He informed the Council that it had been made the victim of a conspiracy to get money obtained by irregular and illegal methods—already turned down by a former Council.

The City Auditor further charges that the Gamewell company has obtained from the city $40,822.08 without contract and by means of demands "that have been tampered with, altered as to dates, etc., to disguise the plan to evade charter and ordinance provisions."

He further states to the Council that the attempt to collect the $3871.70 is part of a scheme to collect $14,859.45 in "broken doses" after the warrants had been rejected as a whole a little over a year ago.

City Auditor Myers's final bomb is a statement made outside of his report, to a representative of The Times, that he has not yet concluded his investigation, and that he already has sufficient evidence to make it extremely uncomfortable for a number of persons.

The irregular method of securing money from the city with which Auditor Myers charges the Gamewell company is briefly that it so changed the dates of orders for fire-alarm boxes that it secured all of them without advertisement for bids. He has in his possession copies of the warrants and orders which show erasures of dates and other tampering.

CHANGED AND ERASED.

It is a rule that when an order amounts to over $500 it must be advertised so that bids may be submitted. On September 23, 1896, the orders show that there are four items of $300 each, making a total of $1200, for fire alarm boxes. Dates on a number of the orders had been erased and changed so as to make four orders of $300 each. The orders were made out in duplicate and Auditor Myers has the carbon copies. In some of these copies it is plainly seen that the carbon giving the day of the month was erased and an indelible pencil resembling it in color used to fill in the blank. The year mark remains in the original carbon offering a ready comparison.

made these contracts, one in 1893 for $2767.50, one in January 1899 for $11,175 and one in March, 1899 for $9975, the total boxes contracted for amounting to $23,817.50. The amount that has been paid by the city to the Gamewell Company is $64,639.58. These figures show that the city has paid over without authorization or proper procedure the sum of $40,822.08.

"These demands," said Myers last night, "will never get by me without an order of the courts. The City Council has been misled in passing them. The city has been paying $125 for fire alarm boxes when it could have bought them for $65, and it has paid for thousands of dollars worth of them without proper or legal methods. If the Gamewell Company thinks it has any claim against the city, let it go into the courts. We have the evidence here, and I can fully sustain every statement I am making."

AUDITOR'S CHARGES.

Auditor Myers's charges, made over his signature, follow:

"(1.) That the prices charged for most of the apparatus were exorbitant.

"(2.) That it could then and now be installed by other reputable manufacturers at approximately 50 per cent. less than the prices charged in these demands.

"(3.) The demands in question have been issued in violation of Article 20, Section 207 of the City Charter, and Ordinance No. 15015 (New Series.)

"(4.) I have secured affidavits and evidence sufficient in my opinion to show that a deliberate effort was made by parties known to me to evade the above mentioned charter provisions for the purpose of giving the Gamewell Company the order for the apparatus and supplies now in question; and that the agent for said company was cognizant of the facts and was a party thereto.

"(5.) That several of these demands have been tampered with and altered as to dates, etc., to disguise the plan to evade charter and ordinance provisions.

"(6.) In some cases where the actual purchase exceeded $500 the requisitions and orders were split so that each would be under $500; dates were changed to make it appear that the orders for the various portions of what should have been and what certainly was a single purchase, were given at intervals of one and two days

Into New Homes.

PLANNING FOR MOVING DAY.

Theater and Corporations to Change Bases.

New Broadway Belasco to Head Playhouse Chain.

Light and Power Company May Likewise Move.

As the result of a deal stated to have been definitely concluded yesterday, the Belasco Theater will presently cease to occupy its present site and will be moved into splendid new quarters on the first floor of the new ten-story building to be erected near Eighth and Broadway by William M. Garland. According to the statements made by the principals last night, the lease has been secured, dating for a period of twenty-one years. It is a part of the million-and-a-quarter-dollar lease which the prospective builder stated to have been made with W. G. Kerckhoff, president of the Pacific Light and Power Company, which will probably be also located in the new structure.

A significant feature in connection with the move on the part of the Belasco-Blackwood company is their intention to make the new theater the headquarters of a chain of playhouses through the West, all of which will be known as Belasco theaters. One of these, in San Francisco, is now nearing completion at Ella and Market streets. A second, at Exchange Place in Salt Lake City, is well on the way, and the third, on Champa street, Denver, will be begun shortly.

Each will be supplied with its own stock company under the direction of a local manager, the general control to be vested in the director of the playhouse in this city.

According to the present plans of the management, the new theater will be one of the most commodious and elaborate in the West. The present house will not be abandoned, but will probably be sublet for the use of musical comedy companies. Touching upon his reasons for the change of site, President John H. Blackwood said yesterday:

"Aside from the necessity of adequately housing the headquarters of such a chain of theaters as we expect to have in operation, the move is one in the direction of matters theatrical in general. That is to say, while we are not precisely dissatisfied with our present location, we are alive to the fact that we will have to get on Broadway sooner or later."

Construction upon the building will be commenced by Mr. Garland upon the expiration of the present leases on the one-story store buildings which occupy the site, which will be about the middle of next December. Occupying a 100-foot frontage, it will adjoin on the north the new fourteen-story building to be erected for the Los Angeles Investment Company, and will be a worthy companion for that towering skyscraper. Rising ten stories to the 150-foot line, it is probable that a mansard roof will be added which will contribute an additional thirty feet of height.

The structure is to be of steel frame, with a frontage of brick and terra cotta. It will contain 250 offices, in addition to the theater and two large store rooms on the first floor. The total cost is given by Mr. Garland as $500,000. The plans are being prepared by Morgan, Walls & Morgan, architects and designers of the W. P. Story building, the Kerckhoff building, the I. W. Hellman buildings and the I. N. Van Nuys building. Octavius Morgan, Jr., has just returned from the East, where he has made an extensive study of the latest types of modern, fireproof, steel construction of the sort to be incorporated in the present structure.

"It may be mentioned," said Mr. Garland, "that no drawing or perspective of the building has been issued or authorized. That which appeared recently in one of the morning papers and which purported to represent the appearance of the finished structure was made entirely without authorization and without even the basis of a description for accuracy."

The builder stated definitely that the lease with Mr. Kerckhoff and his associates had been signed, and that it was his understanding that the offices would be occupied by the Pacific Light and Power company and subsidiary companies. The officials of the latter corporation declined to make specific verification of this when seen last night, [illegible] strongly intimated, however, [illegible] removal from the present quarters [illegible] the Pacific Electric building.

It is also hinted that the change of site will extend to the offices of Los Angeles Railway Company, the officials of which are reported to look with favor upon the new building as a location for the headquarters. It is probable, however, that the latter point will be settled only upon the return of H. E. Huntington from New York City.

A Little Detail
of the "decorations" put on the Marion dwelling by neighbors.

WELL-INTENDED CRUELTY.

Neighbors Make Elaborate "Decorative" Preparations for Welcoming Newly-Married Couple Today.

Society may be entertained today by the accounts of a shocking homicide in high life. Frank Marion of No. 1[illegible] Gramercy place has provocation to be the murderer, and the slain should be many if Marion isn't very good-natured. One needs to go only [illegible] block of Marion's outraged dwelling to find the cause. Marion is newly married and cruel neighbors have advertised the fact with tragic emphasis.

It has already been remarked in some previous chronicle that misery loves company. The man who originated this platitude should have added: "Most of all does married misery." Frank Marion, owner of a large wholesale cigar store, married Miss Bessie Hively, also of this city, on Christmas, and they left immediately for Marion's old home in Michigan. Before his wedding, Marion paid $10,000 for the beautifully-furnished residence on Gramercy place, which his bride and himself are due to occupy on their arrival from the East this morning. The neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Marion could not forego an opportunity to extend to the happy newly-weds the full force of their congratulations.

It happens that these neighbors are members of the Lozier Five Hundred Club, in which Marion has been regarded as a substitute member for two years, and into which his present treatment fully initiates both himself and his wife. Certainly the things which Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Schaad, Mr. and Mrs. Ben L. Gubser and other members of the club did to the Marion domicile yesterday constitute an admirable sufficiency. Gubser made a cradle and Mrs. Schaad manufactured a life-size rag baby to go with the crib. The whole outfit was then quietly laid upon the Marion doorstep. Mrs. Gubser painted an immense stork, while above its head a streamer bears the classic legend of "Oh, you kid!"

Hardly an inch of the dwelling's front is left undecorated. An enormous banner across the roof of the portico announces to the world that the occupants are "just married." Straggling across the wide bay window of the front living-room letters a foot high declare that here, in all their bliss, abide the "newly-weds." The front door is placarded with an immense sign declaring that "Home was nothing like this." A delicate legend which might indicate to the casual passerby that love is near, says: "Menu: honey and cupid chips." Signs reading "Laundryman please call." "No help wanted." "Grocerymen and butchers get busy." and "Has anybody here seen Marion?" bristle from every conceivable point.

STARTED THREE WEEKS AGO.

Albert Felly, No. 1354 Bellevue avenue, asked the aid of the police yesterday afternoon to find his brother Alfred, who left New York three weeks ago to come here. Nothing has been heard from him since, and his mother, who lives in Chicago, is prostrated.

THE CONSENSUS OF OPINION

of business men, and the rank and file of the citizens of a community, as to the best and most effective advertising medium, is shown by the number of "Liner" advertisements printed by its newspapers.

For the week ending Sunday, January 15, The Times printed 1290 more agate "Liners" than the aggregate of all other Los Angeles papers combined, and 6488 more than its nearest local competitor.

This performance is repeated week after week, year in and year out.

REWARDS FOR DILIGENCE

One week ago today The Times printed 1566 agate "Liners." On the same day its nearest local competitor printed only 910 agate "Liners."

On Monday, January 23, and on each Monday thereafter, a prize of Five Dollars in Gold will be awarded to the person making the nearest correct estimate of the total number of "Liner advertisements published in The Times during the preceding seven days.

Estimates should not be made until after the publication of The Times on the last day of the week for which the contest is held, and they must be delivered before 10 a. m. the following Tuesday. The name of the prize winner for the preceding week will be published every Wednesday.

This contest is not open to the employees of The Times-Mirror Company.

All letters should be addressed to the Contest Editor, and each will be numbered in the order of its receipt in the office, 531-533 South Spring street.

SUMMARY.

A woman who carried a gun in her handbag because "she didn't feel good" was fined $25 by Police Judge Rose yesterday afternoon.

A large number of curbstone orators and street speakers appeared before the City Council yesterday to protest against further extension of the prohibitive zone for street meetings. The ordinance was referred back to the Legislative Committee.

Councilman Gregory's proposed ordinance regulating the charges to be made by taxi-cabs in Los Angeles was defeated yesterday by a vote of the City Council.

The City Planning Commission yesterday defended its right to existence before the City Council, and its request for a continuation of one year and an appropriation of $500, once refused by the Finance Committee, was referred back to the Finance Committee.

John O. Johnson told in Judge Monroe's court, yesterday, how he lost his money investing it in a fake betting scheme.

The divorced wife and family of Joseph Ellick, a mining man who died in Sinaloa, Mexico, September last, contested the will in Judge Monroe's court yesterday.

Elise H. Gaylord, wife of Burdon Gaylord, a mining engineer, told in Judge Conrey's court yesterday how her husband indulged in financial castles in the air, but allowed his mother-in-law to support his family.

The Occidental Life Insurance Company, contested an action brought against them by Rachel McEwen, in Department One, yesterday, involving the payment of an accident policy of $10,000. Defendant alleges that Charles F. McEwen, died of rheumatism and not from accident.

DEMAND RIGHT TO FREE FROTH.

CURBSTONE ORATORY STORMS THE CITY HALL.

Ordinance Extending Prohibitive Zone of Street Meetings Referred Back to Legislative Committee After Heetic Arguments by Socialists, Industrial Workers and Others.

Another battle against "oppression, tyranny and interference with the constitutional right of free speech" was fought out in the Council Chamber yesterday afternoon. The rules of the Council were suspended to make way for the display of curbstone oratory that had pitched its camp in the gallery since early morning.

When the floor was cleared a youthful Napoleon with a crest of fiery hair, a blue kerchief supplying the parts of both collar and necktie, and a white sweater—a study in national colors—tripped forward to lead the charge. He chose a clear space of the floor where there was plenty of room for action, advances, retreats, flank movements and all the other evolutions necessary to work up a proper pitch of enthusiasm.

He was after the scalp of the Merchants and Manufacturers' association, seeing in the proposed ordinance to prevent the obstruction of Los Angeles street an attempt to throttle free speech and recall some of the constitutional rights of American Citizens.

"Some of the grandfathers of you Councilmen, whom I hope you have not forgotten," he said, "stood out in the snow with bleeding feet to demand the right that you enjoy. We do not want these rights abridged.

"We see behind this movement an attempt of the Merchants and Manufacturers' Association to throttle free speech on the Pacific Coast. You should not go on with this attempt to inaugurate the rule of the iron heel. One of the few things we have left is the right for which King George was kicked off the throne while they made leaden bullets of his scepter and killed his own soldiers with them. It cost Spokane $172,000 to try to stop citizens from enjoying the right of free speech there and they are still talking."

The speaker represented the Industrial Workers of the World. After others had spoken he came back for another charge. "We have just heard a man put a dollar ahead of personal liberty," he said, "and I'm glad to hear a man who is honest. You see what we are coming to. The Merchants and Manufacturer's Association will soon be asking for an amendment to the Constitution of the United States asking that free speech be confined to a certain class."

Col. Tom C. Thornton spoke for the business men of Los Angeles street. He said they had nothing against Socialists, Industrial Workers or any others who speak on the street but that these meetings interfere with business and his people were simply asking that a certain business portion of the city be protected from interference with the advantages they should enjoy.

A number of business men were present who denied that the Merchants' & Manufacturers Association had anything to do with the ordinance and said they were there simply to protect their business. None of them had any interest in including the Plaza in the prohibitive zone. The whole matter was finally referred back to the Legislative Committee of the Council for further consideration.

MAKE HASTE SLOWLY.

TAGGART IS TURNED DOWN.

City Tax Collector Taggart yesterday asked the City Council to appropriate $5300 for the furnishing of his new quarters in the annex to the City Hall, under process of construction. He didn't get it. A majority of the Councilmen thought he should wait and let his demand go through with requests from other city departments that are to have quarters there.

Councilman Stewart objected to his plans for a safe "surrounded by a network of electric wires that would ring a bell on the street if any one touched them and raise Ned around the City Hall." Taggart explained that all he wanted was the cheapest kind of furniture, pine partitions, the cheapest kind of linoleum on the floors and other things to match. He asked early action because it would take some time to have the carpenter work done and he wanted to be ready for tax collections on March 1.

Betkouski and Andrews fought Taggart's battle for him. They lost on one ballot and then Betkouski moved that $5500 be appropriated from the general expense fund. This was voted down again.

Immediately after Taggart's proposal that the Council send him to Sacramento to lobby for a bill instituting a system of having all real estate transfers recorded with the Assessor before going to the Recorder came up. Councilman Gregory argued that with Hewitt and Gates at Sacramento "our cause" [illegible] cial. The proposition was laid on the table.

NEW LEASE OF LIFE.

CITY PLANS MAY CONTINUE.

The City Planning Committee defended itself before the City Council yesterday so far that it gained a new lease of life and its application for an expense fund went back to the Finance Committee. Dana W. Bartlett discussed the general proposition of its field of usefulness. He quoted examples from other cities where it had been found expedient to have a Planning Commission as well as a Municipal Art Commission. It acts, he says, as a clearing house for the Board of Public Utilities, the Board of Public Works, the Art Commission and all other organizations working toward the building of a practical as well as a beautiful city.

Commissioner Humphreys spoke of the Vermont boulevard proposition as illustrating the necessity of such a committee. It would be necessary for someone, he said, to make a general plan for such improvements long before actual work was begun and keep the way open for construction. He thought it might be possible that Vermont avenue has been so encroached upon that Western avenue or Figueroa street would have to be selected as a boulevard to the sea. It would be up to the City Planning Commission to take up all such questions.

C. F. Edson wanted to know what the city was doing for the people. To question the existence of the City Planning Commission, he said, was like a child asking its parents why it was here. The question was referred back to the Finance Committee which will probably appropriate $100 of the $500 asked for.

TAXICABS GO FREE.

RATE ORDINANCE DROPPED.

There will be no real taxicabs in Los Angeles at present—at least not perforce. The City Council yesterday turned down Councilman Gregory's ordinance providing that all automobiles operated under the name of taxicabs must be equipped with taximeters. Gregory and Stewart alone voted in favor of the ordinance.

Police Commissioner Wellborn appeared as attorney for some of the interested parties. He argued that the ordinance was drawn so as to compel all taxicabs to use a patented monopolized device. Paul Schenck presented the arguments of the taxicab people that they could not make a living under the terms of the proposed ordinance.

Councilman Gregory made a brief plea in defense of his ordinance. He said it was framed after the Chicago ordinance giving more liberal rates to the taxicab people. It proposed to give people the benefit of a fifty-cent rate for a half-mile haul. The vote was six to two against the ordinance.

AQUEDUCT POWER.

MAY COME TO ELECTION.

The recommendation of the Consolidation Commission that the question of whether the aqueduct power should be leased to a power corporation or distributed by the city be referred to a vote of the people at the coming charter election was discussed by the City Council yesterday. Councilman Stewart found fault with the preamble to the resolution and suggested that it be deferred for action.

A majority of the Council have expressed themselves as favorable to obtaining an advisory vote upon the question at the coming special election. There is some question as to the best method of including the election with the charter revision election on March 6. The matter was finally referred to the Committee on Public Welfare.

City Hall Briefs.

Arthur Baker, clerk of the Supply Committee, came within one vote of being made purchasing agent for the city at a salary of $150 yesterday. The Council voted five to three to give him the place and also establish a storeroom, but it required six votes to pass the ordinance.

An ordinance requiring billboard men to pay a license tax of one cent per square foot per year was passed yesterday by the Council.

Councilman Andrews has suggested a compromise on the question of whether lions or bears should be used in decorating the new Buena Vista street bridge. He suggests that Jersey cow would be both novel and ornamental.

The City Engineer has been asked to furnish the City Attorney with a description of lands in San Pedro harbor not included in the tide land suits which it is believed may be secured by the city.

The City Council yesterday, after an all-day session adjourned to meet again this morning at 9 o'clock to complete its business.

THIEVES GET LITTLE.

Three small robberies were reported to the police yesterday. Ed. J. Friedrick, No. 1367 Elysian Park avenue, said that a chain, ring and some coins had been stolen from his home. Grace Williams, No. 444 South Spring street, reported the loss of $5 in cash and a gold locket. W. L. Holman, No. 219½ West Fifth street, told the police an overcoat had been taken from his room.

PURSER ARRAIGNED.

Oliver T. Shannon, purser on one of the Banning boats to Catalina, was arraigned before Justice Summerfield yesterday on four charges of embezzlement. His bail was fixed at $1250 on each charge. Shannon alleges that he is a victim of faulty book-keeping and that if he is short in his accounts it is not through any willful intent.

Superior Court Judge Rules Against Victim, Who Sought to Recover Money That Bank Paid Out to "Tall Man," Upon Instructions of the Investor Himself.

Some humorous testimony was given in Judge Monroe's court yesterday in regard to a betting proposition with two mysterious strangers. They were described in the complaint as "a small and a short man." Plaintiff lost not only the money that he thought he had won, but also $1500 cash that he had on deposit in a bank.

The style of the action is John O. Johnson against the All Night and Day Bank, which Johnson alleged had paid out $1500 without authority, which he had secured from his brother in South Dakota for the purpose of investment in a "sure-thing" enterprise.

Johnson came to Los Angeles in January, 1909, where he met two very affable persons, who made themselves [illegible] and induced him to enter [illegible] put up $1500, and the winnings were to be divided equally.

It was the old story of fraud, but Johnson did not wake up until his money was gone.

Soon after the arrangement was entered into, the two men informed Johnson that they had won $50,000, but gave no particulars as to the track or the horse that carried the money, or even the odds. It was sufficient for Johnson to know that they had won the money.

Then the scheme was unfolded. He was told that he could not get his share of the purse until he could show that he had $1500. Not having the money, he returned to South Dakota, and borrowed from his brother. He brought the cash here and deposited it.

Then Johnson was told, he said, that it would never do to give him the money in Los Angeles, but that it would be necessary for the party to go to San Francisco for the division.

"The short man" went out to take a walk, and soon reported that he had been robbed. His money was gone. Then Johnson was induced to go to Seattle on some pretext, and Dixon, the "tall man," slipped down to this city and drew out the money from the bank.

Teller Green of the bank testified that Johnson had told him to give the money to Dixon. The bank officers had merely carried out these instructions, it was declared. Judge Monroe held that on account of Johnson's associates, he would have to find against him, and believe Green. Judgment was given in favor of the bank.

HUSBAND IS YOUNG.

FAILS TO PROVIDE FOR WIFE.

Chester Rees was in Judge McCormick's court yesterday to make answer to an allegation that he had failed to provide for his wife. It appears that Rees was married two years ago, when he was but 19 years of age. An action against him asking that the marriage be annulled is now pending in Judge Conrey's court. The date of the hearing in the annullment case has not been set, and Rees's matter was put off until Monday, when the date of his trial in Department Five will be known. He pleaded not guilty to the failure to provide charge.

E. R. Gleeson, charged with burglary, pleaded not guilty and the hearing of the case was set for February 24.

Harry Quinn and Harry Nicewonger pleaded guilty to burglary and filed an application for probation. The matter will be heard February 1.

The following informations were filed in Judge McCormick's court: James Moffatt, John Mattingly and Frank Ephriam; robbery; John Ford, grand larceny; James Daley, grand larceny; G. A. Berkowitz, forgery. The accused will plead this morning.

WIFE WINS.

DIVORCE FOR CRUELTY.

In Judge Conrey's court, yesterday, Leyla Lemmon was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce from Ben S. Lemmon, on the ground of extreme cruelty. They were married in St. Charles, Mo., 1907. The wife said that in May, 1908, Lemmon forged her name to a check for $800 on one of the city banks and secured the money on the instrument. She testified as to his drinking habits and his cruel treatment of her. She recited one incident when, in a frenzy of drunkenness, the defendant threatened to open an artery in his arm and commit suicide. On another occasion she said he purchased a package of strychnine and said he would make away with himself, but he did not take the stuff, but administered it to the dog. The animal died in the greatest agony.

Lemmon spent his money on the ponies at Arcadia, declared his wife, and there was testimony involving a waitress at Santa Rosa, with whom Lemmon was intimate, according to the testimony of the wife.

SUIT ON POLICY.

QUESTION ABOUT DEATH.

An interesting quetion involving the liability of an insurance company under an accident policy, is on trial in Department One. The case is Rachel McEwen, who resides on Normandie avenue, against the Occidental Life Insurance Company, for $10,000 alleged to be due on an accident policy. Within three weeks after the policy had been issued by the corporation, McEwen died, and the company refused payment on the ground that he had not died from an accient, but from an attack of rheumatism.

It appeared from the testimony that on February 19, 1910, McEwen, who had been confined to his bed for ten days from an attack of rheumatism, while presumably on his way to the toilet, fell, heavily on the floor. He died the next night. The wife testified that he had a deep cut on the side of his left arm, as a result of the fall, and it was sought to be proven that this injury was the cause of his death.

TANGLED WEB.

INVOLVES MINING SHARES.

Judge Monroe yesterday heard the case brought by Claire E. Beede, of Omaha, to oppose the probate of the will of hr brother, Joseph A. Ellick, who died in the State of Sinaloa, Mex., September 29, 1910. The will, made Etta May Bunner, the sole beneficiary under its provisions.

This woman is the divorced wife of Ellick, and it appeared from the testimony that in October, 1910, he made a settlement on her on account of the divorce action. The divorce was granted in July, 1907, but the will was never destroyed, and the mother, two brothers and two sisters of Ellick, are joining with the sister in the contest.

When Ellick went to Mexico, he deposited the will with the archives of Al Malaikah Temple, of which he was a member, and allowed it to remain there until his death.

DOUBLE DECISION.

INVOLVES TWO MEXICANS.

In the habeas corpus action instituted in behalf of Benito Gallardo and Jose Canales, who are being held on the charge of murder committed in Mexico, Judge McCormick yesterday denied the prayer of the petition in the case of Gallardo, and discharged the prisoner in the case of Canales.

Gallardo is now an inmate of the County Jail under a thirty days' sentence for carrying concealed weapons, and he was remanded to the custody of the sheriff. Canales has been held on suspicion, it being alleged that he confessed to having killed the father of his affinity, somewhere in Mexico. There is some doubt as to the truth of the man's story, which has been supplemented by the fact that the resident Mexican Consul has been unable to verify the narrative.

NEW TRIAL.

DAMAGE ACTION UP AGAIN.

The case of E. B. Osborne against the Los Angeles Pacific Railway, for damages in $15,000, for injuries alleged to have been received in a collision between a Venice car and his auto at the corner of Sixteenth street and New Hampshire avenue, January 1, 1909, began before Judge Houser and a jury yesterday. This is the fourth time the case has been tried.

A jury in Judge Hervey's court gave Osborne a verdict for $4200; one in Judge Bordwell's court awarded $5000; and a third in Judge Conrey's $1500. In each of these cases the judges who heard the evidence gave the defendants a new trial on account of the proven contributory negligence of the plaintiff.

...Because of the enormous increase in business in the postoffice, the Postmaster has sent a request to Washington to have the office inspected with a view of increasing the facilities here.

During last year there was an increase of more than $200,000 in the receipts of the local office. The portion of the new year which has passed gives indications that there will be an even greater increase this year.

During the first fifteen days in this month, the receipts were $11,000 more than they were last year. This leap in the volume of business has been unprecedented.

The authorities at the capital have become accustomed to having the business here jump as it has not been known to grow elsewhere and increases are not as difficult to procure as they are in many of the cities which increase more slowly.

The volume of business at Station D, Twenty-fourth and Hoover streets has become so great that it cannot be handled in one office. To relieve the work in this district, a new office will soon be established on West Adams street between Normandie and Western avenues.

WERE THERE ANY FRACTIONS?

In addition to their other troubles the passengers on a snow-bound train in Nevada had to distribute eighteen hard-boiled eggs among twenty passengers. How did they do it? Must have been a shell game that was aboard.

GOVERNORS IN POLITICS.

Gov. Dix advised the New York Democrats in regard to the United States Senatorship, and in Ohio Governor Harmon exercised all of the power of his administration in favor of Atlee Pomerene, the successful candidate before the Democratic caucus. If a Republican Governor should do that how the united Democratic press would howl, and, like, how reformers Lissner and Johnson would roar against bossism!

AN UNNECESSARY NOISE.

A man who ran for an office last November has written for a magazine an article entitled "How I Fought and Did Not Win." The article covers seven pages and is not illustrated with either photographs or original drawings.

We beg pardon for making a seemingly brutal remark, but it is our honest opinion that the gentleman is making an unnecessary noise. The human race, as at present constituted, has no desire whatever to hear from the man who loses, even though the man be a no less eminent person than Jim Jeffries himself.

DETAILS LACKING.

A dispatch from Teheran makes the following announcement: "Eight hundred Cossacks with a Maxim gun have left Teheran for Shiraz."

We are at a loss whether to congratulate the Cossacks or to commiserate with her. If the Cossacks are merely off on an outing and for the purpose of dancing with the pretty girls of Shiraz, we offer the city our most fervent felicitations, hoping that everybody will have a good time and not think of going home till morning.

But if, on the other hand, the troops are under orders to let the Maxim off when they get in view of Shiraz, the result expected being the walloping of the town and the inhabitants to a frazzle, we are sorry.

THE WISE GERMANS.

The completion of the German census shows that 78 per cent. of the people of that great country live in rural places. The cities of Germany have increased in population, but the bulk of the people still prefer to remain in the fields.

The incident brings to mind the difference between Germans and Americans. In this country everybody seems to have a craze to live in a city. The race in America is for big cities and not for big and widespread agricultural communities.

Without at all attempting to discuss the wisdom or the unwisdom of the course which our people are pursuing, we do not hesitate to say that the man who spends his life in the open country has the best of it in the long run from every conceivable point of view.

THE TIMID ONES.

Unless those legislators from San Francisco who violated their pledges by voting for Works shall go back on their barren and throw off on Tvietmoe, Gallagher and McCarthy, by aiding in the passage of a law to make industrial freedom the governing rule at the Panama Exposition, there is danger that Congress will give the great fair to New Orleans.

There are timid and irresolute men, both in the Legislature and out of it, who are afraid of disobliging the San Francisco labor leaders, afraid of being abused in the labor shop newspapers, afraid of the boycott, afraid of everything, and afraid of being known to be afraid of anything. If men such as these shall continue to be in control at Sacramento we may lose the fair altogether.

PRAY FOR LIGHT.

Fred Light, a Colorado cattleman, not having the fear of Pinchot in his heart, allowed his cattle to "trespass" on the Holy Cross forest reserve in that State. Notwithstanding the danger that his devastating cows and disorderly bulls would eat up the trees, Mr. Light declined to drive them out of the forest reservation. The United States thereupon went after Light and enjoined him from allowing his cattle to wander within the sacred precincts of the Holy Cross forest reserve. Light declined to be extinguished, and has appealed to the Supreme Court of the United States to declare unconstitutional the creation of the forest reservations of the West. The western pioneers will resemble Ajax of old. Their prayer will be for Light.

CREEDS COME CLOSER.

As an indication of the tendency of church and creed to draw closer together it is inspiring to notice that the central thought in the World's Missionary Convention held in Edinburgh last June was the promotion of unity among sects in missionary work. A returned Los Angeles delegate in her report to her church the other day makes mention of the significant fact that the only one defending denominational lines—the Bishop of Suffolk—made his views with preliminary apologies, the consensus of opinion being in favor of unity, and a committee of thirty-five was appointed to bring about this result. The more fact that Sir Andrew Frazer, a man who is an authority in his knowledge of conditions on foreign fields, stated that it is admitted that, if these denominational barriers could be thrown down, it would be equal to doubling the missionary force in foreign fields, should carry conviction with it.

AN INFAMOUS SCHEME.

There is now before the Committee on Constitutional Amendments in the Legislature an amendment to Section 22, by which it is proposed to take away from all freeholder cities all power to control or regulate charges of water, of power, of light, and of railroad corporations, whether private corporations, or the city or county itself, and vest such power in a State Board of Public Utilities to be appointed by the Governor of the State.

If the Goo-Goo-Lissnerski-Works-Gubernatorial coalition shall succeed in putting this measure through the Legislature and it should subsequently be indorsed by the people at the polls, it will wrest from Los Angeles all control, and practically all ownership of the Owens River enterprise, which will have cost our taxpayers so many millions of dollars.

No more infamous project to deprive the people of freeholder cities of the right of self-government, and to turn hundreds of millions of public and private property over to the control and possibly to the pillage of a few men selected by the Governor, was ever devised. But even if a combination of legislative grafters shall succeed in putting this infamous measure through the Legislature it will, we predict, be rejected by the people, and those who promoted it will be visited with a storm of popular indignation that will forever exile them from public life.

WITH THE LAMB INSIDE.

In politics the lion and the lamb have occasionally lain down together in peace, but the lamb was always inside the lion. This was illustrated recently by the election returns in the Eastern States, where the frisky insurgent Republican lamb went down the throat of the Democratic lion con amore. Not that the Democrats polled any more votes than before, but enough disgusted stalwart Republicans stayed away from the polls to give the victory to their old-time foes.

In California a different result obtained. The regular Republicans voted for three candidates for Governor at the primary election, while the insurgent Republicans had but one candidate. The result was the choice of Johnson by a minority Republican vote. If any considerable number of regulars had stayed away from the polls at the general election as they did in the East, the result would have been the election of Bell and the entire Democratic ticket. But regular Republicans in California are not welchers or stay-at-homes, and in spite of the insults heaped upon them, and their exclusion from committees by the Lissnerski gang, and in spite of the fact that in Los Angeles the insurgent Republican leaders and journals openly attempted to defeat the one prominent regular Republican who had won the nomination for a county office at the primaries, the old guard stood loyally by the insurgent ticket and elected it.

If any number of California Republicans had adopted the same course as their brethren in the East, Bell would have been Governor, and a Democrat instead of a near-Democrat would have been chosen Senator.

As it is the insurgent Republican lamb, instead of furnishing a meal for the Democratic lion, is frisking about at Sacramento and jerking his little tail, and bleating to beat the band. But, in the end, he will go down the lion's throat all the same. His shepherd is even now preparing him for that fate, for the shepherd in question is proclaiming from Dan to Beersheba, that is to say, from Sacramento to Los Angeles, that he owes no special allegiance to the Republican party, that he will be just as much a Democratic Senator as a Republican Senator and that he looks for a new party to consist of progressive Democrats and progressive Republicans to grow out of existing conditions.

If the prediction of one combination Senator shall prove to be a prophecy—if the Democratic lion and the insurgent Republican lamb shall really lie down together, we may expect that the lamb will be inside the lion, as usual, and that the piece de resistance of the leonine dinner will be the Senator who makes the prediction.

TALKING SHOP.

Two lunatics met in the corridors of an asylum. The man who thought he was Napoleon said to the man who thought he was God, "How do you reconcile foreordination with free moral agency?" "Sir," replied the other loftily, "I never talk shop."

With this introduction we may be pardoned if we take a flying leap into our present subject, the same being the writer of editorials. An editor is something different. His principal occupation is to see that things are not printed. The test of a good editor lies in what he leaves out. The art of knowing what not to print is one requiring a lifetime of apprenticeship. The irrelevant truth and the tactless truth alike are to be shunned. The one thing to be considered is the need of the hour and this remark brings us once more to our subject.

The newspaper's standard of value is an article's present worth, and the whole world's appreciation of things might well share this base. For absolute satisfaction in life the one reliable system is that which deals with the essential. Editorial experience leads us to reflect with regret that editorial writers do not always observe this rule. For instance, a sad majority of them have the baneful habit of cheerfully taking tremendous and frequent falls out of the modern man by persistent allusions to the superiority of the ancient Greeks. It would seem that the sole object of the Homeric age was to provide examples of pessimism for the lofty modern idealist who rises in scorn to ask, "Is the human race advancing?" and then without waiting for Hashimura Togo or Theodore Roosevelt to reply, he, in sepulchral editorial voice, answers himself by decrying a nation and an age wherein an Apollo and a Hercules are not the worshipful members of every household. Personally, we have always feared ourselves to be short of ideal grace inasmuch as we could never bring ourselves to regret the elimination of Ajax and Achilles from the arena of modern warfare, nor have we ever gone about mooning over Helen of Troy. We live in the age of the modern suffragette, and if we were in England, which thank God we are not, we would even be face to face with that most harrowing of all dilemmas, the militant suffragette. Besides, we may be pardoned a slight suspicion that even in the golden days not every man of Greece was an Apollo any more than every Roman was a Caesar or every Hebrew a Moses.

However that is not our present quarrel. We have no objections to the Greeks having been a great people. We do not care how many Greek boys were constant readers of "Physical Culture." It is not our concern that Greek ladies followed every rule laid down in "Hints on Beauty by One of the Beautifuls." We are not even moved by the fact that Pythagoras, Aristotle, Plato and Socrates were collaborate editors of "The Care of the Body," nor that the Greeks' creed consisted of the one clause, "I believe that as a man eateth, so is he." No, we would pluck not a single laurel from the Grecian brow. We merely beg to suggest that a monthly periodical, or even a daily journal, should not be excluded from the United States mails because some one number may fail to include an article concerning the perfections of the Greeks.

Apropos of what we have said touching the militant suffragette, we may be pardoned if we anticipate the rising of some precious literary jumping Jack, whose springs have been touched by our ungallant remark, asseverating with tragic emphasis that his mother was a woman. We presume that he will not make this statement with the intention of promulgating a new scientific theory, since it is generally acknowledged that up to the hour of this issue the process of incubation has not been applied with general satisfaction to the propagation of the genus homo. We assume instead that he wishes to make the one statement which cannot be denied.

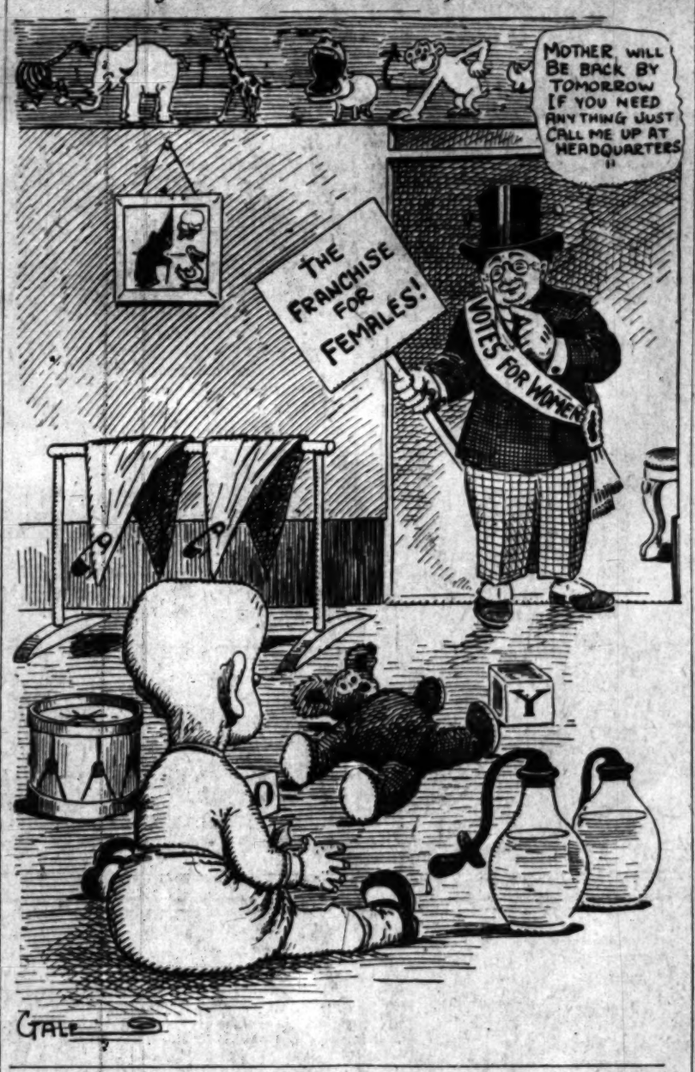
A nervous editor last spring declined an opportunity to attend the commencement of a young ladies' seminary because experience in that line had already acquainted him with the precious facts that every cloud has a silver lining, that it is always darkest just before the dawn and that beyond the snowy Alps lies sunny Italy. Eternal truths never grow old and it is legitimate to present living principles in any terms which will make them understood, but the average reader is willing enough to admit that the ancient Greeks had class, that the meat trust is not a benevolent protective association, that their mothers were women and that in the course of human events every man must meet his Waterloo. Assuredly the willingness of the public to concede all these facts does not invest the editorial writer with authority to "rub it in."

THEORY AND PRACTICE.

Theoretically there is much to admire in the positive doctrines of the Christian Science Church. Very noticeable, indeed, is the thorough way in which many thoughtful and earnest people are attempting to put these theories into practice. Not so noticeable, however, is their ability to do so. The belief that mind is omnipotent and matter ephemeral, that mind is the only created reality and thoughts are actual things is a very old metaphysical contention which no more originated with Mrs. Eddy than did the force of gravity. Socrates' famous school antedated Mrs. Eddy's by over two thousand years. The crux of his teaching was this: There is no virtue but knowledge and no sin but ignorance. The tenets of the Scientist Church, boiled down to the original marrow bone, might be summed up in the old adage, there is nothing good or bad but thinking makes it so. Wherein Mrs. Eddy and Mr. Socrates differ not a particle. In fact nearly all the modern cultists and new thought schools are merely rehashes of the old philosophies of Hellas, and like most spurious work, often spoiled in the refashioning. The followers of Mrs. Eddy have been sincere in their creeds wherefor their church has survived the rough handling of unsympathetic critics, but those creeds must produce practical fruit if the church is to be set on an unshakable foundation.

Now the very heads and elders of the church—a church designed to banish sickness under the invincible power of thought—are confessing their inability to prevent the sickness of jealousy and avarice from attacking the holy body of the church itself. Taese elders and Mrs. Stetson, the chosen disciple, and the legal heirs of Mrs. Baker Eddy are fighting over her material estate and the worldly control of her rich institution, just as though each of them were only an ordinary you or I or somebody else still afflicted with the imaginary ills of mortal life. Now money is matter and matter is error, and how can a Christian Scientist become properly developed in higher thought planes while his teachers are fighting for the possession of two and a half million dollars worth of "error?" Will not the harsh jangle and clash of this earthly struggle jar the eternal harmonies whose vibrations are to banish pain and sickness? Are not the elders of the church playing into the hands of the unillumined medical fraternity whose misdirected efforts in the past century have banished plague and cholera, have controlled smallpox and yellow fever and reduced the mortality rate in all civilized countries by 100 per cent? Mind should control matter, yet to the old question, "What's the matter?" we still hear the old answer, "Never mind!"

The Self-Made Man of the Future.



WHERE OUR MONEY IS.

On June 30, 1910, according to the Comptroller of the Currency, our money on deposit in our 23,905 banks amounted to $15,283,400,000, an increase over June 30, 1909, of $1,248,000,000. Some of us must have earned good wages, or made good profits, or economized during the year, or that enormous increase in our bank deposits in only one year would not have occurred.

In 15,950 State, etc., banks ...	$9,996,200,000
In 7145 National banks	5,287,200,000
Total deposits in 23,905 banks	$15,283,400,000

In addition to the use of our money, as above, the banks had $1,830,000,000 paid up capital, on the date named, as well as $1,952,600,000 of surplus and undivided profits, or in all, practically $3,832,600,000 of working capital.

On June 30, 1910, the total resources of the 23,905 banks amounted to $22,450,300,000 and included:

Loans and discounts	$12,521,800,000
Bonds and securities	4,723,400,000
Cash	1,423,000,000

The loans and discounts increased by $1,148,600,000 during the year, and the bonds and other securities gained $109,000,000. The cash decreased by $28,200,000.

AN OREGON EDITOR AND HIS VIEWS.

J. S. Dellinger, manager of the Morning Astoria and a keen student of Oregon politics, arrived in Los Angeles Monday from an extended trip through the East and Middle West. Everywhere he went, he said, he found men discussing the changes in the Constitution of his State and the adoption of the initiative and referendum. They asked him many questions as to the probable effect these radical changes will have on Oregon, and Mr. Dellinger was forced to reply that no man seeth the end thereof.

"In Arizona," he said, "they are gravely concerned over the movement which struck Oregon and is tainting California. I found men who believe, as many do in Oregon, that the country is not ready for the radical legislation that has been enacted. Many Arizonans are afraid of their proposed Constitution.

"Some of the amendments to the Oregon Constitution are in a badly muddled shape. One amendment in particular is going to prove expensive, and that relates to sending delegates to the national conventions. Under this amendment they will be elected at a special election to be held before the national conventions, and as there are four parties entitled to representation there will be four delegates from Oregon to the different national conventions who will go there at the expense of the State. In other words, the State will be put to an expense of $50,000 for the privilege of being represented, whereas in the past the delegates we selected from the brightest, most representative men paid their mileage and hotel bills.

"The credit for this change is laid at the door of Senator Bourne, who was defeated two years ago, and it would seem that it was enacted in order that he may control the delegates.

"The election of Chamberlain, a Democrat, by a Republican Legislature has caused the people to realize, I think, just what we are up against. It is in line with the measures passed on the salmon question, which thought that salmon should not be caught in the upper reaches of the Columbia River and had a bill passed to that effect. A bill was also introduced by the men of the upper district and passed, prohibiting salmon fishing in the lower Columbia. Having muddled the whole matter, the Legislature kicked out both bills and enacted a compromise.

"Now I am not prepared to say that there is under this upheaval a Socialistic movement, but it bears the earmarks. I do say, however, that I do not believe that the people understood the amendments when they voted for them. When printed for distribution among the voters they occupied 150 pages of a pamphlet and not one man probably in 100 read them thoroughly. We voted first on four amendments. This time there were thirty-two and one of these referred to the taxes which is getting pretty close to the single tax theory; in fact, I regard it as an opening wedge.

"Since returning to the Coast I have noticed that bond buyers are becoming leery of Oregon securities. They regard the passage of these laws as a dangerous experiment; that is, we are unstable; ours are not ordinary laws, but amendments to the Constitution. Really we have no Constitution because it can be changed every two years.

"I do not believe this tinkering is a good thing. It is not going to pan out well in the end. I do not believe the measures are valuable to the State. It is Switzerland's scheme applicable, perhaps, to a small community."

Mr. Dellinger, having felt the pulse of the country, is prepared to tell his people just how the Constitution tinkering, the initiative and referendum are regarded by outsiders. He is particularly disturbed by the attitude of the bond buyers.

The "reform" revolution, helped along by the people who did not take the time to wade through 150 pages of printed matter and thoroughly familiarize themselves with the various amendments, swept over Oregon throwing into the Constitution a lot of junk which students like Dellinger and other leading Oregon men believe will seriously retard the progress of the State.

STOPPING BULLETS.

In the Wiertz gallery in Brussels is a wonderful painting, dating from the time of Waterloo, called Napoleon in Hell. It represents the great marshal with folded arms and face unmoved descending slowly to the land of the shades. Before him, filling all the background of the picture with every expression of countenance, are the men sent before him by the unbridled ambition of Napoleon. Three millions and seventy thousand there were in all—so history tells us—more than half of them Frenchmen. They are not all shown in one picture. They are only hinted at. And behind the millions shown or hinted at are the millions on millions of men who might have been and are not—the huge widening human wedge of the possible descendants of the men who fell in battle. These men of Napoleon's armies were the youth without blemish, "the best that the nation could bring," chosen as "food for powder," "ere evening to be trampled like grass," in the rush of Napoleon's great battles. These men came from the plow, from the workshop, from the school, the best there were—those from eighteen to thirty-five years of age at first, but afterwards the older and the younger. "A boy will stop a bullet as well as a man"; this maxim is accredited to Napoleon. "The more vigorous and well born a young man is," says Novicow, "the more normally constituted, the greater his chance to be slain by musket or magazine, the rifled cannon and other similar engines of civilization." Among those destroyed by Napoleon were "the elite of Europe." "Napoleon," said Otto Seeck, "in a series of years seized all the young of high stature and left them scattered over many battlefields, so that the French people who followed them are mostly men of smaller stature. More than once in France since Napoleon's time has the military limit been lowered.—[David Starr Jordan, in Popular Science Monthly.

Whose Philosophy?

It is after the party and quite late. Jane and Mary are sitting by the fire brushing their hair.

Jane: "Do you remember that this is the first year of the second decade of the century, Mary?"

Mary: "Granted. What of it?"

Jane: "You started out with high matrimonial hopes, Mary. Where are they now?"

Mary: "Where, indeed?" She softly sighs. "If I had married Johnnie Arbuckle I would have become the wife of a defaulter and vagabond."

Jane: "But he never asked you?"

Mary: "True. And that's the reason I didn't marry him."

Jane: "And knowing his true character would you have married him?"

Mary: "Of course."

Jane: "Fate orders these things better than we could, Mary."

Mary: "An old maid's philosophy, Jane."

Jane: "Then it's our philosophy, Mary."

And they brush their hair in silence.

Agreed With Father.

"I never enjoyed your chance for an education," said the reproachful father.

"Well," replied the flippant youth, "when it comes to that I don't believe I enjoy it myself."—[Washington Star.

Something Wrong.

The school teacher was trying to illustrate the difference between plants and animals.

"Plants," she explained, "are not susceptible of attachment to man as animals are."

"How about burrs, teacher?" piped a small boy who had passed the summer in the country.—[Chicago News.

Stupidity of Man.

"Charley, dear," said young Mrs. Torkins, "the paper says that the prohibitionists have trouble with bootleggers."

"I believe so."

"Men are so stupid! Why don't they put a stop to it by compelling everybody to wear low shoes?"—[Washington Star.

The Professor Floored.

And the demure young daughter of the house looked up at him and said:

"Professor, I want to ask you just one little question."

"As many as you like," affably responded the great man.

"I want to ask," said the sweet girl, "why cold sores and mistletoe come in the same season?"

And the eminent authority promptly admitted he didn't know.—[Philadelphia Record.

and her desire to get ultimate force in her biggest moments.

But these faults, when placed against the superbly even body of the contralto's glorious singing, are to her artistic virtues as a speck of cloud on the horizon is to a whole cerulean heaven.

I cannot close without reference to the other artist who appeared on the programme—Gertrude Ross, accompanist. If all visiting artists had such accompanists there would be more emotion among the listeners and less—of another sort—in the breast of the singer.

The programme: the Gounod "Les Stances de Sappho;" "Mon Coeur s'ouvre a ta voix," from "Samson et Dalila;" "Ich Grolle Nicht," Schumann Schubert's "Der Erlkonig;" Parelli's "Addio," written for Mme. Gerville-Reache; Aria de la Cieca, "La Gioconda," Ponchielli; "Stride la Vampa," "Il Trovatore;" "Hindu Slumber Song," H. Ware; "Loves Trinty," Reginald De Koven; Air de Lia, "L'Enfant Prodigue," Debussy; "L'anneau d'argent," Chaminade; "Chanson Slave," Chaminade, "Plaisirs d'amour," Martini; "D'une Prison," Reynaldo Hahn.

Mme. Gerville-Reache and her husband, Dr. George G. Rambaud, will leave for the North and East this morning, after a pleasant week in Los Angeles.

The Tetrazzini sale yesterday exceeded $7000, a little over $2000 of which was in mail orders, filled after the closing of the box office.

The line, which at the opening of the sale extended from the Bartlett music house down Broadway and up Third street, was unbroken until the close of the window, at night.

For the reassurance of those who intend to but have not yet purchased seats, it may be said that plenty of seats remain, especially in the higher-priced locations.

"It means a lot—that name Frohman," said John Kearney yesterday. "Merely to be a Frohman player is greater than being another manager's star."

Kearney is at present comedian of "The Dollar Princess," at the Mason, a show which is featured without stellar luminaries.

Mr. Kearney has been a star, however. Yesterday, in a manner of speech, he was star of "The Girl Question," day before yesterday star of "A Texas Steer," and other Hoyt farces, and somewhat recently Alonzo Kidder in "The Mayor of Tokio."

After twelve years of having his name in big type Kearney has sacri-

Widney-Brewer Wedding.

At St. James's Methodist Episcopal Church last evening occurred the wedding of Miss Katherine Bell Widney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Widney of West Jefferson street, to Shirley Edminson Brewer of Chicago. Rev. George W. Coultas officiated. Quantities of white flowers and greenery were utilized in decorating the church. At the home, where a reception to about 100 guests followed, poinsettias were effective. The bride wore a gown of heavy white lace over white satin. Her veil, which is an heirloom in the groom's family, fell to the hem of the dress. She carried Cecil Brunner roses. Mrs. Sidney N. Reeve, sister of the bride, was matron. She was attired in coral-colored marquisette over white satin, trimmed with appliqué and lace, and carried coral-colored carnations. Mrs. Herbert Howard and Miss Alice Cullen, in pink messaline, with arm bouquets of pink carnations, also attended the bride. Little Elizabeth Pauly, daughter of Mr and Mrs. Paul Pauly, in a frock of white organdie over pink silk, scattered Cecil Brunner roses before the bride and groom. Sidney N. Reeve was best man. The ushers' duties were performed by Herbert Howard, Frank Pratt, Irwin Widney and Howard Bullen. Mr. and Mrs. Brewer will make their home in Chicago.

For Unfortunates.

LUNATICS NEED SPECIAL PLACE.

JUDGE ADVOCATES ERECTION OF BUILDING FOR INSANE.

Declares Present System of Hauling Patients to and from County Hospital Is Humiliating and Tends to Arouse Mentally Ill—Proposal Is Referred to Supervisors.

The county may erect a building in the vicinity of the Courthouse for the express purpose of housing the insane. The Supervisors were yesterday aroused to a realization of the necessity of such a structure by a letter from Judge Bordwell.

After a single session of the Lunacy Board, the court realized that the condition of the patients was greatly aggravated by the excitement attendant upon dragging them about before crowds of persons. He immediately gave orders that the Lunacy Commission should conduct its examinations in the basement of the Hall of Justice, to which the insane persons could be taken from an alley.

The judge declares that the conveniences for these unfortunate persons are not sufficient. He desires to do away with the disgraceful spectacle of hauling them to and from the County Hospital. In his letter to the Supervisors, he advocates the plan of having a ward close to the Hall of Justice in order that it may be convenient for the commission to visit and for the purpose of segregating this class of patients from those who are merely suffering with physical ailments. The judge declared that he was not familiar enough with architecture to know whether noise-proof walls could be constructed so that such an institution might not be a nuisance to its surroundings.

Supervisor McCabe, who has just retired from the chairmanship of the County Hospital Committee, agreed that there is need of having separate institutions for the sick persons and the insane. The matter of ascertaining the feasibility of the plan suggested by Judge Bordwell was referred to Chairman Pridham, who is now at the head of the Hospital Committee. He will report to the board in a short time as to what procedure they can safely take.

SMOTHERS TO DEATH.

Lillian Cox, the one-month-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cox, living at No. 1402 East Eighth street, was smothered to death early yesterday morning while sleeping face downward in its little bed. It was not discovered that the child had died until the parents arose. No inquest will be held.

POLICEMAN RECOVERING.

Patrolman Percy Held, who was shot on the night of the 9th inst., while attempting to place Frank Buckman, a former burglar, under arrest, is recovering rapidly in the California Hospital. It is expected that he will be in a condition to be moved to his home within a few days.

DAILY BEAUTY HINT: Quite as important as well-shaped, arched eyebrows are thick, long lashes. Proper care has much to do with the prominence and beauty of these as well as of the former. It is more delicate task to care for the lashes than for the brows, as there are few lotions or applications of any kind which are absolutely harmless. There are, however, salves and medicinal washes which improve the lashes without injury.

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

Pasadena.

BUSY SESSION OF THE COUNCIL.

Cows and Coasters Were the Chief Themes.

Friends of the Cow Were Eloquent, But Failed.

Business Men of Big Caliber Wanted for Mayor.

(Office of The Times, N. S. Raymond Avenue.)

PASADENA, Jan. 18.—Cows and coasters kept the city's lawmakers guessing for several hours yesterday morning. In a large measure the legislators were "between the devil and the deep sea" because there were influential citizens on all four sides of the knotty questions. The first inning was taken up entirely discussing cows. The second inning was devoted exclusively to coasters, roller skates, baby carriages, invalid chairs and various other forms of moving vehicles. The third touchdown was again made over the cows. In the fourth period J. W. Chick entertained the gallery with an oration condemning coasters "and sich," and the game came to an abrupt close with "cow talk."

The Council convened at the usual time and City Clerk Dyer spent some time reading over the record of the former meeting. Apprehending that the grand stand and bleachers would be crowded to listen to the findings of the Council regarding the keeping of cows in the Crown City, the threadbare cow ordinance came up for an amendment, first thing. As a matter of fact, it is not a "cow ordinance" at all, but simply an amendment to the nuisance ordinance, but the "new way" of consolidating and revamping the Crown City's laws is to have everything which has any resemblance collected and collaborated into one law with a highly significant name. Thus anything relating to cows, horses, chickens or anything like that comes under the "Nuisance Ordinance." As a matter of fact all live stock is a nuisance when not needed, or in other words, when the other fellow owns said live stock it is a nuisance to the highly sentitive person who does not own any.

A week ago the "cow amendment" to the ordinance passed first reading providing that no cow can be kept within 50 feet of any dwelling house occupied by any one not owning a cow. Immediately the cow owners and their friends circulated petitions about town. Over 100 people signed the lists which gave Mayor Earley and several of the councilmen a light touch of heart failure. In order to compromise it was decided, at the Mayor's caucus, to give and take from both factions and make the distance fifty feet, for one cow, 100 feet for two cows, and 250 feet for three or more cows. It was expected this would satisfy Harley Newell and the owners of St. Francis Court. When the proposition was read in open Council meeting it carried with Merserereau and Scoot opposing.

But the ruse didn't work because both sides objected. The owners of St. Francis Court declared that "it must be 100 feet or nothing," and Newell protested that fifty feet is as bad as 100 feet. Attorney Rossiter, who represented the cow people, said that petitions would probably be circulated protesting against the fifty feet regulation. Then the warring factions went out—one at a time, leaving Thompson of South Mentor avenue to wind up the affair with a graphic description of how the Mennonites in Manitoba keep their cows under the same roof with themselves.

"I think we will not contest this matter further," said Newell after the meeting. "It seems that the members of this Council want to pass a cow ordinance. In a couple of months they will be out of office and we might as well let them have their way. Then we will take it up and demand a vote of the people and see who will win. This Council will never sleep well until it has passed a cow ordinance."

ORDINANCE PUNCTURED.

Then came the "puncture" in the famous Traffic Ordinance, which provides that small children may ride on scooters, skate on roller skates, ride on tricycles or any other vehicle of infantile joy on the sidewalks of the city, "where there are not a large number of pedestrians." Also that baby buggies and invalid chairs will be permitted on the sidewalks and that there will be no speed limit, in any case. It took City Attorney Carr and his assistant several weeks to draft the ordinance and it was thought to be "bomb proof" but, in less than a month after its final passage, sunlight shines through it in many places. The amendment was read and voted without argument and the entire council voted for it excepting Merserereau, who favors eliminating vehicles of every kind and description from the sidewalk.

James W. Chick of No. 460 South Madison avenue, came all the way to the City Hall to see about the proposed amendment, but he was dreaming when it came up and it was read and passed. Along toward the close of the meeting he asked about it. When told that he was too late, he asked to be heard.

"It specifies that coasters of four feet in length can be used by boys on the sidewalks," he said. "That is foolish. You cannot tell when a puppy a puppy or dog sometimes and you cannot tell whether a coaster is four feet long unless you measure it. Down in my neighborhood we have five old women who are now past 75 years of age and these coasters nearly worry them to death. They have nearly bothered the police crazy, and the Chief of Police, here sitting by my side, knows that those boys use bad language which we don't want our women to hear and he cannot stop it. We have so much wrangling here in our town. Casarly worries us to death when we are at home and when we go away when home our friends annoy us by asking about the foolish things we do here in Pasadena. Those boys down the way go down the street like a streak of greased lightning and our old women don't wear bobbie skirts, but sometimes they cannot get out of the way."

A BIG MAN WANTED.

"We want a big man for Mayor," said a prominent real estate and financial man yesterday afternoon. "I am strictly in favor of the convention plan for the nomination of such a man. It is the only way. Things are different here in Pasadena. We have been drifting along here for several years, but the city is now large enough so that it is doing something. We have situation and carry out several important measures which are very badly needed. I do not know who such a man is, or I would mention his name, but if we could have a great big convention where nothing would be 'fixed' and every one could simply talk and express his mind, I believe we could get the very man we need.

"I have been here for many years," he continued. "I have always been mixed up in politics, but now I think we have reached a time when politics should be cast aside and we should select a man who can smooth things out and get our town running along without all of these small petty wrangglings. We need a street commissioner here instead of a street superintendent. He should be elected by the people and should be responsible to them for his acts."

The convention plan is being talked very favorably on all sides and many of the old-time leaders have declared for it.

GOING AFTER BRIDGE.

William F. Knight, chairman of the Board of Trade Bridge Committee, states that he will begin another campaign at once to get the Arroyo Seco bridge at the foot of West Colorado street built. He declares that the excuse given by the County Supervisors that they have no available funds will not hold water, because if the work is started as soon as possible it would not be far enough along to call for money until after the next budget is passed. It will take several months how to get the thing in shape for construction work. The first step, according to Knight, is to get the Supervisors to agree to stand half of the expense. The next step will be to get the plans approved. The first step will be to call a bond election in Pasadena to see if the people are willing to bond the city for their share of the cost. In all he figures that actual work could not possibly be started for three to four months.

TAKE REMAINS EAST.

The remains of Walter Graham Miller, the wealthy Pittsburgh iron manufacturer, who dropped dead on East Colorado street night before last, were taken back to Pittsburgh for burial yesterday, by the widow and her mother. W. P. Philipps of Pittsburgh, who is spending the winter in Pasadena, stated yesterday that he was a life-long friend of the dead man and that Miller was a partner in both the Jones and Loughlin Steel Company and the American Iron and Steel Works. Miller had been in bad health for some time, suffering from a growth about the heart. He had suffered four sinking spells previous to the fatal one and it was hoped that the mild climate of Southern California would benefit his health.

BRILLIANT EVENT.

One of the most brilliant functions of the winter was the reception and dance given yesterday evening at the Valley Hunt Club by Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Churchill Clarke of Altadena in celebration of the anniversary of their wedding day and for the purpose of introducing into society formally their young cousin, Miss Elizabeth Childs, daughter of Mrs. Helena Childs of South Marengo avenue.

Bay trees and tall palms were used in profusion in the reception hall as decoration and a touch of color was given by daffodils and acacia. In the dining-room an original motif was used in table decoration in the form of a sweet pea hedge which fenced in the circular board and from the chandelier above fell a sweet pea shower shading in rose color the subdued light.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarke received in the hall with the young debutante. Mrs. Clarke's gown was pale yellow crepe meteor veiled in silver net and Miss Childs wore a girlish frock of white satin veiled in white embroidered in silver. Assisting in entertaining were Mrs. Childs, gowned in ivory white satin, Mrs. W. J. Ruddick of Los Angeles, mother of Mrs. Clarke, and Miss Ciplo of San Francisco.

Arend's orchestra furnished music for dancing and during an intermission an elaborate supper was served. Invitations were extended to two hundred guests, most of whom were present.

NEWS NOTES.

W. T. Clapp of Huntington Terrace yesterday afternoon celebrated his ninetieth birthday by holding a large reception, which was attended by members of the Pioneer Society and nearly all of the old timers in the city. He was one among the first settlers in Pasadena, having come here within a year after the first settlement was made. He has written many stories regarding the early history of Southern California.

J. F. Malkin of Vancouver, B. C., arrived in the city yesterday and joined his wife, who is stopping at the Hotel Vista del Arroyo. They have taken a bungalow and will spend the winter here. Mr. Malkin is a leading wholesale groceryman of Western Canada.

C. L. Harrison, a well-known horseman and breeder of New York City, is spending the winter at the Hotel Maryland. He is the owner of several noted racers.

Walnut street, from Lake avenue to Fair Oaks avenue, will not be paved for the present. A protest was received by the Council yesterday morning, signed by a majority of the property owners. The street is in bad condition and several attempts have been made to have it paved.

Arrivals at the Green: Levi Wells of Washington, D. C.; E. Tittenhaus Miller, Philadelphia; F. A. Dwight and Miss Antionette Dwight, New York City.

An ordinance was adopted by the Council yesterday morning providing for ornamental lamp posts for Orange Grove avenue when it is rebuilt. The posts will be erected at each crossing and every 100 feet between street crossings. All electric light wires and telephone wires will be run through an underground conduit. Work on the improvement will begin in a short time.

VENICE, Jan. 17.—The Southern Pacific's Los Angeles Pacific trolley line has commenced the work of removing the poles occupying the center space between the tracks over the division of the railway extending from Venice to Ivy Station. Twelve hundred poles will be placed at either side of the track and hereafter the trolley wires carrying the current will be suspended by the sides rather than from brackets made fast to center poles. This improvement is started at this time in anticipation of a heavy summer traffic

Jealousy.

MAN SLAIN ON OWN DOORSTEP.

Killed by Friend Who Thought Was Burglar.

Suspected Guest of Intimacy With His Wife.

Victim Wearing Mask Was Trying to Detect Couple.

LONG BEACH, Jan. 17.—Goaded by his jealous fears that his wife and the man whom he had befriended were too intimate, John Bowers, a photographer, yesterday attempted to spy upon them and as a consequence was killed this morning on his own front porch at the hands of Richard Ward, the friend, who mistook him for a burglar.

The tragedy occurred at 3 o'clock this morning at the Bowers home, a pretty bungalow on the bluff, between Esperanza and Falcon street. Death was instantaneous and the only witness is the slayer, Richard Ward. His story, told immediately after the shooting, is corroborated by Mrs. Bowers and substantiated in the main by previous occurrences.

The Bowers's and Ward were old friends in Yorkshire, Eng., and when the former went to South Africa and then to this country, Ward continued in correspondence, and when he also came to this country he sought Bowers, who operated a postcard photo gallery in Los Angeles. Ward having no position and being short of money, Bowers invited him to make his home with them in Long Beach until he got a job. This was ten weeks ago and Ward has continued to reside there.

Mrs. Bowers says that her husband was intensely jealous of her, although he refrained from any expression of it. Yesterday he packed his grip and said he was going away for a trip and would be absent three days. But this was evidently a blind to throw the couple he suspected off their guard. Last night Mrs. Bowers attended the meeting of the Order of the Eastern Star, and it was midnight before the lodge adjourned. Postmaster Hirsch insisted that Mrs. Bowers should leave her money and jewelry with him. This rather frightened Mrs. Bowers and she telephoned young Ward to come and meet her, which he did. They walked home together, and as they crossed Descanso avenue, near the house, a man ran out of the yard and went north. Ward took her to the door of the home and then ran after the intruder, but failed to overtake him. Ward came back and went to his room at the front of the house and Mrs. Bowers retired to her own apartments, near those of her husband's brother in the northwest corner of the house.

About three o'clock Ward was aroused by a noise on the porch and seizing a thirty-two-calibre revolver, he opened his door and stepped out on the porch, confronting a man who wore a black cloth across the lower part of his face and a green hat. Ward demanded to know his business, when the intruder threw forward his hand, and thinking he was going to shoot, Ward fired, the bullet striking the fellow in the center of the forehead. As the man fell Ward raised the cloth and discovered to his horror that he had killed his friend. He raised a shout and Bowers's wife and brother came out and the three carried the body into the house. Ward ran for a doctor, and told him he had mistaken Bowers for a burglar and killed him. He accompanied the doctor back to the house and remained there until officers arrived. On the porch was found a new revolver of twenty-two calibre and in the dead man's coat pocket were the cartridges. The green hat he wore is said to belong to a Jap employee. When he went away Bowers wore a grey hat. The black cloth used for a disguise appears to have been torn from the big cloth used as a hood by photographers.

Ward was taken to jail, but so far no warrant has been issued and it is said that Bowers's brother believes the story told as the true one, and if any action is taken it will have to be by the District Attorney. Ward, though nervous, is quiet and cool and tells his story convincingly. He is 34 years of age and dresses tastefully. He regrets killing his friend, but insists that he thought it was a burglar.

Bowers was a thirty-second degree Mason, a member of a Topeka, Kan., lodge, where he resided before coming to Long Beach three years ago. He was married to Mrs. Bowers, who was a Miss Nellie Bygott, in England eighteen years ago. They have two children, Walter, aged 6, and Queenie, aged 15, who is a student at a convent at Pomona. A brother of Mrs. Bowers, Walter Bygott, lives at Redlands.

Mrs. Bowers, shocked by the tragedy, declined to make any statement except that Ward did not know who Bowers was, and killed him.

An inquest will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock, and the police today are gathering what evidence they can. An autopsy was performed this afternoon. The bullet entered the forehead almost over the left eye and ranged in almost a direct line through the center of the brain structure, cutting in two the upper portion of the spinal cord and lodged on the inner table of the skull near the median line. The back of the skull was cracked with the last force of the bullet. Bowers was 43 years of age, over six feet tall and weighed over 200 pounds.

WATER COMPANY SINKS WELL.

Glendora Mutual Concern Sets Aside Fifteen Thousand Dollars to Augment the Present Supply.

GLENDORA, Jan. 17.—The directors of the Glendora Mutual Water Company have let contract to S. F. Cary of Los Angeles, to sink a twenty-six-inch well to a depth of 600 feet, if found necessary to bring in a flow of water of 100 inches or up. A modern deep well pump will be installed. The sum of $15,000 has been appropriated to cover the cost as estimated.

With the completion and equipment of this well, to be known as well No. 4, the company will have four fine flowing wells fully equipped with the best deep-well pumps the market affords.

This company has seventy acres of fine water-bearing land in the San Dimas wash two miles east of town, and by careful and judicious management on the part of the directors, the stockholders have received an ample supply of water for all purposes and it is the policy of the directors to keep water development up to requirements.

H. H. Beckwith has just brought in a fine well of water on his fine forty-acre foothill ranch east of town. For the past eighteen years there has been a well in the canyon back of the house three inches of water was pumped. The water running low during the rather prolonged dry season, Mr. Beckwith had the well sunk to a greater depth with the gratifying result that twelve to fifteen inches of water flows now where one did before.

J. M. Baker has recently uncovered a six-inch flow of water in the Big Dalton. He was greatly elated over his good luck and lost no time in filing on the water.

The rainfall for the storm of Saturday and Sunday last was 1.90 inches, bringing the total for the season up to 5.67 inches.

STORM RAISED BY THREE TRUSTEES.

INSTRUCT ATTORNEY TO PREPARE WET ORDINANCE.

Temperance People Are Moved to Eloquent and Emphatic Protest and Efforts Will Be Made to Convert One of Trio Before the Proposed Ordinance Becomes Law.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 17.—At a meeting held here last night, Trustees Ed. Manning, David O. Stewart and Ed. E. French voted to instruct the City Attorney to prepare an ordinance repealing the prohibition ordinance now in force here, as a preliminary step towards granting a wholesale liquor license in Huntington Beach. Trustees W. D. Seely and M. E. Helme voted against the measure.

Speeches in opposition to the action of the trustees were made by Trustees Helme and Seely, City Recorder J. W. Shirley, A. W. Lindgren, manager of the Huntington Beach Company, Louis Paul Hart, editor of the Huntington Beach News, Mrs. A. W. Lindgren of the local W.C.T.U. and others.

The action of the majority of the trustees is said to be taken partly because of the factional opposition with which their administration of the city's affairs has been met. A small number of citizens have endeavored to show that they were not actuated by the city's best interests.

Many acrimonious dialogues were precipitated by the Trustees' pro-liquor action, the chairman of the Board of Trustees being especially bitter in his denunciation of some of his opponents. Blows were barely averted between the City Attorney and a well-known citizen of Huntington Beach, and the feeling here is tense. Powerful efforts will be made within the next three weeks to change the minds of the pro-liquor Trustees before the next regular meeting of the board.

VAN NUYS and LANKERSHIM LANDS Now Ready for Settlers

Go today and see what will soon be the greatest center of real estate activity in or near Los Angeles. The Van Nuys and Lankershim lands, the most desirable property suburban to Los Angeles, which have, until the present time, been held back from subdivision by a wealthy estate, are now thrown open to the public. A tremendous amount of improvements have been outlined and are now vigorously under way. A new electric line, via the splendid Hollywood-Los Angeles Pacific System is now being rushed to completion. Over a half million dollars is being expended in the building of genuine asphalt boulevards. $500,000 in discounts has been offered to home builders for $1,000,000 worth of buildings, if erected immediately. The real estate history of Pasadena and Hollywood is bound to be repeated here. Much of the acreage offered at $200 to $400 today, will ultimately be subdivided into lots which should be worth $1500 to $2000. This is inevitable, if Los Angeles continues to grow as it has in the past twenty years. The opening of the Panama Canal, the completion of the Los Angeles Harbor improvements at San Pedro, and the great Owens River Aqueduct will be mighty forces in the upbuilding of Los Angeles. These events will occur during the next few years. Figuring conservatively, Los Angeles will have a population of over a million in 1920. What will Van Nuys and Lankershim lands be worth then? Ten or twenty acres purchased today will make you independent. Buy now before prices advance. Buy before the electric line is completed. Be a ground-floor purchaser. Make arrangements for a personally conducted visit—via automobile excursion, which leaves this office at 9:00 a.m. and 2 p.m. daily.

apart, in order to avoid advertising as required by the charters and even when the amount involved was actually under $500, competition was not secured as required by ordinance. It is apparent, that there were deliberate and wilful attempts to violate the charter and that this plan was pursued to disguise the efforts.

"7th. The evidence secured by me is sufficient to warrant the statement that the irregularity and illegal methods employed from the inception of these purchases, have been such that payment should not and cannot be enforced against the city.

"8th. Further: That according to estimates furnished me by reliable firms, the Gamewell company has been more than adequately recompensed for all of their unpaid claims, in past overcharges. The records of my office show that the city has paid them $84,439.58 in cash for supplies, much of which it is now known was purchased at prices more than double that of other reputable firms.

"In addition to the investigation made by my office, I have been advised by the City Attorney that in his opinion a claim which has been rejected by a former City Council cannot be reconsidered by the present Council and thereby make it a legal charge against the city, and that the debts herein enumerated are, therefore, not legal claims against the City of Los Angeles.

"For these reasons I cannot approve these demands, which are herewith returned to your honorable body. I would earnestly urge that you reconsider your action of September 20, 1910, and in accordance with the City Attorney's opinion, reverse your action by disapproving and filing these claims.

"It is clear to me that two different features of illegality are presented; 1st, the methods of procedure as enumerated above. 2nd. The rejection by the former Council should be final, and as held by the City Attorney cannot be reconsidered.

"If the Gamewell company believes it has a just claim against the city, it can resort to the courts for relief, where both the legal and equitable features may be determined."

HELD UP FOR MONTHS.

For several months the Gamewell demands, approved by the City Council, have been lying in Auditor Myers's office, while he has been quietly carrying on an investigation of the whole matter. Attorney Goudge represents the Gamewell company. He has frequently applied to know why the warrants were not paid. Myers has postponed action again and again until he had the evidence in shape, and now he avows the demands will never be paid as long as he remains in office except by order of court.

It precipitates one of the biggest sensations that has come to the City Hall during the present administration. The city is now preparing to extend its police and fire alarm system and an engineer for the Board of Fire Underwriters recently reported against the Crozier system, which is the only com-pointed to a special committee of engineers to investigate, and Crozier is offering to back his boxes at $85 against those of the Gamewell company at $125 to any extent.

The revelation of the Auditor that the Gamewell company has collected $40,822 from the city without proper authorization precipitates a new and disturbing element into the situation. The Auditor's report did not reach the Council in time to be read before adjournment yesterday, but will probably come up at the session today.

INTERESTING RELICS FOUND.

Sag Harbor (L. I.) Workmen Uncover Foundation of Home of Hero of the Revolutionary War.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

HEMPSTEAD (N. Y.) Jan. 17.—Workmen excavating for a cellar at Sag Harbor, L. I., have laid bare what is believed to be the foundation of the home of Capt. David Hand, a hero of the Revolutionary War. Many relics of the war were found, including flint-lock rifles and coins.

The home of Capt. Hand was the first house built in Sag Harbor.

Besides being a famous soldier, Capt. Hand, who was mentioned in several of J. Fennimore Cooper's books, was a well-known master whale man.

The old warrior lies buried in Oakland Cemetery, Sag Harbor, beside the graves of his five wives. The epitaph on his tombstone reads as follows:

"Behold, stranger, as you pass by, how thick the partners of one husband lie."

BOYS ARRESTED FOR BURGLARY.

LOS ANGELES YOUTHS ROB AN ENGINEER AND ARE CAUGHT.

Locked Into a Refrigerator Car They Escape and After a Race Across the Desert They Are Again Apprehended—Sensational Divorce Suit of Fair Angeleno Being Heard.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN BERNARDINO, Jan. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Ted Miller and P. J. Young, Los Angeles boys, were arrested by the crew of a Santa Fe freight train and locked into a refrigerator car for burglarising the room of Engineer W. F. Colcord at Needles last night. They secured a gold watch and $180. These were recovered. The youths broke from the refrigerator car, but were captured after an exciting race across the desert.

SENSATIONAL TRIAL.

Mrs. Jessie I. Clock of Los Angeles and Fred Clock, president of the Board of Education of Redlands, are facing each other in a sensational divorce suit which commenced here this morning behind closed doors. Mrs. Clock instituted the action. Clock filed a bristling cross complaint. Mrs. Clock was on the stand all day.

FOSSILS FOUND.

Fossils of the prehistoric equidae encased in gold and tungsten, is the remarkable discovery made in the Stringer mining district by Patrick Byrne, D. A. Blue, Jack Nossar, D. C. Kuffle, who have been sinking pits in the placer gravel. Every pit so far sunk to any depth has encountered bones of this ancient horse. The miners shipped the first of these discoveries to the Geographical Survey at Washington, the word coming back being that they are fossils of the extinct horse. The bones are in some instances encased in golden particles while tungsten also clings to them. The placer discoveries are proving very rich, no shaft, seventy feet in depth, is in five and a half feet of gold and tungsten, the rich stratum being found to extend at least 40 to 150 feet in width. The values show $5.50 per ton gold, and $3.50 tungsten.

ALARMS SUPERVISORS.

The recent decision in the Los Angeles courts rendering judgment for heavy damages against a member of the Board of Supervisors on account of personal injuries sustained by a citizen in an accident caused by bad roads in the Supervisor's district, has caused a shock to the members of the board in this county, and it is planned now to go over the county roads carefully and fence off those spots which are likely to cause injury and which cannot be permanently repaired without large expense. Such places are due to storm water cutting ditches in the road. These spots more frequently occur in the Second, Or, E. W. Reid's district. If fills are made the next storm washes them out. In order to permanently rectify the trouble a storm water district would have to be formed and bonds issued for extensive rock and ditch work.

LEGAL QUESTION.

Must the city advertise for bids for furnishing electric lights to the municipality, or may it renew its present contract? The question arises on account of the desire to renew the contract with the Lytle Creek Power Company, which carries a greatly reduced rate over any contract made with the big lighting corporations ever before. City Attorney Swing holds that the city must advertise for bids. Judge John L. Campbell, representing the Lytle Creek concern contends that no advertising is necessary, but that the present contract may be renewed. Byron Waters, representing the Pacific Light and Power Company, which seeks to secure the contract, declares that the City Attorney's opinion is correct. Each legal light recites dozens of decisions of the courts in all parts of the county to sustain his individual statement of the case. The city will advertise.

FIREBUGS RAMPANT.

The authorities have been asked to take a hand at Atolia, the big tungsten community, on the desert, where incendiarism is rife. Word received here today states that two attempts to destroy the property of the Atolia mining company by fire have been made. In part these have been successful, leveling two hoist houses with all the machinery. It is believed two of a group of fifteen men laid off recently are responsible. The property is the largest tungsten group in the State, and, with the exception of another such group in Colorado, the largest in the country. During the past year the clean-up amounted to $232,-526. All the product is contracted for by the Krupp Gun Works of Germany.

CELEBRATE CUTTING QUEUES.

A big feast is to be given in the local Chinatown on the afternoon and night of January 31, which, according to the Chinese calendar, is the first day of the New Year. The celebration is in view of the abandonment of the queues by the Chinese nation. Many of the leading celestials have already cut off their queues and on New Year's Day all the others from all over the valley will gather in Chinatown and doff the queue forever, with a great ceremonial. The Chinese leaders here declare that, as the queue is China's sign of abasement, the edict which does away with it is the greatest forward step of the Mongol nation in all its history, and they predict it will be followed by the adoption of all western ideas.

When The Stomach Stops

Working Properly, Because There Is Wind In It, Use Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets to Set It Going Again. A Trial Package Free.

The doctors call it flatulency, but unprofessional folks know it as "wind on the stomach," and a most distressing state of things it is. It is a serious condition of this great motor organ. Always annoying and painful in the extreme, at times often leading to bad and fatal results. The stomach embarassed and hampered with wind, cannot take care of its food properly and indigestion follows, and this has a train too appalling to enumerate. The entire system is implicated—made an active or passive factor in this trouble and life soon becomes a questionable boon.

All this is explained in doctor books; how undigested food causes gases by fermentation and fomentation in which process some essential fluids are destroyed—burnt up—wasted by chemical action, followed by defective nutrition and distribution through the alimentary tract of chemically wrong elements and as a consequence the stomach and entire system is starved. Plenty of food, you see, but spoilt in preparation and worse than worthless.

A deranged stomach is the epitome of evil; nothing too bad to emanate from it, but the gas it generates is probably its worst primary effect and the only way to do away with this is to remove the cause. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets go to the root of this trouble. They attack the gas-making foods and render them harmless. Flatulency or wind on the stomach simply cannot exist where these powerful and wonderworking little tablets are in evidence.

They are made for this very purpose to attack gas-making foods and convert them into proper nutriment. This is their province and office. A whole book could be written about them and then not all told that might be told with profit to sufferers from this painful disease, dyspepsia. It would mention the years of patient and expensive experiment in effort to arrive at this result — of failures innumerable and at last success. It would make mention of the different stomach correctives that enter into this tablet, and make it faithfully represent all.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are not alone intended for the sick, but well folks as well; for the person who craves hearty foods and wants to eat heartily and run no risk of bad effects, they act like a charm and make eating and digestion a delight and pleasure. They keep the stomach active and energetic and able and willing to do extra work without special labor or effort. Don't forget this. Well people are often neglected, but the Stuart Dyspepsia Tablets have them in mind.

A free trial package will be sent any one who wants to know just what they are, how they look and taste, before beginning treatment with them. After this go to the drug store for them; everywhere, here or at home, they are 50 cents a box and by getting them at home you will save time and postage. Your doctor will prescribe them; they say there are 40,000 doctors using them, but when you know what is the matter with yourself why go to the expense of a prescription? For free trial package adress F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Building, Marshal, Michigan.

GETS PROBATION

Morley Holcomb pleaded guilty to child desertion today and after being sentenced to serve two years in San Quentin was paroled by Judge F. F. Oster. The evidence showed that three years ago Holcomb had come out from the east. His wife followed a year later and he left her and his children with his mother at Redlands. He went to San Francisco and secured an interlocutory decree of divorce, claiming he did not know where his wife was. He then took up with another woman. This other woman made a desperate effort at San Francisco to secure Holcomb's release on a writ of habeas corpus. Judge Oster notified the prisoner in paroling him that if he did not at once take steps to dismiss the divorce suit the court would send him to prison.

SHOOTING AT HAYWARDS.

Man Fatally Wounds Former Partner and in Turn Falls Victim to Bullets of Pursuing Crowd.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

HAYWARDS (Cal.) Jan. 17.—In a quarrel over money matters, Augustus Reis of San Francisco shot Capt. Chester Madison, on one of the main streets here this afternoon and was himself shot in a running fight with an officer and citizens, who pursued him after the fight with Madison. Both are retired merchants.

In a statement after his capture, Reis said that he and Madison were formerly in the ship chandlery business in San Francisco and that the firm went out of business with Madison owing him money. Today, he said, he made a final demand for the sum and was angered beyond endurance by Madison's refusal to settle.

Eyewitnesses said Madison was shot in the back after he had turned to walk away from Reis. Deputy Constable Shilling and a barber named Pimentel began firing at Reis as he ran after shooting Madison. Others joined in the chase, which led into an orchard on the outskirts of the town, where the fugitive was taken to the cottly dying. He was taken to the County Infirmary. Madison was taken to his residence here.

Both men are believed to be fatally wounded, Reis having been struck twice. He is 55 years old. His victim is 70.

BOOSTING FOR PACIFIC FLEET.

Navy League Convenes Here Two Months Hence.

Big Delegation of Experts to Study Coast Needs.

Sixteen Battleships Wanted for This Side.

With the express purpose in mind of arousing popular interest in the creation of a great Pacific Coast fleet of battleships and the gathering of data upon which to formulate resolutions to be urged before Congress, 250 chosen delegates of the Navy League of the United States will hold their annual convention in Los Angeles, March 7 and 8. The decision was reached by the league directors in Washington, yesterday, after the consideration of offers of a most flattering character from Seattle and San Francisco.

Because of the great membership of the Navy League, numbering rather over 10,000 prominent citizens and public men in every large city in the country, the convention here is looked upon as of very considerable importance to the future of the West Coast. The purpose of the organization, which is patterned after similar leagues in England and Germany is to urge in every legitimate manner the expansion and improvement of the naval strength of the United States. With influential members in nearly every Congressional district in the country, they have more than once made themselves felt on the national legislative floor in the defense of naval appropriation bills. A notable success in the securing of appropriations for new battleships last year has encouraged them to hope to do effective work in the direction of securing an adequate navy to be kept permanently upon this coast.

TO TOUR COAST.

It is primarily for the purpose of looking over the ground and to make their project generally known that the league has called the convention here at this time. After their sessions here, the delegates expect to make a trip up the coast to Tacoma, giving special attention to harbors, navy yards, docking facilities and other matters relevant to their project. Their report will be submitted to the members of the league through the Washington headquarters and the matter brought forcibly to the attention of the Congressmen from the districts represented.

While the actual strength of the new fleet to be recommended is one of the things which the delegates expect to consider in detail upon their arrival here, it is said that the report will advocate the placing on the West coast of not fewer than sixteen first-class battleships, at the same time retaining here the armored cruisers now stationed on this side, together with a proper complement of torpedo-boat destroyers, colliers, etc. Since no diminution of the Atlantic fleet is desired, the recommendation will call for the actual building of all these vessels.

The chief credit for bringing the convention to this city is due to Capt. Randolph H. Miner and Joseph Scott of the Chamber of Commerce, and the Los Angeles Convention League. During their recent stay in Washington they were able to present in person the superior attractions of the city to the officers of the league, Col. Robert M. Thompson, president, and Lieut. Henry H. Ward, secretary, with the result that the directors were practically unanimous in their choice.

ENTERTAINMENT PLANS.

The programme for the entertainment of the visitors will be in the hands of committees appointed by the Chamber of Commerce and the Convention League. The official sessions of the delegates will be held in Convention Hall, following which there will be a banquet in their honor and a number of trips to the nearby coast points. The Pacific Coast League will be asked to join with them in the holding of a naval enthusiasm meeting at San Pedro at some time during their stay.

"I look upon the convention as being a decidedly important step in the proper development of the service on this Coast," said Capt. Miner last night. "Outside of the influences which these men will exert through the league which is sending them, their opinion on the question will carry added weight by reason of the fact that they will be perfectly impartial judges of the situation. They will carry back an impression of the actual necessities of the case that will be more accurate than any we, who are on the ground, could give them at long range. And I feel encouraged to hope that there will be some actual and concrete results to show for it."

SLAY HONEST WORKMAN.

Chicago Thugs Knock Non-Union Printer Insensible and Beat Him to Death—Others Attacked.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Attacked from behind by an unidentified assailant, Rush V. Denon, 50 years old, a non-union printer employed by the W. F. Hall Printing Company, No. 466 West Superior street, was struck over the head, knocked to the pavement, kicked and beaten, last evening, receiving injuries from which he died two hours later at the Passavant Hospital. Denon had been employed by the Hall company for four months, and the attack of last night is said to have been the second made upon him.

According to officials of the company, the concern had trouble with the printers' union five years ago and since that time they have conducted an open shop.

Late Saturday afternoon, Louis Berghouse, an employee of the company, is said to have been attacked and beaten at the same corner where Denon was killed. Numerous other attacks are said to have been made during the five years, upon men working for the Hall company.

MUSIC AND STAGE.

ficed that for a distinguished management.

This is the comedian's tenth trip to Los Angeles.

"Los Angeles is the reward a western trip holds out to the travelling actor," said Mr. Kearney yesterday. "I feel myself a regular pioneer, for I tell all the actors who have never been here of the old landmarks that I don't see, and point out the new evidences of metropolitanism that have arisen since my last visit."

Who knows what risley acrobats are? For the information of the average person it may be said that a risley acrobat and a tumbler are one and the same. And the George Bonhair troupe, which flipflops all over the stage at the Los Angeles Theater this week, is not only a good example of the tumbler's collective art, but the best thing on the programme as well. There is a Mr. Bonhair and five little hairs which seem to have no bones at all, so rubber-spined and flexible are they. Their ten minutes upon the stage is merely a highly animated series of human revolutions, embracing tricks which run from the old-time circus stunts to the living pin-wheel antics of the Japanese.

To progress backward the next place of honor is filled by the pictures. These show a group of Reubens hilariously enjoying the rough and tumble stunts of the modern amusement devices at Coney Island. Seeing these luckless wights sliding down the cellar door is the same as doing it yourself—except for the slivers.

Chevalier De Loris, very handy with a target rifle, nips the clothes from an estimable young woman, who does not seem to be greatly embarrassed thereby, since the divesting does not proceed to the Salome stage.

Billy Chase—not Carlton—sings topical songs, of which he is evidently the mechanic.

May Nannary has a sketch that is an awful thing. It is called "The Hand That Rules." Al Joy wrote it; less joy to him.

The Tennis Trio open the bill with feats of juggling.

In reviewing a popular priced vaudeville bill, one must of necessity consider the cost of admission to the patron. Based on this standard, the programme at Pantages this week is well worth the charge at the box office and the time one takes to witness it. There is but one act calling for serious consideration or special commendation and strange to say, it is an animal act. Mlle. Hengieur is an Englishwoman and if she broke the dogs to their routine of tricks, she deserves great praise, for it is by all odds the classiest dog act upon the vaudeville stage today. Never a moment is wasted and the dogs do everything that has been seen here before and a few dozen tricks that have never been exhibited in this city. Mlle. Hengieur herself makes a nice appearance and the canines show the evident care that has been lavished upon their education. There are five Pommeranians or Russian poodles, dignified fellows who gravely go through their stunts; there are a number of fox terriers and several other dogs of no particular breed whatever. High leaping dogs finish the act and the canines are as graceful as a finished circus acrobat. Wilson Franklyn & Company present the broadest farce in "My Wife Won't Let Me;" Mr. Franklyn essays the character of "Frank Rivers," Vicar of St. Peters; Florence Lyndale is "Mrs. Rivers," his wife; William J. Walsh is "Digby Grubby," a reformer; Miss Violet Wood is the "Princes Ballenie," a music hall artiste; Leslie Winters is "Joe, the cabman." The scene is laid at Rivers's home, Piccadilly, London, and the time, evening.

The "Great American Four," a singing quartette, are big, good natured fellows, whose splendid voices are a delight and whose comedy efforts are painful; Burling and Urban are a duo of gingery dancers; the Four Olivers, a wire act, have nothing startling to offer. They have a mild routine that please mildly. The new pictures are interesting. Maj. James Doyle, a diminutive comedian, tells a lot of stores, those told upon himself getting the greater number of laughs.

EJECTS YOUNG WRITER.

PORTLAND (Or.) Jan. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Because he was ejected from the Lyric Theater during a rehearsal, C. Emery Dye, son of Mrs. Eva Emery Dye, the historian and novelist, caused the arrest yesterday of Daniel Flood, the manager of the theater, on charge of assault and battery. Dye says he was taken forcibly from the auditorium and kicked into the street by the manager. Dye, who inherits his mother's literary ambitions, says he is preparing a play for publication and it is necessary for him to acquire a knowledge of stage life, before he can finish it. Upon the invitation of Tom Dillon, a comedian, he says he went to the rehearsal. Flood told him to go and when he refused the fight started.

SAGE FOR DARKENING THE HAIR.

There is nothing new about the idea of using sage for restoring the color of the hair. Our great-grandmothers kept their locks soft, dark and glossy by using a "sage tea." Whenever their hair fell out or took on a dull, faded or streaked appearance, they made a brew of sage leaves and applied it to their hair with wonderfully beneficial effect. Nowadays we don't have to resort to the old-time, tiresome method of gathering the herbs and making the brew. This is done by skillful chemists better than we could do it ourselves, and all we have to do is to call for the ready made product. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, containing sage in the proper strength, with the addition of Sulphur, another old-time scalp remedy. This preparation is sold by all first-class druggists for 50c. and $1.00 a bottle, or is sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price.

SALES—Morning session: 1000 California Hills at 4.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

Only the good demand for most lines of vegetables kept the market from being a very disagreeable affair yesterday morning. The price of fresh beans was forced way up, some of them selling even over 15 cents a pound. Peas on the other hand came down owing to the very considerable supply of this stock in this particular vegetable. Tomatoes of first quality were up to $1.25. Cabbage was also more firm and sales at 75 and 85 cents per sack were out of the ordinary. Bunch goods moved along at unchanged prices. Mushrooms from the north were good sellers. Chives are in season and are bringing 15 cents.

The demand for eggs was normal. Declines in the north caused a drop here. Case count were sold at 32 cents. Candled were quoted at 37 cents. Ranch were held at 40 to 45 cents. With the continued lower prices on local eggs, the prices on eastern stock shifted on hand were forced down in order to keep up the demand. The fixed price yesterday was 32 cents. Receipts of the day were only 127 cases.

Butter arrivals were 31,985 pounds. The call for butter was of a very normal nature.

Cheese was a very slack commodity in the trading world. There were only a few sales of Northern fresh and at unchanged prices. Offerings of other varieties were very light. Receipts were 174 pounds.

Potatoes were very steady and there was some good buying. Highlands were advanced 10 cents per hundred, selling now from $2.10 to $2.25 on fancy stock. Receipts of spuds were 1625 sacks.

There were no reported receipts of onions. Lima beans were in demand on the Los Angeles list. The price on them is up to $6 per hundred. Lady Washingtons were also fair orders.

The call—for sweet potatoes was good. Offerings were a trifle lower, sweets selling on the street at $2 per hundred. Arrivals were 1625 sacks.

A car of apples from the north was received. The movement of apples continued very free and there is little indication as yet of any marked advances on the stock still held. The chief reason for this seems to be the size of the storage stock this season and it is feared that a hindering of demand for advancing prices might cause losses in the end when it would be necessary to destroy the apples entirely because of rot and the new crop.

A large shipment of alligator pears from Hermosillo arrived in the morning. They were offered at $1 to $4 per dozen and sold the two ways on downtown clubs and a few of the high-class hotels.

PROBATION.

PLEA OF YOUNG WIFE.

Annie Oster, who pleaded guilty to the charge of forging the name of W. L. Allen to a check, was in Judge McCormick's court yesterday for a hearing on her petition for probation. She was accompanied by her husband, who is a salesman in a Main street store.

It developed from the testimony that the woman had a habit of disposing of bad checks, it being shown that she had done so in at least twenty-five instances.

The woman admitted the charge, but pleaded her mental and physical condition were to blame for her lapses. Judge McCormick suspended sentence in her case for two years.

CASTLES IN THE AIR.

BUT NOTHING FOR HIS FAMILY

Burdon Gaylord, a well-known mining broker of this city, yesterday, was defendant in a divorce action brought by Elise H. Gaylord, on the ground of failure to provide. They were married in Brookline, Mass., in 1902, and they came to Los Angeles a year later.

The wife testified that Gaylord was full of all sorts of mining schemes, and was always about to turn up a million or two, but the plans never materialized. His mother-in-law, Mrs. Mary Smith, got tired of keeping him. The wife was given her decree.

PETITION FOR SUPPORT. An action was filed in the Superior Court yesterday by Loretta McKenzie against Gordon, asking that the court allow her $50 a month for her support. She alleged that the defendant is contributing nothing. The couple were married in San Diego in 1905.

BOY WAS HURT. The Los Angeles Railway and the Pioneer Fertilizing Company were made parties defendant yesterday in a suit filed by Manuel Vasques. The complaint sets out that on December 8, 1910, Manuel Vasques was riding on a wagon owned by the Fertilizing company, when the vehicle collided with a car at North Broadway and Sunset boulevard. The boy was injured, it is alleged, and damages of $15,000 are asked.

CONDEMNATION SUITS. The City of Los Angeles brought actions yesterday against D. B. Williams and others for the condemnation of land necessary for the construction of a street in Garvanza; also, against Armede Garnett and others, for condemnation of land for widening Blades street, between Malabar street and Upper boulevard to sixty feet.

DAMAGE VERDICT. In Judge Wood's court yesterday the jury in the action brought by J. Weiss for the death of his little daughter, Tillie, aged 19 months, who was run over and killed by a wagon of the Arctic Ice Company, returned to court with a verdict for the plaintiff for $5000.

VERDICT AGAINST OFFICERS. In Judge Craig's court yesterday, J. W. Henry was given a verdict for $100 and no costs, in an action brought against D. C. Huling, a member of the local police force, and Lieut. C. G. Lehnhausen, to recover $5000, alleged to be due for false imprisonment. The testimony showed that in July, 1909, Henry, who had a fruit stand at Thirty-sixth and Main streets, moved his quarters, and a dispute arose as to whether he would be compelled to take out another license. He was taken to the University Station and detained about one hour, when he was released.

THE PUCCIO CASE. Carl Puccio, arrested last week at Corona on a warrant from Judge Wilbur's court, charging him with being guilty of contributing to the dependency of a minor, was discharged by Judge Wilbur yesterday on the motion of the District Attorney. Puccio was immediately arrested by the marshal of Corona on the charge of criminal assault.

PROBATE MATTERS. By the will of William London, filed for probate yesterday, Mary London, the widow, is given all of the estate, valued at $35,000 for use during her life. At her death it is to be divided among the three children.

The will of Robbins Little of Pasadena, leaves the entire estate, amounting to $20,800, to his mother, Caroline M. Little.

GUN NOT A CURE.

Mary Church Tells Police Judge She Carried Pistol Because She Felt Bad; Pays a Fine.

Mary Church learned yesterday afternoon that a gun is not the ac- "blues" and the information cost her $25. Police Judge Rose fixed the amount when she was taken into Police court by Patrolman Riggs on a charge of carrying concealed weapons.

She was arrested on the Plaza when attention was attracted toward her by the report of a pistol. Officer Riggs heard the noise and asked Mary what she was doing.

"Nothing. I just feel bad and have got to make a noise," she replied.

Fearing a repetition of the noise might injure someone, the patrolman took her to Central Station. She yielded to being searched without a word but when her handbag was taken by the matron, she objected. The reason for her objecting was learned when upon opening the handbag, a large revolver was found.

The officer did not see her fire the pistol so the charge was made that of carrying concealed weapons.

Goes Inside.

Juan Oliva, arrested in the hobo rendezvous under the First street bridge was given an "accumulative" sentence by Police Judge Rose yesterday. The charge was vagrancy. Oliva has been arrested several times during the past year and on each occasion was released on a suspended sentence with the understanding that he leave the city. Police Judge Rose recognized him as an old offender when he appeared in court yesterday and added up the previous suspended sentences and then sent him to the East Side jail to serve the full time.

Bad Check Charge.

W. M. Palmer, charged with attempting to pass a fictitious check was held under $1000 bail for trial in the Superior Court by Police Judge Fredericksen yesterday morning.

Jails Still Full.

At the request of Chief Sebastian, Police Judge Rose released all the drunks that appeared before him yesterday morning. The jails were found to be filled to their capacity Monday and Judge Rose then released a large number. This practice will be continued until the conditions are better. The fact that there is no room for more prisoners, however will not stop the officers arresting offenders when they are found on the streets. There is sufficient room in the Central Station jail for the usual arrests at night but no more.

Assault Charged.

A complaint charging Jose Canales with assault was issued yesterday morning by Deputy District Attorney Keetch. Canales is charged with attacking Gertrudio Espitia, No. 1516 San Fernando street, because the latter told the police officials that Canales was "wanted" in Mexico. Canales and his brother were later arrested. The complaint was filed yesterday afternoon

ENGLISH PEERS SEEING SIGHTS.

They Come to Witness Polo Games at Pasadena.

Society Is All of a Flutter, Oh, Rather, Eh!

Tournament to Be Played Through Week End.

BY R. A. WYNNE.

Among the spectators at the Pasadena polo tournament will be Capt. Churchill Marjoribanks, third Baron Tweedmouth, D. S. O., M. V. O., and Lieut. Lord Innes-Kerr, two famous polo stars.

Lord Tweedmouth was Military Secretary to the Earl of Selborne in the South African campaign; served with the composite regiment of Household Cavalry and was awarded the Queen's medal (six clasps D. S. O.) for carrying dispatches. He is owner of one of the finest country places in the British Isles, having more than 6000 acres in Berkshire, Hutton Castle, Berwick-on-the-Tweed, is one of the show places in England.

Lord Alastair Robert Innes-Kerr, Lieutenant First Dragoons, is brother of the English Duke of Roxburghe, whose wedding to Miss Goelet was the society sensation of two continents. Innes-Kerr maintains an elaborate entourage at Floors Castle, Kelso. He holds the Queen's medal (three clasps,) and the King's medal (two clasps,) for distinguished service in South Africa.

The royal blue blood of England will be represented at the first day's meet of the invitation polo tournament to be held this afternoon at Tournament Park, Pasadena, between the Pasadena B and the Coronado teams.

Lord Tweedmouth and Lord Innes-Kerr, both crack English polo players, are due to arrive today in Pasadena. They are later to enter the tournament as players under the colors of the Coronado team.

In addition to the blue blood of England there will be the red blood of America's best, represented among eight actual players. It is to be a society event and inaugurates what is looked forward to as a promising winter's polo programme.

There will be four teams represented, the two teams from Pasadena and the Coronado and the Santa Barbara teams. They will play a round robin of elimination which is expected to produce the best team to meet the Burlingame stars, for the championship of Western America.

The Weiss brothers, Harry, Reggie and Tom, are as usual, prominent figures in the coming tournament. They are playing on the Pasadena A team and with the addition of Carleton Burke, form the team. The Pasadena B team comprises E. C. McVitty, captain; John Hobbs, Dr. A. H. Savage, and C. E. Post; Coronado, Maj. C. Ross, captain, Cheever Chowdin, Walter Dupee and Frits Nave; Santa Barbarbara, Dr. E. J. Boeseke, captain, E. J. Boeseke, Jr., John Parks and Edgar Cross.

TO KEEP IT UP.

Tomorrow the second match of the tournament will be between the Santa Barbara team and Pasadena A team; Friday the losers in the two preceding events will clash and Saturday the winners of the two preceding events will meet. The winner of the Saturday struggle will cross swords, or mallets rather, with the crack Burlingame team for the championship.

There is keen rivalry between the four teams in Southern California for the honor of meeting the Burlingame outfit. The winner will not only be the champion of the West, but will also satisfy a long-nursed grudge against the northern team.

Among those who follow the polo game closely it is believed that the Pasadena A and the Coronado teams will meet for the final test Saturday. To proceed farther it is believed that the Pasadena team will defeat the Coronado team and win the right of playing the Burlingame team. This belief is based upon the excellent showing made by the Pasadena A team and by the additional fact that two weeks ago Pasadena A decisively defeated Coronado on its own field.

The weather of the last week has been ideal polo weather. The turf has been softened enough and not too much by the rains. It is springy and yet firm enough to give a good foothold. Polo enthusiasts from all over California have been pouring into Los Angeles and Pasadena during the last two days.

Some of the big downtown hotels of Los Angeles last night resembled the foyers of country clubs. There were stacks of luggage and polo trappings and a throng of enthusiastic young men and some who were not so young. They talked polo and polo ponies from their entrance until they retired.

CLANS GATHER.

In the grills and in the dining salons it was all polo enthusiasm. There were a half hundred from San Diego and Coronado; there were scores from Riverside and Redlands, and from Santa Barbara and farther north they came in throngs. Their ponies had been shipped direct to Pasadena and those who remained in Los Angeles over night sent servants and helpers to Pasadena to meet the cars containing their ponies. Every arrangement had been made for the proper care of the valuable blooded stock and stable boys will sleep with every string before the contest.

Pasadena has produced two teams, owing to the failure of Riverside to secure a team. It was necessary to in which Coronado and Santa Barbara teams are to play with Crown City fours for chance to meet champion Burlingame aggregation for Farther Western honors.

Speedfest.

MOTORDROME'S BATTLE ROYAL.

STARS OF THE EAST AND REAL SPEEDSTERS OF WEST.

Clash to Come on the Pie-Pan Sunday When the Fastest Motor Pilots on Earth Meet in Series of Automobile Races Which Should Thrill Thousands.

For the first time in the history of automobile racing the crack drivers of the East are to meet the star speedsters of the West.

Motor pilots who have won the most sensational automobile road and track races ever held are to figure in a series of track events on the boards of the Motordrome on Sunday. These men, who have flirted with death many times, are to settle the world championship on the fastest course on earth.

Top-notchers who have smashed world records in quick succession on the big speedways of the East, and daredevil drivers who have torn road records to pieces on the roughest roads of the West, are pitted against each other. The pie-pan offers opportunities for testing the abilities of the champions which no other course affords. The races should be worth watching.

Ninety-horse-power cars, the giants of the motor racing world, among the fastest made, are ready for the thrills which should come. There is a limit to the speed at which these motor monsters can be driven. The men who have reached this limit many times are preparing for the speedfest on the Motordrome.

Ralph de Palma, a world champion, and the greatest driver of the East, who holds almost as many world records as Barney Oldfield, is grooming his Simplex "Ninety." His car has turned ninety-two miles an hour on the boards of the pie-pan. De Palma is ready to meet all comers.

NO SAFFRON HUE.

There is no yellow streak in De Palma. He has had a chance to show the color many times, but has always made good. The Italian pilot is ready for the thrills which are almost certain to come when he meets the men of the West who have also shown their nerve and skill.

Bert Dingley, who won the light car event at Santa Monica two years ago, when he drove the Chalmers-Detroit into a world record, is to represent the local automobile industry, at the wheel of the fast Pope-Hartford. He has whirled the Pope over the boards of the Motordrome at eighty-three miles an hour. This week the mechanicians are working on the car and expect to give it several notches more speed.

"I'm ready to meet the best of them," said Dingley yesterday. "I know I'll never show the white feather. Of course, if the tires are punctured I must stop, but my car is there with the goods every time. I think I could beat any of the big easterners in a long-distance race and you can take it from me I'm willing to try.

"What's there to it? The best car must win barring accidents. I can send the Pope around the boards faster than eighty-five miles an hour and can keep it up. I know I take a chance and I also know the other fellow takes a chance. Let the best man win; but I believe the Pope will take the honors."

De Palma is modest. He hates to talk about himself. He never boasts, but is there with bells every time any one mentions race.

"That Simplex is a wonder," he said when talking of the big meet Sunday.

Hark!

WORLD'S FIRST AERO-BUS IS PLANNED BY HARKNESS.

HARRY STEPHEN HARKNESS, the young millionaire who has lunged the local colony of youthful millionaires into a deep cloud of green envy, is not through.

Now he proposes to inaugurate the first aero-bus ever operated in California, if not the world.

He proposes to assemble his three Antoinette monoplanes at Dominguez field immediately upon their arrival and plunge into the business of taking people, who yearn for an ascension, up into the air at so much per head.

The modest sum of $50 per ride is to be charged the envious young millionaires who would fain relate to their sweethearts how they have bravely flown from the earth. He will be particular, but not so particular that it will stand in the way of his business success.

There is only one fly in his amber.

He has always been gallant to the young ladies and now he is wrestling with the problem as to whether he can ask a confiding young thing to plank down the fifty pieces of silver before she steps into his monoplane or whether he shall carry them free.

Last night Mr. Harkness left on the Lark for San Francisco where he will purchase what remains of Hubert Latham's wrecked Antoinette. He will bring this machine to Los Angeles and use it in his aerial omnibus traffic.

Mr. Harkness is to meet D. C. Collier of San Diego in San Francisco and listen to a proposition to come to San Diego and fly for the edification of San Diegans. He stated before he left that he was willing to go to San Diego, but he would be compelled to ask for a substantial cash payment if he did.

Harkness is a wealthy young man and is very free with his money, but he is very plain about his flying. He will not carry people unless they pay him and he will not go to any place and fly for the honor there is in it. It costs money, he says, to purchase three monoplanes and keep them in condition to fly. He thinks there is no reason why he should not ask money for anything he does. Only he cannot force himself to take money from fair young things who would fly with him.

Dopes His String.

HOGAN SECURES NEW MEN FOR VERNON BALL TEAM

"THE VERNON BALL TEAM will start out the season twenty per cent stronger than it was last year and the local fans may expect to see us fighting for the pennant from the start. We are to be there all the time, for I figure that our pitching staff is the best in the league and that is where a team gets its games from."

This is the bold statement with which Hap Hogan, manager of the Vernon team, salutes the stars, this morning.

The real new ones unknown to local fans are shortstops McDonald, Reams and Davis; outfielders Stenson and Tico and pitchers Dye and Kilburn. In addition to these the prospects are a big league pitcher, catcher and first baseman and a trio of the same kind that Frank Chance of the Chicago Club has promised Hogan if he needs good men.

The men kept over from last year's team are first baseman Fisher, second baseman Roy Brashear, third baseman Burrell, catchers Brown and Hogan, outfielders Ross, Carlisle and Coy, and pitchers Hitt, Raleigh, Willett, Carson, Brackenridge and Schafer. Pitcher Stewart is a new one to the club, but he played last year with the San Francisco team and was bought from the Seals by Hogan.

Last year's men on whom waivers on the team this year are Catcher Hasty, Shortship Lindsay, Utility Man Kitty Brashear, and Pitcher Hensling. Some of these men are figured in trades that Hogan has on and it may be possible that these trades will be closed this week.

Of the new men, Shortstop McDonald was secured from the Chicago White Sox, and that team got him from the Terre Haute club in Indiana. Reams was with th Sacramento team a part of last season and it is said he showed so much that one of the Boston clubs wired out instructions to sign him. Davis is more or less of an unknown quantity, as he is from the Colorado School of Mines, but is said to be a college ball player of great promise.

Outfielder Stinson was drafted from the San Antonio (Tex.) team, and is said to be a "hitting fool." He never hit less than .300 since he was born, and Hap Hogan says the boy will refuse to take any salary if he hits below these figures. He hit .296 in the Texas League last year, however, according to the official averages. Outfielder Tico is the Oxnard phenom whom four or five big league clubs wanted, and that Detroit feverishly tried to sign. McDonald hit .272 last year with Terre Haute in the Central League.

The new pitcher, Kilburn, is a left-hander from Santa Clara College, and must be a good one, for that institution is famous for making good ball play-

HE'S TOO GOOD FOR YOUNG JOE.

ATTELL PASSED UP BY RIVERS UNTIL LATER DATE.

New Aspirant for Featherweight Honors Has Mercenary Ambitions Because He Wants to Buy a House for His Mother—Manager Lewis Says to Go Slow.

"Attell is too good for Rivers at this stage of the game; but this boy Jimmie Reagan isn't good enough."

This is the answer of Johnny Lewis, manager of Young Rivers, to Uncle Tom McCarey's two fight suggestions.

Rivers seems to be nose-up to the peculiar problem of other "live ones" of pugilism: "Shal a champion starve?"

"It would be silly boasting to tall of fighting Attell at this time," said Lewis yesterday. "Abe is the wisest and craftiest fighting man in the ring. He could tie his hands behind him and butt a boy like Rivers with his head. Wait a little while and Rivers will fight Abe or any one of his weight in the ring; but I don't want to ditch him before he gets into his stride.

"Joe is just a young boy yet, only 18. In a fight with a man like Abe Attell he might be permanently injured. For instance, if he were badly beaten up about the kidneys he might never get over it.

"I will be perfectly frank about this. Joe is in this business to get the money. He isn't crazy over the fight game. I never can get him to stay around the fight headquarters. He goes in; transacts his business, and goes right away again. He says it makes him feel cheap and embarrassed to be stared at by the fans.

"Joe wants to make all the money he can and buy a house for his mother.

"While he is young he wants to make a stake so he can have something to live on when he has to retire from the fight game; he realizes that a fighter doesn't last long.

"I can't see where he would get anything by fighting Jimmie Reagan. It would just be handing Reagan his end of the purse for nothing. It would be Rivers who would draw the house. The fans would come to see Rivers fight anybody.

"At that it would not be without risk. If Rivers beat Reagan it would add nothing to his record and might little to his pocketbook. On the other hand, Reagan might happen to hand him a knockout punch.

"I am after comers—not trial horses.

"Of course, we wouldn't think of another fight with either Frankie Sullivan or Danny Webster.

"I feel sorry for Danny. His poor showing last Saturday was partly because Joe was too good for him; partly because he made a bad mistake in judgment. Trying to rush Rivers was the worst thing he could possibly have tried. When it comes to roughing, Rivers is easily his superior. He made another mistake in trying for Rivers' stomach. Joe has a bread basket like the deck of a battleship.

"Danny is a very dangerous man particularly for any one who will back up before him and allow him to whip over that overhand right punch. He couldn't use it on Rivers because Joe kept too close to him and, anyhow, Joe had invented a way to block it."

FRED THOMPSON, MASTER-BUILDER

Spectacle Producer Here With Newest Play.

Three Tremendous Scenes in Death Valley.

Modern Reno to Have Startling Reproduction.

BY JULIAN JOHNSON.

Frederic Thompson, builder of the New York Hippodrome, creator of the Modern Coney Island, awakener of the Buffalo Pan-American exposition and the foremost producer of spectacular dramas in the world, is in town with a new play.

Mr. Thompson is sitting up nights with it at the Alexandria. He isn't saying much about it, but the thing is skimming rapidly toward completion, and it is more than probable that it will be given a try-out performance at the Belasco Theater.

The story is a modern one, and the title is "A Child of the Desert."

The scenes are of the most absorbing interest—as far as description is concerned—and since Mr. Thompson as a showman has created world-marvels where the world saw nothing to marvel at, it is probable that his new piece will develop into a veritable sensation.

The play depicts the modern Reno, with its background of gambling, affinities and divorcees, and three different scenes in Death Valley.

It is this vast, silent, hell-hot, sunwhite country which is chiefly interesting Mr. Thompson at the present moment.

With characteristic Thompsonian energy he visited Death Valley first, and then scoured Los Angeles for a picture which would do at least half justice to its terrific subject.

He quickly ran through the resources of the local art stores. He was far from satisfied; he was almost in despair.

HITS THE TRAIL.

Finally a chance acquaintance told him that a man on East Jefferson street, with a panorama camera, had taken a view that was wonderful in its realism.

Thompson got the address and a taxicab.

An hour later he had the picture.

Three hours later a group of excited scenic artists in the New Amsterdam theater building, Forty-Second street, New York city, were poring over a rush telegram as long as a lover's letter. It was from their boss. He was giving the preliminary orders for a production on which he will spend almost $50,000.

The picture is a marvel. It is four feet long. The beholder seems to stand in the center of a horrible, chaotic valley torn in the face of the funereal Nevada mountains. The walls of the volcanic prison rise at right and left, but before him, shimmering in the heat, are the illimitable distance of Death Valley, the torrid inferno of Furnace Creek being almost overshadowed by the dim impressiveness of Mt. Whitney—the meeting of the highest and lowest spots in the confines of this government.

Everywhere there is stillness, eternal desolation. It is a tremendous picture that might have been painted by Rodin—if Rodin had been painter instead of sculptor.

This is exactly, line for line and dimension for dimension. Thompson's scheme. He is just going to reproduce this great picture.

There will be a wonderful sunrise.

There will be a sudden sunset, and then the awful dark and the stars.

There will be dazzling mid-day.

And there are the three biggest scenes of "A Child of the Desert."

RESCUES HER YELLOWTAIL FROM AN ANGRY BULL SEAL.

BY HILDA WESTREM WHEELER.

I HAD a fierce tug of war with a bull seal at Redondo yesterday.

I won the tug; that is to say, I got the yellowtail and the old seal got left. But he succeeded in mussing up my yellowtail and in giving me one of the most thrilling experiences of my life.

I had been trying for a long time to catch a yellowtail. I never could manage before to coax one onto my hook. Word came that the big fish were biting at Redondo and we caught the 5:30 car. Fishing isn't all pleasure, but when one gets hooked to one of those fighty scrappers the experience compensates even for 5:30 a.m.

For nearly two hours after I had sent the little live scouts—the sardines—out sea I was rewarded with a strike.

It was something tremendous; I was almost pulled off the wharf by the jerk. The line was drawn taut for an instant; then relaxed. On reeling in I found that a seal had neatly clipped off the body of my live bait. The old bull is too smart to bite near the hook and I left the head. It was cut off as clean as though by a knife.

All this thing happened almost as fast as I could bait and throw out my line.

Other fishermen were having the same experience, and "Old Dad" remarked that "he'd be durned if he'd throw them scals any more," telling us that we would "never ketch a 'yaller' while them fellers is around."

Still some of us stuck to our job. Being well supplied with live bait, I cast out again, and the fish barely struck the water when, zing! My line tightened and the reel began to scream.

"They're off, they're off!" all the men began to shout and then all eyes centered on me. Free advice was extremely plentiful. "Let him run," "reel him in," "give him slack," "bet she don't land him," etc.

But having troubles of my own, I didn't pay any attention to the lashing. The fish was going north and south, east and west all at once, and a few seconds later he leaped clear out of the water followed by the big black body of a seal. This explained his peculiar actions, and once I felt an enormous jerk. Sure enough, the seal had nabbed the fish, and then began the tug of war.

The seal pulled and I pulled. My little hickory rod bent double time and again. Once the seal rose to the surface with the fish in his mouth, and I, forgetting myself, yelled to him to let go, eventually succeeding in yanking the fish from him.

Then I reeled in to beat the band, the old seal following, barking and bellowing as only a seal can. The fish being all in, we had no trouble in gaffing him, an awfully battered and beaten yellowtail.

DR. RAMBAUD DOESN'T BELONG.

TO THE "ONLY THEIR HUSBANDS" ORGANIZATION.

Spouse of Jeanne Gerville-Reache Eminent Medical Scientist and Director of the New York Pasteur Institute—Longs for Tour to End So That He May Resume Work.

Dr. George Gibier Rambaud doesn't belong to the club.

That is, to that club which is known as "Only Their Husbands."

Dr. Rambaud has been in Los Angeles about a week with his beautiful wife, whom the operatic stage of the world knows as Jeanne Gerville-Reache, one of the foremost contraltos of modern times.

When he married, which was three years ago, Dr. Rambaud remained Dr. Rambaud.

Dr. George Gibier Rambaud, director of the New York Pasteur Institute—and incidentally husband of the great contralto, Gerville-Reache. Dr. Rambaud is one of the few husbands of celebrated women who have achieved a notable and independent career. Dr. and Mrs. Rambaud are at the Alexandria.

Most men would have become Mr. Gerville-Reache.

He is a short, powerfully-built, classically educated Frenchman in the early thirties.

He is French in birth only; since he has lived in America eighteen years and has long been an American citizen.

He is director of the New York Pasteur Institute, and is conceded to be one of the most eminent medical scientists in this country.

The institute was founded, years ago, by Dr. Paul Rambaud, uncle of the present director. Dr. George Rambaud got his principal tutelage from his relative and holds him in very warm regard.

That is also why a certain sturdy young man of 16 months—who calls Mme. Gerville-Reache "mamma!"—is named Paul Rambaud.

Dr. Rambaud came West with his wife because he is afraid to let her travel so far alone, since she cannot speak a word of English. His English is faultless.

Also—Mme. Rambaud is silly enough, and old-fashioned enough, to be in love with her husband, and she refuses to be separated from him by more than a few hours' railway ride.

"I will be glad when this tour is over," said Dr. Rambaud at the Alexandria yesterday, "for, though the trip has been very pleasant, my work in New York is pressing, and I have seldom left it so long. I shall be back in my office in a few weeks. Southern California has afforded us greater delight than any place we have visited in America."

Dr. Rambaud met Mme. Gerville-Reache shortly after Oscar Hammerstein imported her, a beautiful young French girl, as one of the sensations of his Manhattan Operahouse.

GO A-VISITING BY AEROPLANE.

Radley and Brookins Fly to Burlingame Club.

Unique Reception to Aviators at Banquet Table.

Officers Burst Shrapnel in a High Flight.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17.—Aviators James Radley and Walter Brookins went visiting today in their machines. In response to an impromptu invitation from the Burlingame Club, a social organization of the fashionable suburb, the two birdmen set out about 3:20 o'clock p.m., and, after circling the field, Brookins's Wright biplane and the Englishman's Bleriot disappeared in the thin haze overhanging the lower end of the peninsula.

An hour later they returned. Both were in rare good humor and reported a thoroughly enjoyable visit.

The clubhouse at Burlingame, which is situated about seven miles south of Selfridge Field, is fringed with woods and the two aviators had some difficulty in locating the golf links on which they finally alighted.

A large crowd, hastily gathered for the unique reception, was on hand to entertain the visitors. Both were flying high when they reached the spot and Brookins thrilled the club members by sweeping down to the links on his famous spiral glide.

Having safely alighted, Radley and Brookins were escorted to the clubhouse, a quarter of a mile away, and there entertained. Wine was produced and toasts drunk to the bird-men, who responded gallantly with toasts to the ladies present and the club. They passed half an hour in pleasant chat and then walked out to their machines, accompanied by hundreds of spectators, to begin their return flight.

Radley's manager had journeyed to Burlingame in an automobile to aid the Englishman crank up for the return trip. Neither experienced difficulty in reascending, and on the flight back to the grounds soared to an altitude of over 2000 feet. Radley keeping well above that height for the greater part of the journey.

Fine weather today enabled the aviators to entertain the crowd with highly spectacular flights. On one of his first ascents of the afternoon Brookins cut cork-screw curves at an 1800-foot elevation and gave an exhibition of ground-skimming that evoked the enthusiasm of the onlookers.

Eugene Ely, with thrilling glides, and Philip Parmalee, with spirals and his "ocean wave," also were watched with keen interest.

Owing to engine trouble, Ely was forced to make a sudden descent, coming down with a splash in a puddle of water. Later he extricated his machine from the mire and flew back to the hangar.

Another bomb-dropping experiment was made by Lieut. M. S. Crissy, who went up with Parmalee carrying two heavily-charged shrapnels. From a height of nearly 1000 feet he aimed the missiles at a target on a distant portion of the field. The first bomb mired in the swampy ground and failed to explode, but the second attempt was successful, the shrapnel bursting close to the target.

Lieut. Paul W. Beck also made a flight with Parmalee, and took several pictures.

Two of the most successful amateur flights seen in the local field were made today by F. J. Wiseman of Santa Rosa, in a modified Curtiss biplane of his own make. He flew to the end of the field and returned, and later circled the course, qualifying for the novice class.

TO TRAIN IN FRESNO.

TACOMA (Wash.) Jan. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mike Lynch, manager of the Tacoma baseball team, is on the lookout for a catcher, pitcher, shortstop and outfielder. In his search for these players he has sent a number of telegrams, but without receiving any definite replies. Lynch has promises from Comiskey of the White Sox, and Danny Long of San Francisco teams to turn over extra players at the conclusion of spring practice. The Tacoma players will report at Fresno March 10 for the spring training season. This will give them a long season in warm weather before the league season opens here late in April.

"LET THE PITCHERS ALONE," CRIES HEAVER OSCAR JONES.

BY OSCAR JONES,

formerly with Brooklyn of National League, with the Los Angeles Club, and last year with State League Outlaws.

MONTE CROSS is going crazy in his old age if he thinks they should move the pitcher's box fifteen feet closer to the plate. The old athletic star says curves will not break when the pitcher stands so close, and that batters will hit it out.

Cross is certainly making a bad guess, for if they want to increase the batting they should shove the pitcher further from the plate. Put speed burners like Walter Johnson and Christy Mathewson fifteen feet nearer the batsman and they would have the ball in the catcher's mitt before you got ready to swing at it. Much of their fine work is due to their speed and if you get that kind any nearer the plate no one ever would see the ball coming.

It strikes me that the batsman and the pitcher are as near on an equality right now as they can be. Wonderful pitching is shown one day and equally fine batting the next day and on the whole they justify themselves. We have Mathewson, Johnson, Mullin, Bender, Camnitz, Adams, Plank and many others but we also have Cobb, Lajoie, Mitchell, Seymour, Hobiltzel, Collins, Crawford, Lord and a dozen good ones.

Pitchers are a lot better now than they were years ago and so are fielders, I think. In the good old days the has beens talk about the pitchers did not have the spit ball, the "knuckle," the "fade away" and others. On the other hand there is more scientific batting now than formerly, I think and the batsmen now do not swing as much as they once did. In the old days the pitchers took a hop, step and a jump and some of the sluggers knocked the ball a mile.

I think the present day spitter pitcher would make the old slugger look like thirty cents, for there have been some wonderful heavers during the last two years. If they want to curb them a trifle make it four strikes and three balls, and if they really want to curb them, shove them back sixty-five or seventy feet from the plate, and much of their speed will be taken from them.

There is no use talking about moving the pitcher up to forty-five feet from the plate in order to keep the ball from breaking for a good pitcher can make a ball break at almost any distance from the batsman. When he uses a spitter he don't seem to care what the distance is, either. Some make a ball break at the plate and others before it gets there and they can throw a raise ball from either a short or long distance.

They should stop tinkering with the pitcher because he is never the same every day. As a matter of fact the average baseball fan does not know what he wants. If a pitcher is very good and the hitting is light, the fan yells that the game is slow and uninteresting because there is no hitting. On the other hand if the pitcher has a bad day and is hit all over the lot, the fans howl that he is rotten, is a rank busher and should be put to cutting grass. No matter how good or bad a flinger is they don't like him and as this is the case they should not fool with him any way.

If they weaken his power by putting him back so there will be more batting every game will consist of slugging. Then when every one begins to hit the ball a mile they will yell for better pitchers and the system will have to be changed back again. Let well enough alone.

MOTORDROME RACES.

"I'll go out against the best of them. There is not a driver on earth I'm not ready to meet. I bar none. They may beat me, but I'll race them. I'm glad of a chance to meet your fastest men out here.

"This track is right for speed work. I know what it means to win on the Motordrome. My leg is not bothering me like it did last year and I'm ready to do my best against Dingley, Dearborn or any of the others I have to meet. The Simplex has the right stuff in it and I like the car. I think the Simplex will win."

These two thrillers have never met in a match race. Ralph de Palma has defeated all comers in the East but in a long race with Bert Dingley he might meet his match. De Palma would be the favorite but Dingley is a strong second and the duel should be for blood, a race to the finish. One tire puncture might settle the affair.

With De Palma and Dingley hocked up together in a fifty-mile race the crowd would be certain to witness an event that would keep spectators on their feet until the finish. Dingley is the hope of the West and even if defeated he would fight until the winner had crossed the tape.

FAST SIX-CYLINDER.

Hal Wilcox is trimming his National six-cylinder for a few thrills. This is the fastest six-cylinder car on any track just at present. It turned a mile in 29 4-5 just after the Simplex had made a mile in the same time. Wilcox is a driver who is ready to take a chance but he was out driven by De Palma in the preliminary meet at the Motordrome a week ago. In the big event Sunday he may do better.

Frank Dearborn, another local favorite, and the Fiat may win against the eastern cracks. He has a wonderfully fast car, which is being tuned up for the big go. Ninety miles an hour is not too much to expect from this ninety-horse-power racer. Dearborn turned the fastest mile on the Santa Monica road race course and made the fastest lap in the big race where all American road records were shattered.

Though Dearborn has not had the experience of Dingley he probably has a faster car. The Fiat "ninety" should hold its own with the visitors in the short events and it is not too much to believe that Dearborn has a good chance to defeat De Palma, even with the fast Simplex with which the Italian won five straight heats against the other easterners in the Saturday meet.

Charles Merz has the National four-cylinder, the long-distance favorite, which must also be reckoned with. This machine is to be sent out to win and also to capture a world record. With as fast as the fastest long-distance automobile, Merz has a chance and with Wilcox as his side partner, may jump into the lead and win in spite of the fast cars which the local men are to guide.

PANAMA-PACIFIC ROAD RACE.

Oakland Portola to Be Event of Great Interest on Washington's Birthday Next Month.

Once again has the date for Portola road race in California been changed, this time to February 22nd. The race will not be known as the Portola road race. When the event was first scheduled for last Thanksgiving Day, it was advertised under the name of Portola. Then it was postponed until Christmas, and the name was changed to the Panama-Pacific road race.

Trouble over securing the necessary permits caused another postponement, this time to January 2, and the name was added to, it being advertised this time as the San Francisco-Panama-Pacific road race. This caused the Oakland citizens to make strenuous protests, and on December 19, when the fourth postponement was decided upon, the San Francisco dealers waived their rights and rechristened the race the Oakland-Panama-Pacific road race.

MOORE BEATS BALDWIN.

BOSTON, Jan. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Pal Moore of Philadelphia was given the decision over Matty Baldwin of Charlestown at the end of a twelve-round bout at the Armory A. A. tonight. Baldwin did well in the first round. In that round, however, the left arm, which he broke in a battle with Hurley, was injured again and afterward all his hitting was with the open glove.

WALTZ BEATS KENNY.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Johnny Waltz of Hoboken knocked out Frank Kenny of Brooklyn in the second round of their scheduled ten-round bout tonight in Brown's gymnasium. The Hoboken boxer was too strong for Kenny and knocked him down several times.

Sheehan is the only player in the Pacific Coast League so situated. Strickletl and Moskiman are probably in the same boat. Permission, however, may be extended in these cases."

The contract of Walter Ryan, the Alameda catcher, who will be given a chance this year with the San Francisco Club, was received yesterday at the Valencia street headquarters.

Long has an appointment with Oscar Vitt for this evening to discuss terms for next year. Vitt wants more money than the club has offered to pay him so far, but neither player or manager expects any great trouble in reaching a settlement. It is likely that they will enter into a compromise.

BICYCLE RIDER DIES.

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 17.—After months of suffering, the result of injuries sustained by a fall on the saucer track last July, John B. Hume, during the season of 1906, won the amateur championship of the West, and at the time of his retirement was riding as a professional. He was 26 years old.

PASADENA POLO.

have four teams to carry out the programme which had been arranged.

While the tournament is an invitation affair the outcome is of burning interest to the followers of the great sport. The winter promises to produce great contests owing to the fact that a great many prominent foreign poloists are wintering in Southern California and owing to the additional fact that there is a strong desire to defeat the Burlingame team which now holds the championship of the West.

Following the invitation tournament the regular official tournament given under the rules and auspices of the American Polo Association will be held. At this regular tournament all scores and records will be recognized. This, however, does not detract from the burning interest which centers in the meet of today and the rest of the week.

Although but one match game of polo has ever been played in Pasadena a good attendance is expected. At this first game, played last year between Coronado and Hermosillo, society adopted the sport as their own and the grand stand and boxes were filled with the elect of Pasadena.

GOSSIP ALONG GASOLINE ROW.

E. Roger Stearns has no hope of reinstatement for at least a year. He has quit boosting for the A.A.A.

William Curtiss drove an Apperson to Redlands yesterday. He will be gone a week.

Leon T. Shettler is going to Chicago to visit the automobile show there. He wishes he could take that Apperson coupe with him.

Sidney Smith will be at the Motordrome Sunday to watch that Fiat win.

Oscar Werner says Ralph De Palma could beat Barney Oldfield. Werner is not always sure of what he says.

Volney Beardsley says 7779 miles for the non-stop run of the Warren-Detroit is going some.

Don Lee is preparing a sign which he says will be "a warm one." It contains a list of the records now held by the Cadillac "Thirty."

Walter Hempel says he has no use for an outlaw. It must be so. Walt always tells the truth.

Norman W. Church has novel ideas on publicity. He has been schooled in the East.

The town looks better from the tonneau of an Apperson than from any other car, according to the beauty chorus of the Dollar Princess now showing at the Mason.

Fred Williams of the Petrel is an outlaw, but he says it's worth it every time he thinks of the Ascot races.

BALL ELECTED CAPTAIN.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Jan. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Bert Ball, '11 today was elected captain of the Stanford baseball team for the present year. He played first base on the 'varsity last year and during the two years previous was a sub. Ball was a consistant player though not exceptionally speedy. He has a fine personality and can be expected to put lots of "pep" into the men.

A.A.U. RAISES FUND.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—The first material step toward sending an American team to the Olympic games at Stockholm next year has been made by the national A. A. U. in the shape of a subscription of $10,000. This will form the nucleus of a fund to defray the expenses of the athletes. It is estimated that a total of $30,000 will be needed. The committee has until some time in May, 1912, to gather the rest of the money.

POOL CHAMPIONSHIP.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—The second block of 200 points in the match for the pool championship of the world between Alfred De Oro, the present title holder, and Wm. RAILROADERS' LEAGUE.

PACKEY SENDS RIGHT TO JAW.

KNOCKS OUT JACK GOODMAN IN FIFTH ROUND.

Stock Yards Champion Finally Develops the Punch and Puts His Man to Sleep—Easterner Outclassed in Short But Fierce Fight.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—Packey McFarland of Chicago knocked out Jack Goodman of New York in the fifth round of a scheduled ten-round bout at the Fairmount Athletic Club tonight. The stockyards lightweight first floored Goodman for the count of nine with a right swing on the jaw and, when Goodman arose groggy, sent him down for the count of ten with a rain of blows on the face.

Goodman was outclassed and outfought in every round. McFarland was the aggressor from the start. In the second round McFarland opened a gash under Goodman's right eye and split his lip with straight lefts to the face.

When the third opened, McFarland showed his confidence by a vicious rush and from that moment never let up. He smothered Goodman's body blows, blocked his leads for the head, and bored in harder at each lull. Goodman took five stinging uppercuts and one hard slam to the wind in this round alone.

In the fourth Goodman found himself for a moment but did no damage and the round ended with Goodman in his corner covering up and McFarland hammering him on the head.

In the fifth and last round Goodman wasslow and weak. McFarland swung three times to his jaw without a return, took two light blows to the mouth himself while still boring in, and, chasing Goodman to the ropes, caught him with a heavy right hand uppercut to the point of the law. Goodman dropped to his knees and hung there, swaying, till the count of nine. He was still groggy when he rose and helpless before the rain of blows McFarland showered on him. A heavy right hand swing to the jaw dropped him flat on his face in McFarland's corner for the full count.

While he lay there Packey did a duck and wig dash around the ring.

Both men weighed in at 135 pounds at 3 o'clock. Before the bout was put on, Philadelphia Jack O'Brien announced that "Knockout" Brown will meet Ad Wolgast, champion lightweight of the world, February 8, in a six-round bout before a Philadelphia club.

HOWARD OFF FOR 'FRISCO.

Tours Up the Coast in a Buick Visiting the Agents Along the Route. Reports Business Prosperous.

After one of the most successful weeks following the automobile show, C. S. Howard, president of the Howard Automobile Company, accompanied by his family, left here Wednesday in a Buick for San Francisco. Howard is touring by easy stages up the Coast, visiting all the Buick and Oldsmobile agencies en route.

Among the sales closed by Howard while he was here was that of a model 26 to Cather & Kennedy of the Hartford Wind Shield Company, and a model 26 of the Weinstock-Nickols Co. This concern is the latest arrival in the accessory line. This makes the third Buick for Cather & Kennedy, while the Chansior & Lyon Co. and the W. D. Newerf Company both have purchased Buick cars.

W. H. Halliwell, the Warner autometer man, has also done most of his business in a Buick. This is the second Buick "thirty" which Halliwell and his brother, Charles, have purchased in a year. The cars are giving the best of satisfaction.

WOOLWINE TAKES REST.

The Cartercar Agent Flushed With Success Prepares for Another Big Conquest.

Woods R. Woolwine, president of the Woolwine Motor Car Company, was in bed again last week, but wil be on hand tomorrow. Last night he was much better and expects to take charge in earnest again.

The success of the recent automobile show went to Woolwine's head. He sold a number of Cartercars and did so well that he determined to take a three days' rest. Now he is ready to sell six more this week, and there is a possibility that he will make good.

The friction-driven car is more popular than ever. Sales are recorded every week, and cars are being hustled here from the factory in the East. Woolwine hopes to bring several Rapid trucks here for immediate delivery. He has had trouble securing the freight-carriers soon enough to satisfy customers.

FOR MOTOR WHEELS.

One of the questions among motor wheel makers is the relative value of northern and southern hickory. The impression prevails that southern hickory is more porous and brash than hickory from the north. Southern hickory is as tough and strong as northern hickory of the same age. But the southern hickories have a greater tendency to be shaky, and this results in much waste. In trees from southern river bottoms the loss through shakes and grub holes in many cases amounts to as much as 50 per cent.

BURT HAS THE KRIT.

The W. J. Burt Motor Car Company has closed the agency for the Krit car. Owners and purchasers of Krit machines are to have the same chance that owners and buyers of Auburn cars already enjoy. There is to be a large supply of parts kept constantly on hand to prevent the annoyance and waste of time occasioned by sending East. The Burt concern now has a complete line ranging from $900 to $2100. The first year's business amounted to more than $100,000 in parts alone.

Maria Malone,

beautiful show girl with "In Havana," who is a member of the famous Castro family, which, under old Spanish land grants, contests the ownership of almost the whole of Santa Clara county

She's a Corker.

MAY SHARE RICH ESTATE AS DESCENDANT OF GEN. CASTRO

ONE of the most interesting personalities of "In Havana," the big musical show which will feature Jimmy Powers at the Hamburger Majestic next week, is Maria Malone, who is a descendant of the famous Gen. Castro, old-time Spanish Governor of California.

As suggested by her last name, Miss Malone's immediate forbears came from Cork rather than Seville, but she has a basic strain of the purest Castilian in her veins.

The Castro family, it is said, will soon bring suit in the United States courts for possession, right and title to the lands which were granted them by their illustrious gubernatorial ancestor, under the patent of the King of Spain. These lands comprise almost the entire county of Santa fertile valleys of California and including the cities of Santa Clara, San Jose and Santa Cruz.

Miss Malone, who has a singing and dancing part in "Havana," is greatly excited about the prospective action, for she is Gen. Castro's great granddaughter.

She is a perfect type of the Spanish-California beauty, with eyes of tawny brown, auburn hair and just a touch of delicate olive in her complexion. If she chose, she could play the part of Anita in "Havana" without any make-up.

Her father was John Malone, a well-known actor in his day, a foremost exponent of the old school, and long associated with Booth and Barrett.

Miss Malone's mother was the daughter of Capt. Thomas Fallon, pioneer and lieutenant of Gen. John C. Fremont. His wife was Senorita Castro, daughter of the Governor.

The old family home, the Rancho Soquel, near Capitola, is one of the historic show places of the State. Miss Malone's mother and grandmother reside in San Francisco, and with other members of the Castro family they have joined in preparing for Federal action.

BIG BUSINESS FOR OVERLAND.

RENTON TELLS OF GREAT PROGRESS SINCE AUTO SHOW.

Fore-door Models Were Chosen By Overland Factory, Says the Local Agent, and These Have Made An Especial Hit This Year—Sensational Sales Campaign.

P. A. Renton has launched into the midst of what promises to be a sensational campaign. He is selling Overland cars in great numbers. He is in receipt of a letter from J. N. Willys, president of the Willys-Overland Company, which tells of the big output, and is optimistic regarding the future of the automobile industry. It follows along the ideas which Renton holds.

The new Overland line is better than ever, and is even more popular than it was last year. This is shown by the record of the cars sold since the Fiesta Park automobile show. Renton had one of the largest exhibits there, and since has been selling Overlands in large numbers to the prospects secured by his men during the big tent exhibit.

"While some years ago it was possible to sell almost anything on four wheels as an automobile,' said Renton yesterday, "the buying public has kept pacewith the manufacturer and, as is shown by the recent automobile show, has proved expert in choosing cars. Buyers are more discriminating than ever, and he who is not up to the highest notch in design and construction is hopelessly left.

"The Overland factory originated the fore-door body for the medium-priced car. Our 1911 designs, approved last June, embodied this type on practically all models. That we were right in our conclusions has been satisfactorily proved by recent developments in price cutting. I want to say in explanation that when I say 'fore-door,' I mean a ... flush-sided door, not an old-style body with fore-doors attached.

"Fully appreciating that the public would buy no makeshift, the Overland factory decided to build only flush-sided bodies for 1911. They even tried to make a convertible body, but found that, while it could be done, the style was not a complete success.

"There is nothing fluctuating about an automobile. Materials cost as much today as they did six months ago. Labor is the same, the selling cost does not get less, the first two varying only with the efficiency of the manufacturer.

"The buying public is naturally skeptical as to the stability of prices of other manufactures. Realizing this important point, President Willys has given instructions to guarantee Overland list prices until the end of this fiscal year, or until July 31. This uncertainty may be settled in this way, I believe.

"Our list prices were only reached after painstaking effort in obtaining exact costs. They bear the adding of only a fair profit. Our December trade was gratifying and this month we expect to break a few records also. Business since the auto show has been great."

MITCHELL QUITS STAGE ROUTE.

After Traversing Twenty-Thousand Miles This Car Is Given an Honored Place in Garage, Like Old Dobbin.

For three years it was driven almost every day by A. T. Hay from Mojave to Lone Pine. Hay is living in this city. He drove a total of 20,000 miles. The car was often loaded beyond its capacity but it always made good. Not a passenger was ever forced to walk a mile because of any mishap to the stage.

The Mitchell now has an honored place in the garage of the Greer-Robbins Company in this city. The record of this Mitchell is remarkable and P. H. Greer points to it with pride every time a visitor comes into his place.

The Neal Treatment Will Enable Drinkers to ... New Year's Resolution by Destroying All ... For Drink—Three-Day Miracles at The Neal Institute

Did you make a resolution on New Years? If so, have you kept it?

To make a resolution is one thing, but to keep it is quite another—particularly if the one "resolving" is a heavy drinker.

Many an excessive drinker who is bartering business, health and happines for overindulgence in drink will turn from liquor on this New Year's day only to find himself drawn back to old drinking ways. Such a man does not drink because he "wants to," but for the simple reason that his will is overpowered by irresistible craving for liquor.

There is a way to turn over a new leaf and keep it turned. The Neal Treatment for alcoholism will in three short days take from any drinker—moderate or excessive—all craving and desire for liquor.

The system of the excessive drinker is impregnated with alcoholic poison that is taken on too fast for nature to throw off, and this accumulated poison causes the intense craving and desire which more drink and then more drink only temporarily satisfies.

The happiest and most profitable period to any drinking man is three days spent at the Neal Institute.

The excessive drinker needs medical help as badly as does the typhoid fever patient. As a well-known business man advises:

"To any one who wants to 'cut out' drink I would say: Don't be foolish and try and fight it out with all the tortures of hell racking your body and soul for weeks while making the fight. Take the Neal Treatment and get the alcoholic poison out of your system in three days. You will then be in a position to ... Barleycorn anywhere ... ing."
